Beginning of the Knight

Freshmen hoped that they were in the right class. Sophomores were glad they weren't Freshmen. Juniors thought they were close enough to Seniors to act like them. Seniors sat back and laughed, knowing they were finally on top.

The first day of school is always a new experience. Seeing old friends and meeting new ones helped ease the strain of going to class and doing homework again.

After the first few weeks of school, students hit their stride and homework, football games, and pep assemblies seemed to fall into place. As school progressed, Del Norte students became more at ease knowing that each day that passed was a day closer to the many breaks that came during the year.

Knights new and old discovered the Del Norte Difference and the excitement reverberated off the freshly painted lockers. It trembled during the pep assemblies, and it pulsed through the school dances. Del Norte students' excitement didn't wane throughout the year, but increased with each new day and each new experience.

"Who's that new guy that just walked in?" asks Senior JoAnn Johnston.

Writing fast and furiously, Junior Sheryl Tsiosdia hurries to finish an English paper.

"And the lunch menu for today is . . ." Student Body President Sammy Lopez reads the daily announcements.

Wild Knights

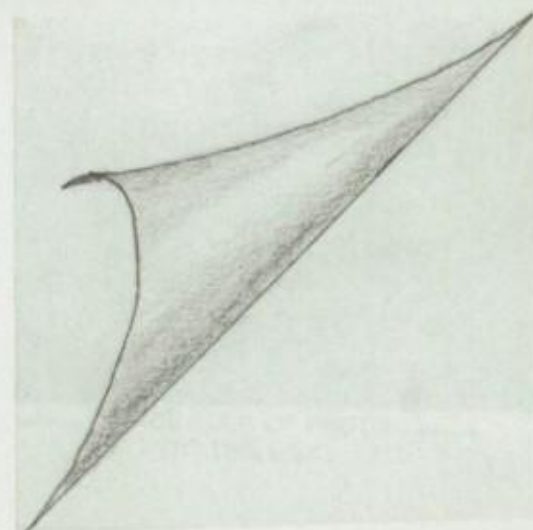

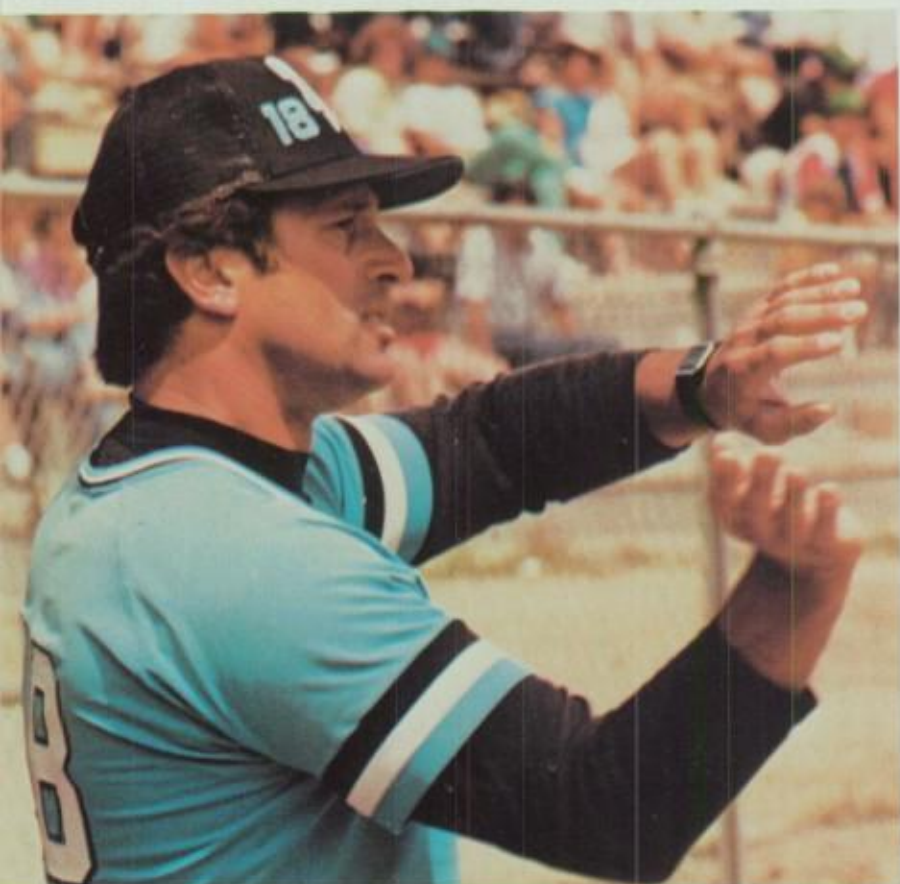

Senior Elena Barber waves to her fans.
Proud mascot, Senior Paul Jones, at one of his finest moments.
The fantastic Knight baseball team slips another one past the Farmington Scorpions.

Senior Tina Waddles prepares to win a relay.
Senior Eldon Staggs always wanted to be a cheerleader.
Senior Jenny Jacobs on the other side of the camera.

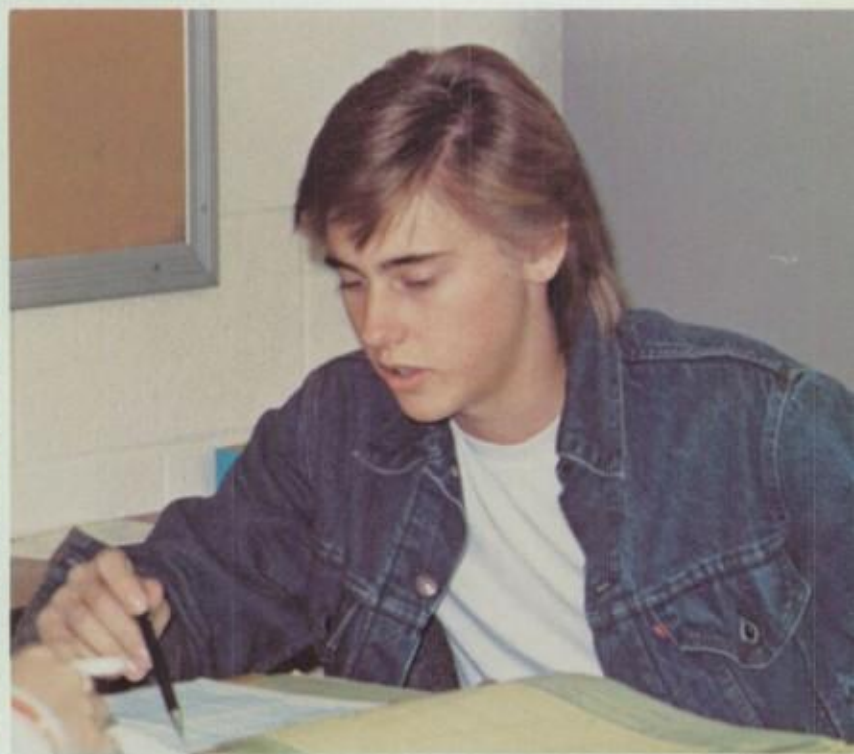

Thrill of the Knight

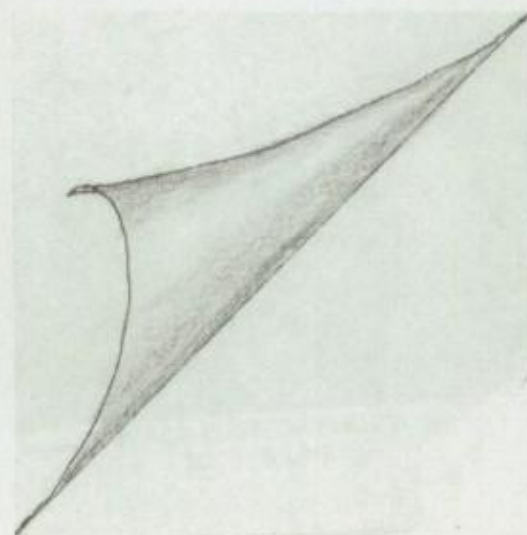

Seniors Donna Davis and Elizabeth Romero meet at Del Norte's McDonald's for lunch. Senior Stater Joe Vivian monitors the Homecoming elections. "Make sure those lines are straight!" says Junior Dina Jaramillo, assistant yearbook editor.

Modeling his shades to pal Brian Fox, senior, is Mike Beltran, senior. Roger Burnett, senior, ponders his Physics assignment.

Electricity filled the air as Master of Ceremonies John Chilelli and Mistress of Ceremonies Marquesa Mills opened the envelope containing the names of the 1985 Homecoming high court. Though only three girls would make it, everyone knew that all of the girls on court were royalty in their own right.

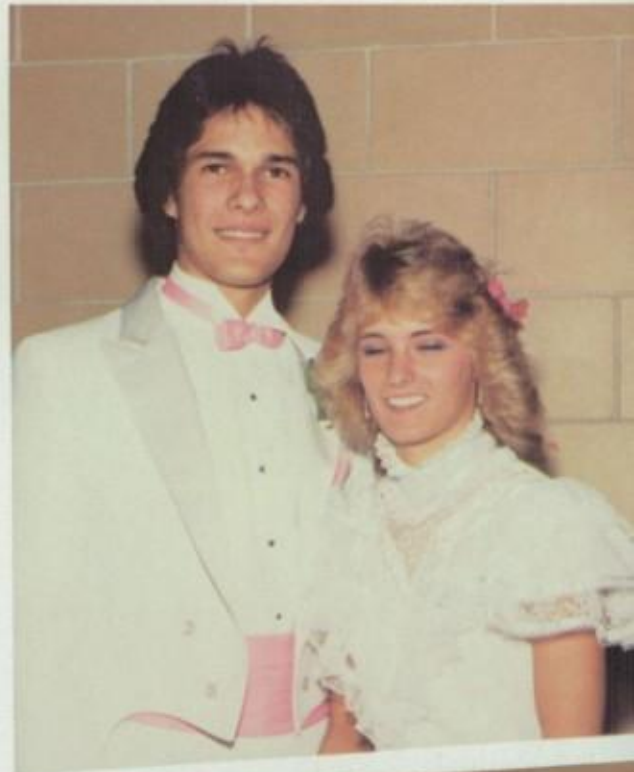

The dimmed lights, beautiful girls, and their equally handsome escorts made the night a very special one. The magic was enhanced by the stupendous decorations that had been in the works for months. The gym was transformed into an ornate hall complete with lush greenery, a lattice work bridge, and a 30-foot sunset.

The second princess was named—Christina Rodriguez. The anticipation mounted as 1984's princess Kim Allen crowned Christina.

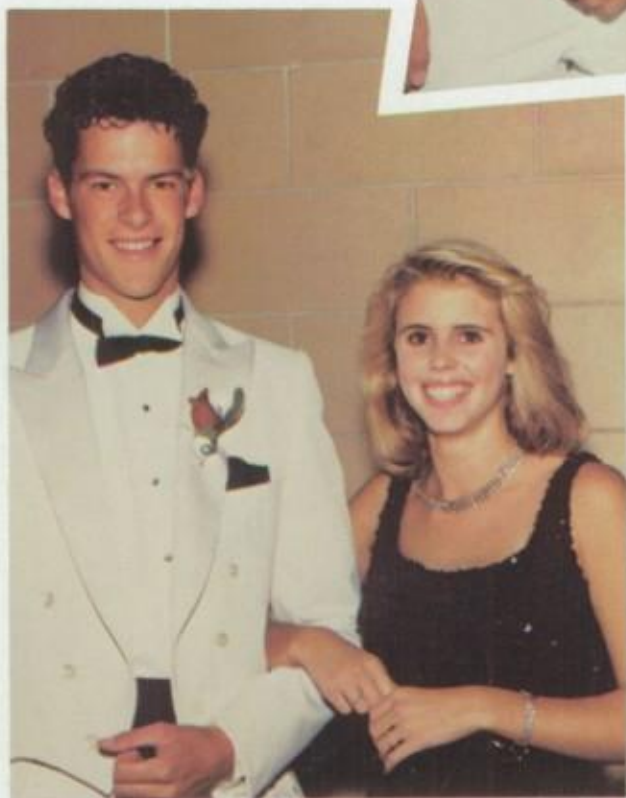

Finally, the moment the Queen was to be proclaimed had arrived. Ashley Edelhart, 1984's queen, took the final walk of her reign as Mistress of Ceremonies Marquesa Mills announced, "The 1985 Homecoming Queen is . . . Kristine Wehrle!"

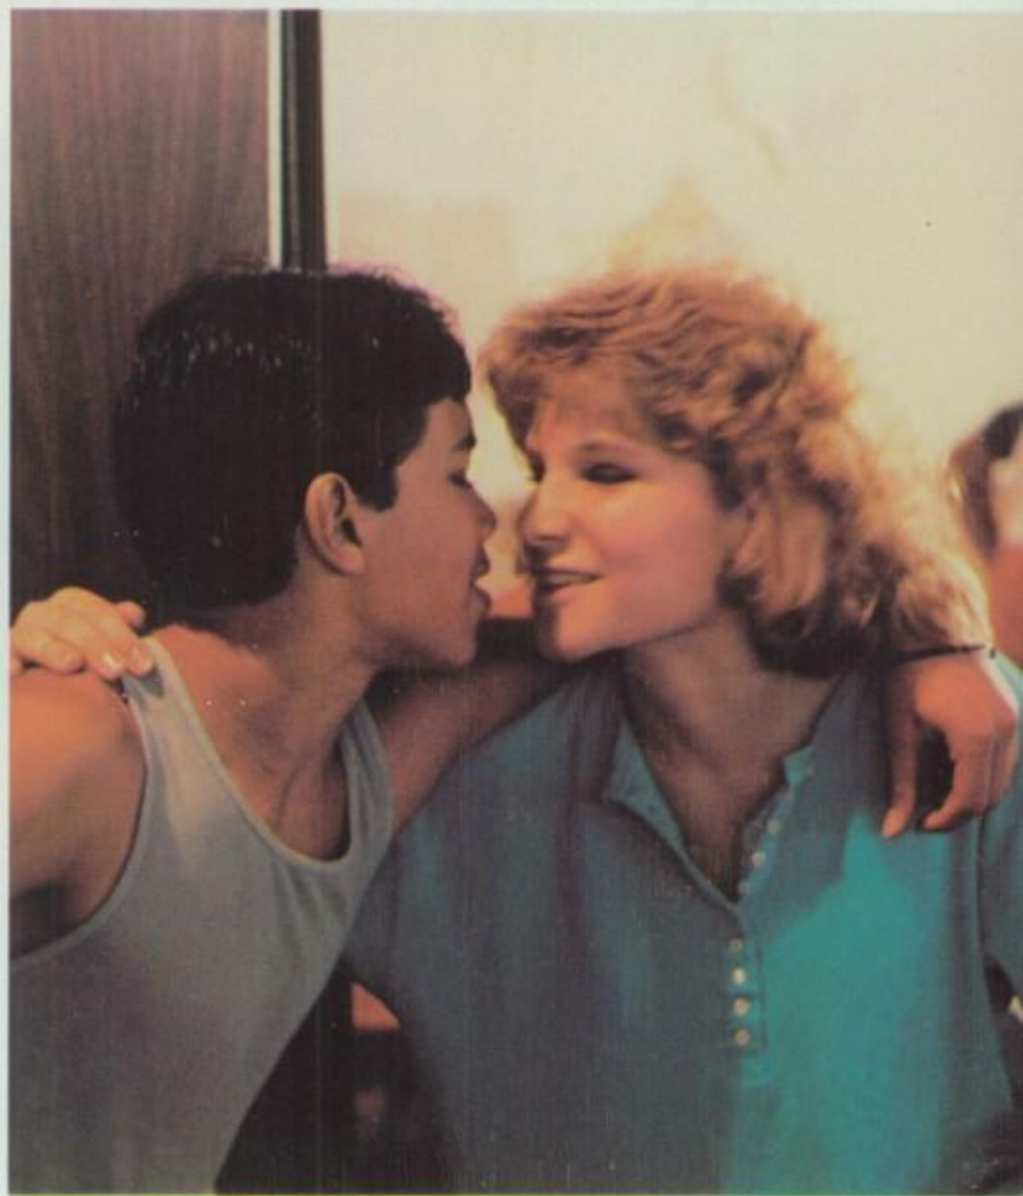

All too soon, the beautiful evening was over. Tears of happiness had been dried and parents had snapped their last rolls of film.

Coronation was only the beginning of spirit week. Starting with the crowning of high court, the week was full of fund raisers, carnivals, and dress up days such as "shades" day and toga day.

Two photographs of a young man and woman in formal attire. The larger photo shows them together, both smiling, wearing white tuxedos. The smaller photo is a portrait of the young man in a white tuxedo and black bow tie.

14 Homecoming

Go Team!

Del Norte's Homecoming would never be complete without a spirit week.

This year's annual event consisted of toga days, "shades" days, and other exciting activities. To raise money for Homecoming, a carnival was held. It consisted of kissing booths, marriage booths, and cake walks, to name a few.

Spirit week ended with a bang as the Knight football team attempted to topple number one ranked Clovis. The game roused a lot of excitement as the crowd cheered and rallied support for the team. "The half time show was excellent!" said Senior

Mike Brunick of the Castelles, Homecoming Court, and the band who had given their support during the game, too.

The excitement of the Knights was illustrated by the crowd, even as the final score became 28-3 in favor of the Wildcats.

The game's loss didn't affect the Homecoming dance, though. The theme, "Forever in My Heart," Kenny Loggins' ballad, and the fabulous decorations set the mood for a perfect evening.

The dance was a complete success with music and a spectacular light show by Jo Jo Pineau.

The DJ's were very energetic and mentioned how enthusiastic Del Norte students were about their Homecoming compared to other schools they had played for.

The decorations were simple and elegant and Junior Jury supplied much needed refreshments.

The week was filled with excitement and fun. Spirit week, the Homecoming game and dance are memories that will remain "forever in our hearts."

Student Life

After the Knight

What do you do when you get home from school? Do you study for tests and finish your homework? Or do you go to work earning money so desperately needed for cars, movies, and clothes? Maybe you are one of those people that comes home and watches TV until dinner time. Whatever you do, you're probably just relieved that you've survived another hectic day of school.

Studying history, chemistry, or English after school made the school day seem extra long, but the noble students who attempted this feat were duly rewarded when report cards came out.

Many upperclassmen and some lowerclassmen had after school jobs that ranged from fast food to high fashion. If you happened to eat at D'Lites or Del Norte's McDonalds, you most likely saw two or three familiar faces. Walking through the shopping malls you may have been able to wave hello to a friend who worked at clothes stores like Judy's, Miller's Outpost, or The Limited.

Relaxing in front of the television for hours on end was a luxury enjoyed by few of Del Norte's busy student body. Those who were lucky enough to be free of homework and the responsibility of a job were entertained by daytime shows like Jeopardy and everyone's favorite, The Brady Bunch re-runs.

Weekends were another subject altogether. Despite homework and jobs, Freshmen and Senior Knights alike more or less cut loose and enjoyed themselves. Parties, shopping and movies filled the brief two days. Of course, Thanksgiving and Winter breaks meant a double dose of those activities in addition to sleeping in late.

Returning to school on the inevitable Monday was always a shock to students—and Friday somehow seemed a million years away—but miraculously, everyone seemed to survive!

Putting up posters took a lot of after school time if you were in a club.

Shopping on the weekends was a fast and easy way to spend paychecks!

Of course, there were some dedicated people who worked on the yearbook during their spare time.

All of the Castelles gave many hours of their spare time cheering at games.

Hanging around the halls after school, two happy Knights waste time.

Donating food to needy people was a goal which brought the students of Del Norte even closer together.

Even classes can be fun if you've got a winning smile!
 Buddies for life—Junior Marya Beauvais and Senior Marci Howard.
 Life in Mrs. Doggett's Senior Honor's English class is never dull.
 "What can I say, I'm marvelous!" states Sophomore Monica Morgan.

Living for the Knight

Student Life. This phrase brings many things to mind. It's the first day of school, class competition, games against rival schools, school spirit, homework, dances, clubs, weekends, and most of all, friends.

This year Del Norte had an exceptionally great student body. They were rowdier at assemblies, cheered more at games, and developed a sense of Knight Pride early in the year.

Students have a variety of life styles to choose from. Some live for sports and school events, while others can hardly wait for the weekend to roll around again. Some students thoroughly enjoy their classes while others struggle through the day with the thought of their after school club or other activity to keep them going.

No matter what clubs you attend, what grade you're in, or what kind of music and clothes you like, all students agree on one thing—the need for friends to help you through high school. In the crowded halls of Del Norte, you can always find someone who has the "hello" you need to get you through the day, week, and year.

The student body at Del Norte had a wide assortment of people, but they were all bound together by the one thing that makes Del Norte great. Student Life.

Someone Special

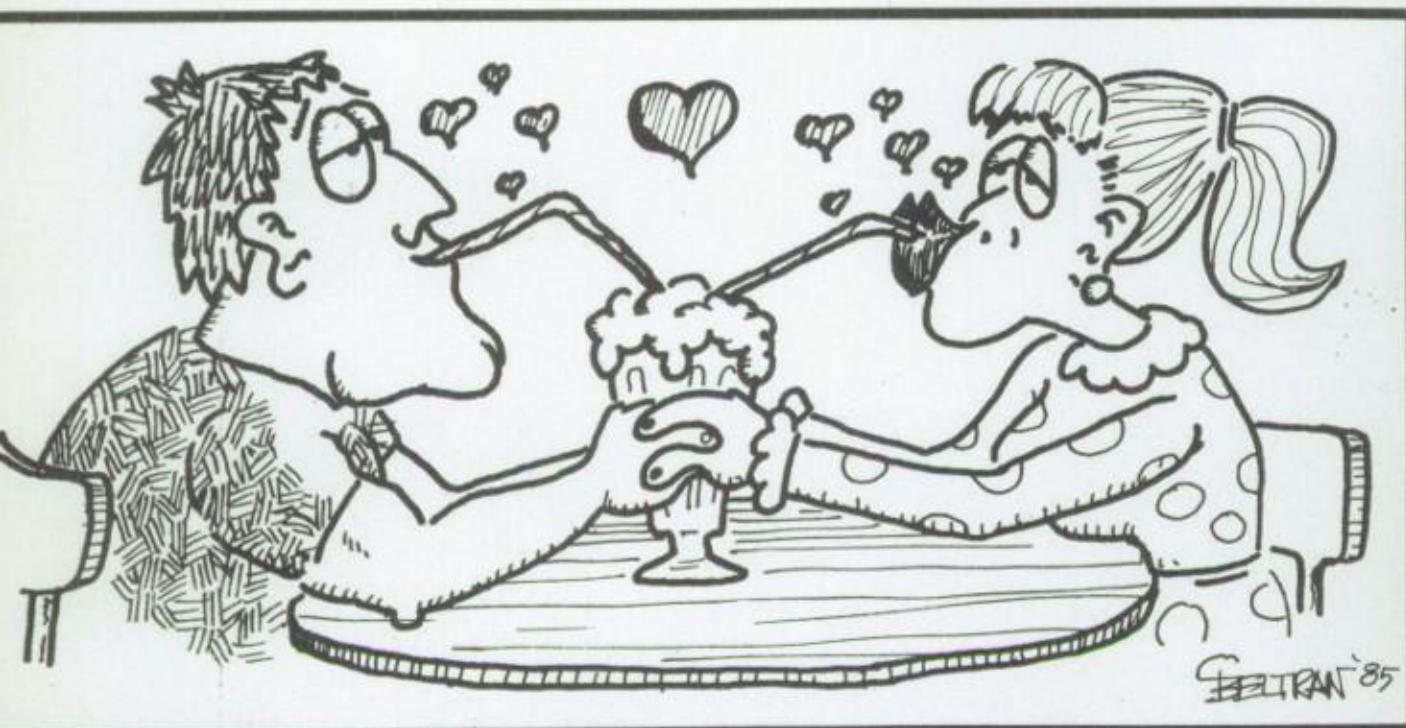

Every person wishes they'd meet someone special—their "dream" companion. But how do you find them?

A person's smile, eyes, and body are all aspects that influence your opinion. Although physical attraction is the first thing you notice, it's usually not the most important quality.

Sharing common interests is helpful when looking for that special someone. However, similar qualities are not necessary. "It's a lot of fun to meet someone who's different from you!" said Senior Anita Montoya.

Personality is the basis in building a relationship. Someone who's generous, considerate, and fun will overcome the stigma of looks. "I used to like guys just for their looks. Now it's important to talk to and have fun with someone," said Senior Christina Rodriguez.

When looking for that special someone, consider appearance, interests, and personality. But remember, every person has their "dream" companion. It's up to you to decide who's right!

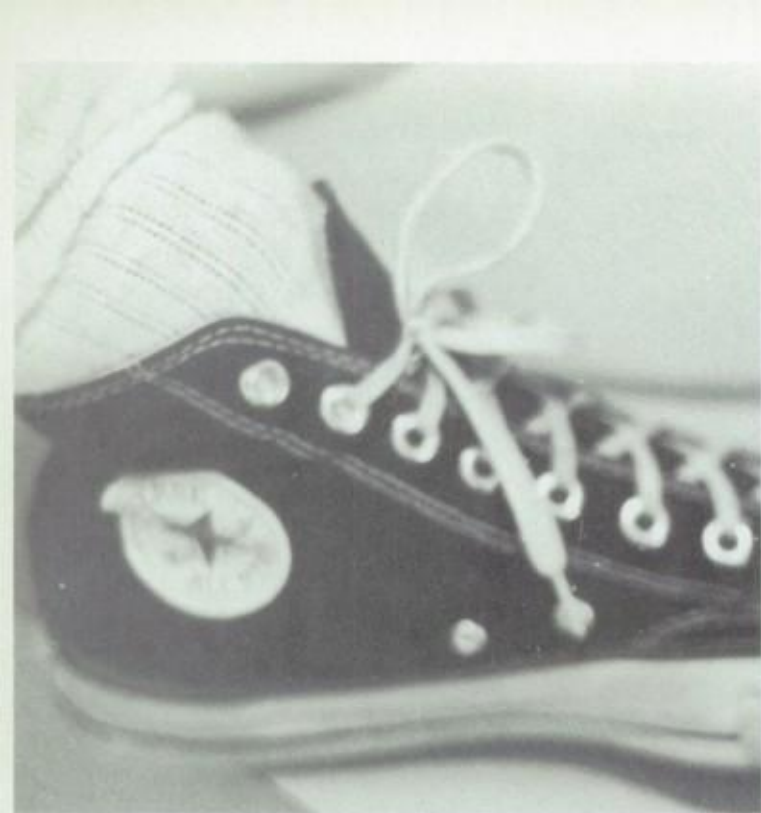

Cute couples like this one could be seen snuggling against the lockers. Senior Anita Romero woos Senior Keun Kyu Yi with his favorite food.

Ooops! Somebody was about to be kissed! Senior Lisa Lane only wants someone who'll make her laugh. Lunch time was the only time some couples had together.

What's Hot

Swatches were abundant this year as many people discovered the "coolest way to tell time." The colorful bands and the unique faces had Del Norte students eagerly awaiting the newest designs. If you were really on top of Swatch fashion, you even learned the names. Velvet Underground, Techno Sphere, and McGregor were a few of the swatches ticking through Del Norte's halls.

Paisley pants, shirts, and even ties were another trend this year. The print once thought to be worn only by grandmothers suddenly became popular.

Other fashion fads included high tops, strands of fake pearls, and oversized shirts.

Gel and mousse contributed to the rise of hair at Del Norte. More and more people began appearing with spiked and shaved hair.

Trendy music included Sting, Tears for Fears, and Eddie Murphy. Bands like Ratt and Motley Crue were still popular with hard rock fans.

Converse high tops brought comfort to fashion as many students discovered their versatility.

Pins of every size, shape, and color were popular on every item of clothing. Plaid pants and tropical print shirts? Maybe not, but the mixing of prints caused quite a fashion stir.

The Miami Vice look was around for a while, but guys soon tired of the wrinkled jacket look.

SWATCHES! Many people had them and everyone agreed that they were "hot." Paisley made it big this year, too. An oversized paisley shirt is seen here modeled by Junior Susan Sutton.

Do you recognize this hair? Senior Keun Kyu Yi's gelled spikes were famous throughout the halls of Del Norte.

It's a Tough Life

Have you ever thought that teachers, your parents, or anyone not in school has it easy? After all, teachers don't have to do all of the homework and tests that they assign. They just grade the work using answers from a book, right? Parents may work from 9 to 5, but they don't have to come home and study for finals, do they?

Let's face it, students have it rough. On top of homework, almost everyone has chores at home to do and many students have after school jobs.

True, busy students do have a lot of pressure from school, home and work, but there are some advantages to being in school.

Most DN students are in school from 8am to 3pm. Teachers, however, arrive as early as 7am and leave as late as 5 or 6pm. While parents don't have homework, they usually only have 2 or 3 weeks of vacation a year. Students have at least 15!

Next time you think of how tough it is to be a student, remember—there are SOME advantages to being in school.

"Just be thankful that you don't have lunch duty!" says Mr. Houser.

Last minute studying before a test always helps.

Sophomore Dawn Newcomb just aced her final, can you tell?

"You mean the homework was due today???"

"There goes my English grade."

Early Morning Pep

The chatter of students is quieted as Sam Lopez, Student Body President, calls the gym to order. The students' attention focuses on the ROTC as they present the colors, accompanied by the band playing the National Anthem. As the Anthem comes to an end, the band strikes up the Del Norte fight song. The crowd comes to life and begins to clap to the music. Thus another thrilling assembly has begun at Del Norte.

Assemblies play an important role in a student's high school life. Assemblies are a way to inform the student body of the numerous events occurring at Del Norte. The various athletic teams were introduced to the school, coaches gave updates on the teams' progress, and the outstanding teams presented the trophies to Mr. Bass, the principal, during this time.

This year's assemblies expressed the vast spirit of the Del Norte Knights. To add to the excitement and spirit of the assemblies, the Castelles performed their awesome routines and the three cheerleading squads cheered all the way to the end. But the things that made this year's assemblies more rowdy and fun were the little added attractions. Things like skits, class competitions, and the exhibitions that the football and basketball teams performed to show us just how hot they were. And let us not forget Paul Jones, and John Tabor with their infamous imitations of the Mackenzie Brothers.

Football players putting their lungs to work, yell for the Seniors. The ROTCs proudly presented the flags at every assembly. Coach Williams talks at the very successful outdoor assembly. Class competition is the best part of any assembly. Christina Rodriguez in her skit for Homecoming Queen. Having fun with friends is what pep is all about.

Semester of Fun

The first semester of school seemed to fly by for many students. There were so many clubs, sports and classes to attend that every minute was filled with activity.

Senior Senate ended the first week of school with a Hawaiian dance held on the patio. Palm trees, sand, and leis attracted a large crowd of DN students and teachers. After that, the days flew by with winning football games and Homecoming preparations. The Homecoming game and the dance kicked off the month of October.

The days seemed to slow down after Homecoming with nothing to break the monotony until Thanksgiving break except Halloween when both teachers and students dressed up in their craziest costumes.

Thanksgiving recess was a well earned four day break. Everyone from Freshmen to administrators began to look forward to two glorious weeks of winter break.

December activities included a very successful blood drive sponsored by the Staters, the sale of year-books, and DECA's annual canned food drive.

Seniors Anita Romero, Pollyanna Salazar, and Marci Howard literally "kicking back" at a ski club meeting.

Senior Andrew Engleman has the knack for making Senior Lisa Long laugh at his jokes.

During one of the dress-up weeks, some people were just "too cool" to dress-up (for example, Senior Todd Weathersby). Senior Sam Lopez, however, got into the toga spirit while Junior Leigh Weh and Senior Sean Ginn just let their originality shine through.

The liberation organization which kidnapped Seniors Sam Lopez and Keun Kyu Yi on Halloween. They are seen here with leader Yassar Perea.

First semester included many games, all of which energetic Stacy Dow attended.

Jon

Hill

Jon Hill. The name should sound familiar to Del Norte students because he's one of Del Norte's best. Not only was he a member of ASA, but he also belonged to Del Norte's track, basketball, and football teams since his freshman year and has proven his outstanding athletic ability in all three.

In football he lettered his junior and senior year and has taken All-City and All-District defense. In basketball he also lettered his junior and senior years. And he belonged to the All-City 1600 relay team, was a state runner-up and lettered his sophomore, junior and senior years in track. When asked what he attributes his success to, he said, "I believe God has given me my athletic ability to use in all sports."

After high school, Jon hopes to attend San Diego State University and study law. While in college, he hopes to pursue his athletic career and apply the discipline he learned in sports to further his education.

SPEECH

Marquesa

Mills

Marquesa Mills is one of Del Norte's all around students. Music was a large part of Marquesa's life. Her four years in Marching, Symphonic, and Jazz Band, in which she played the piano, percussion, and flute, attest to that fact. She was the Vice-President of Band and the Percussion Section leader.

Speech was another activity that Marquesa became involved in. Her two years of competition put her up in the top ranks of the state. When she was a junior she qualified for state in the Debate category. She specializes in debate category, and duo, in which she performed with Jenny Jacobs on dramatic or humorous interpretation recitals. She's the treasurer of Speech and said, "I used to be very shy and couldn't talk to anyone unless I knew them very well. Speech gave me a lot of self-confidence."

Marquesa's talents reach far beyond music and speech. She was on varsity tennis, Youth and Government, a Girls' State Alternate, an ASA representative, a member of Senior Senate, and on the yearbook staff.

This past summer Marquesa was chosen to travel to Europe with the Methodist Festival Choir. "I really appreciate my family and freedom now," she said.

Barbara
Moriarty

"Barbara Moriarty, 'Ann'," as Karen Bomber calls her, "strives to do her best and helps make the team fun and exciting." Kim Bloemker says of her soccer talents, "She's a good leader and a consistent player."

Experience is one of the reasons Barbara was a mainstay in girls' athletics. Since the age of eight, she has worked on her running. She trained with a private track club for nine years and headed to Del Norte ready to set the pace. When she arrived, she found that soccer was just as fun and landed a place on the varsity team her freshman year.

Her achievements include being a three-year letterman in soccer, and her senior year being co-captain along with Kim Bloemker and Karen Bomber. In track, she ran three years and lettered her junior year. She was also co-captain of the track team.

Tim

Reed

Baseball is one of America's favorite pastimes and Tim Reed's favorite activity. Tim, a transfer from Hope High, has been playing baseball as long as he can remember. Tim moved to Del Norte his sophomore year. He lettered in baseball his sophomore, junior, and senior years, and he also made 1st team All-District as short-stop. "He has an attitude that is extremely desirable for an athlete to have," said Coach Miller. "Truly a team leader."

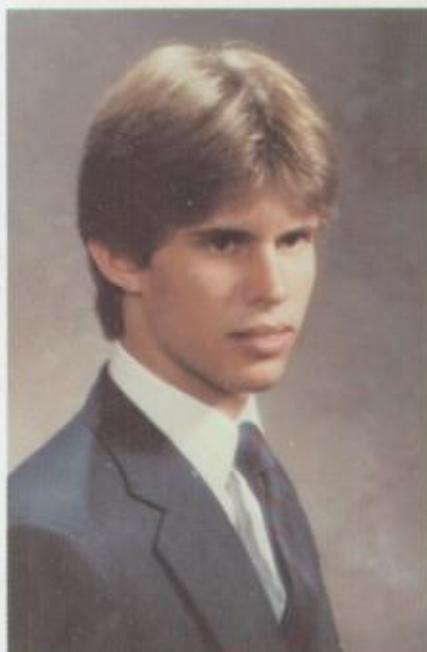

Tim not only played baseball, but he had the honor of escorting the 1985 Homecoming Queen, Kristine Wehrle to Del Norte's Homecoming Coronation and Homecoming Dance.

Tim said that after high school he wants to "go to college and play baseball and hopefully go pro, but if not, study to be an athletic trainer."

Kristine
Wehrle

"I want to perform and record vocally, and, of course, try to make people feel happy and loved in the process," said Kristine Wehrle a singer at Del Norte.

When she was four, Kris's grandfather started her in music study that lasted five years. She also was in voice instruction for two years.

Singing isn't the only thing Kris is good at. Her G.P.A. is 4.06, and she has achieved her many awards such as Civitan Student of the Month, Rotary Club Student of the Month, and Girls' State Delegate

Kris's greatest achievement was becoming Homecoming Queen of 1985. "It was the biggest day of my life, partly because it encompassed an overall opinion of the entire student body. Knowing that they thought enough of me to choose me from all of those beautiful, special girls. That meant more to me than they will ever know."

R.J.

Pettis

From the start, R.J. Pettis has been an outstanding Knight. Being over 6 feet tall since his freshman year, he's always stood out by being one of Del Norte's most valuable athletes, in both football and baseball.

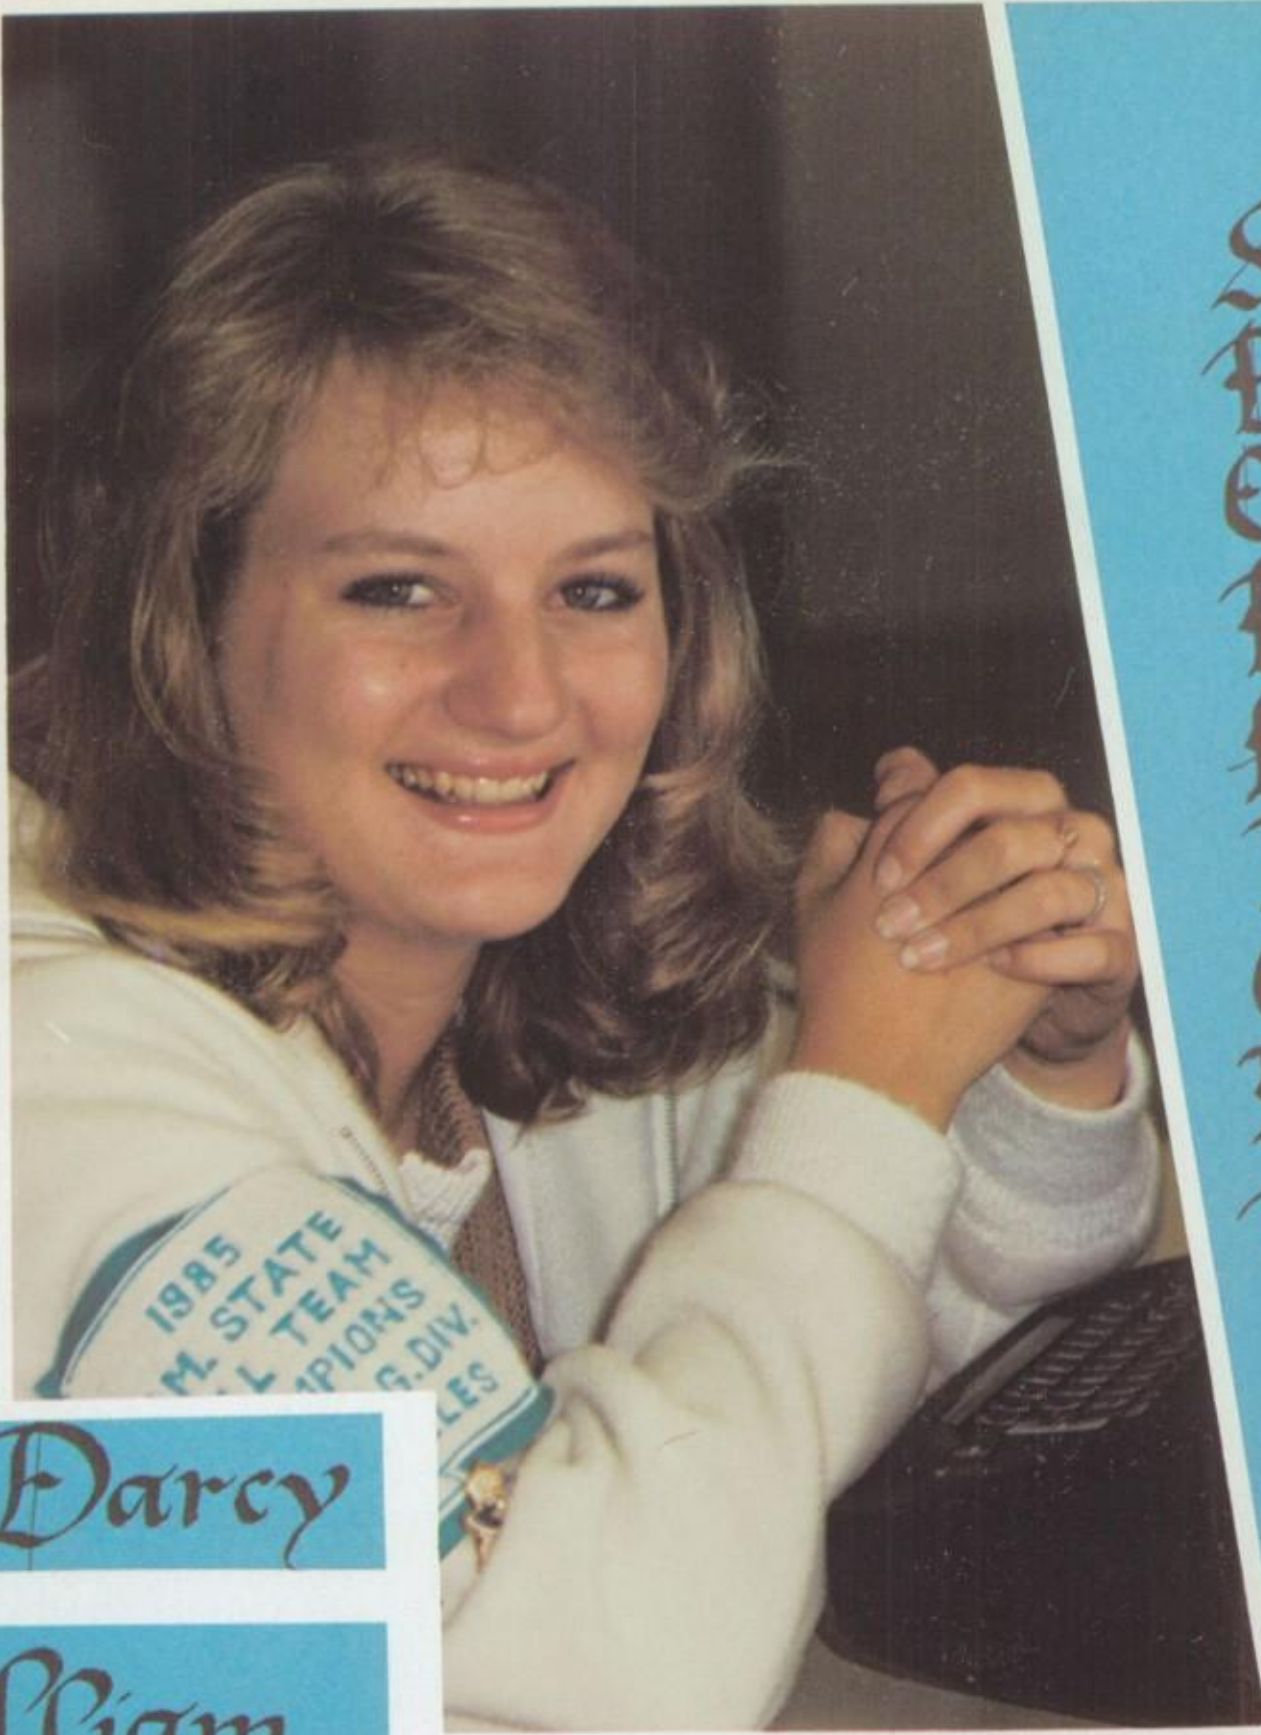

R.J. was a four-year letterman in baseball and last year he was selected for the All-City team. In football, he was a three year letterman and was selected for the All-District team.

"R.J. is a very talented athlete. For three seasons he has contributed to the varsity football team in many ways. He has been our leading receiver as well as one of the states finest punters," said Coach Williams.

Although being a fine athlete requires dedication and concentration, R.J.'s been able to remain relaxed and friendly. "R.J.'s sense of humor has helped the football team maintain a friendly environment," said Coach Williams.

The balance between R.J.'s talent and humor are outstanding assets that R.J. is depending on for his future. "I'm hoping to get a football scholarship," he said. "And hopefully become a professional player."

Darcy

Pulliam

"I've wanted to be Editor of the Del Norte Lance for as long as I've been interested in journalism," says Darcy Pulliam the 1985-86 editor. "It was a great accomplishment for me."

"The LANCE has made me more aware of everything around school. I've learned a lot from my experiences with the LANCE. I know what I have learned can be carried on to help me through my college and later years."

Besides being editor, Darcy is in a variety of other activities. She has been a member of Quill and Scroll, the International Honor Society for Journalists for two years, and National Honor Society for two years. She was news editor of the LANCE in her junior year, a cheerleader for her first two years, and a Castelle for her last two years.

"It is important to be successful, not only in career, but also in life. You can't accomplish anything without love and support."

Chris

Beaver

"No matter who you are and no matter what kind of illness you have, if you just trust in God, He'll always see you through it," said Chris Beaver, this year's tallest player on the Varsity basketball team. He stands at 6'5 1/2.

Chris has been fighting a problem with chronic asthma all his life and feels his greatest accomplishment is being able to play basketball and football.

He played football his freshman and sophomore year, but has played basketball all four years, lettering his last two. He's won many awards for basketball including Player of the Week, Federal Bank Athlete of the Week. He's been an All-State, All-City, and All-District player, too.

When asked about his feelings toward the team and coach, Chris replied, "We have a great team this year; everyone is working hard and we're all real loose. Coach Pino is doing a good job, and he's not only our coach, but our friend."

Chris has interests outside of basketball, too. "I collect ants, and I'm really interested in insects."

He is currently being scouted by several colleges, and said, "I'd like to major in psychology and play NCAA Basketball."

SPOTLIGHT

Renee'

McKinney

"The first time you lose is the last time you try."

Renee McKinney has attained many achievements on the Del Norte Track Team. Her sophomore year she was district runner-up and the cross country city champion. In track, when she was a junior, she captured the High School City Championship in the high jump with a cast on her foot. Also, that year in the State Championships, she placed second in the 800-yard, placed third in the 400-yard run, and placed third in the 800-yard relay.

At the age of ten, she began her long and arduous journey toward perfection by participating on the Duke City Dashers track team. On the Dashers and the Dust Devils track teams before coming to Del Norte, she built up an attitude of "never say die" and is now one of the leading competitors for the state cup in both the 800 and 400 yard runs. She holds the Del Norte record in the 400-yard run and sincerely hopes to one day make the Olympic Team.

John

Chilleli

At 5 ft 4" and with an awe-inspiring voice of command and determination, John Chilleli became a member of Del Norte's revered Speech Team.

Having four years of rigorous training inside and outside of school, John became a certified contender for the state title in Speech. During his junior year, he placed a healthy fourth in state for an extemporaneous speaking performance. Over the next summer, he showed his great talent by placing in the top eight of a national qualifying tournament. In a regional tournament, he grabbed the number one spot for both extemporaneous and advanced debate. On the Speech Team he retained the president's spot and led the team forward through a productive year.

His talents are not limited to Speech. John also participated actively in Round Table and ASA. He was the Vice-President of Youth and Government and earned the status of being a Stater. He also involved himself in the Latin Club.

Bob

Troutman

Bob Troutman is a guy who likes to "be with all his friends and get crazy."

He's been playing baseball all four years, lettering his last two. He also played football his freshman and sophomore years.

Bob has been playing on the Varsity Basketball Team for two years, and being 6'4" is definitely an advantage.

He feels any team "has great potential. The players need to put it all together and then they will be good. The coach will push them so they get the most out of it."

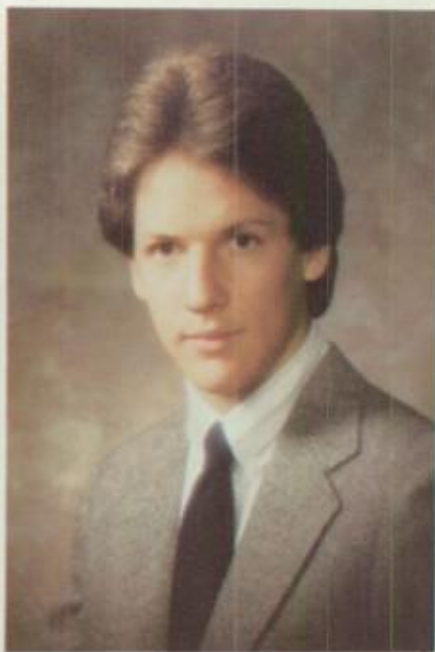

Bob feels his greatest accomplishment is "being able to play football, baseball and basketball."

He's been an All-District player for both baseball and basketball, and an All-State player for baseball.

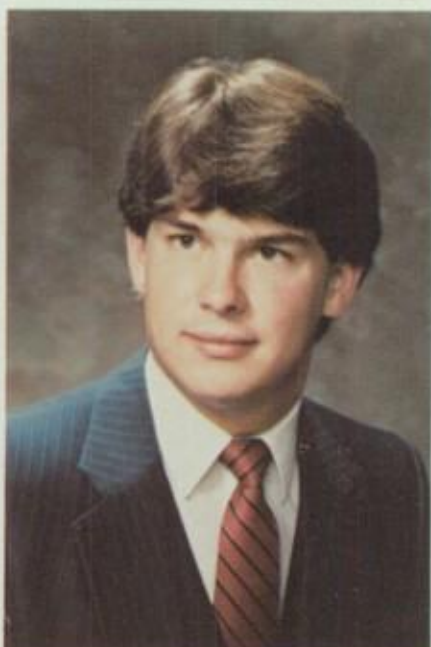

Bob's favorite person is his father. Says Bob, "He's always been there for me, and there's no way I could give him everything he's given me. He's the greatest father."

"I have learned that anything worth while in life takes a lot of hard work to achieve. Through God, anything is possible."

Sam

Lopez

Sam Lopez, the 1985-86 Student Body President has his own personal philosophy that he tries to live by. "I try to be as honest as I possibly can be with myself as well as with other people. Honesty is important in every relationship."

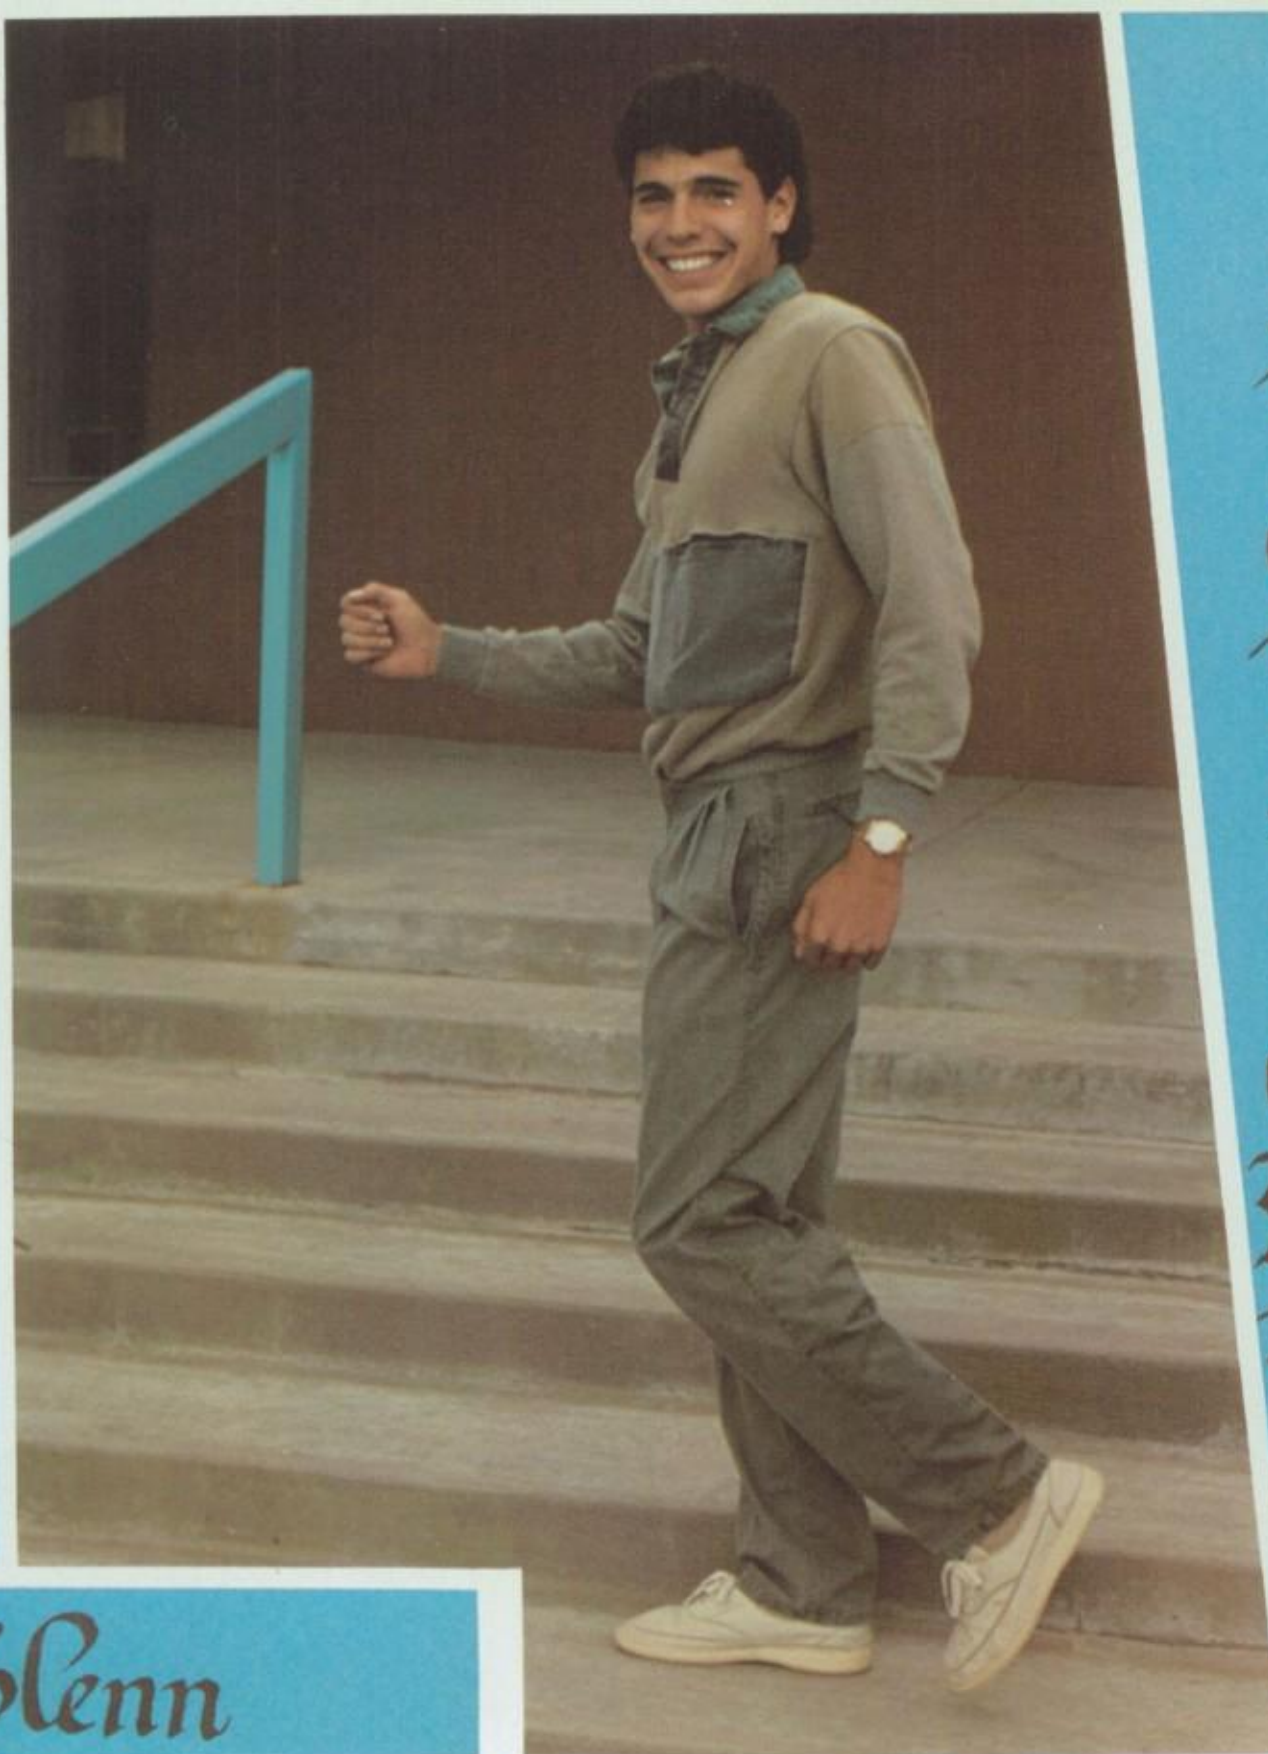

And relating to people is a major part of Sam's job. Being the Junior Class President last year gave him experience, but this year his office opened up many more doors. "Being the president of the entire student body made it possible for me to meet new people and to be exposed to a lot of ideas and attitudes," said Sam. "People have ideas about things they'd like to see happen at DN, and I'm able to put them into action."

In other activities, Sam was the Vice President of the Boys' Staters Club; this year he served as the first Student Advisor on the APS Drafting Committee.

Sam plans to attend UNM and become an architect in his spare time. As for his future full-time job, Sam hopes to go into politics, and someday become the President of the USA.

"I think Sam's honesty, sincerity and his modesty have made him a very successful President," said Mr. Seiler, Activities Director.

SPORTS

Glenn

Morgan

"Hard work always pays off," explained Glenn Morgan. It definitely has paid off for him. He has lettered in both Cross Country and Track all his four years in high school while still maintaining a 3.0 G.P.A.

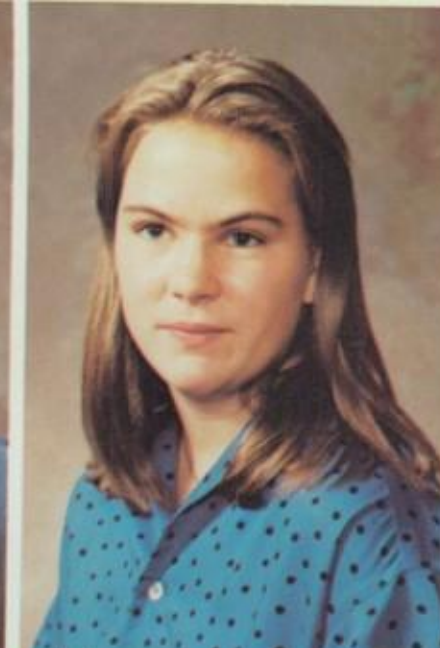

Many of his accomplishments include the title of City, District, and State Champion in Cross Country.

"Glenn is a superb athlete," commented Principal Elmer Bass. "For a man to be the State Champion for three years in a row, and nominated for All-American, this is an outstanding achievement. I look forward to seeing Glenn as a great runner at the collegiate level.

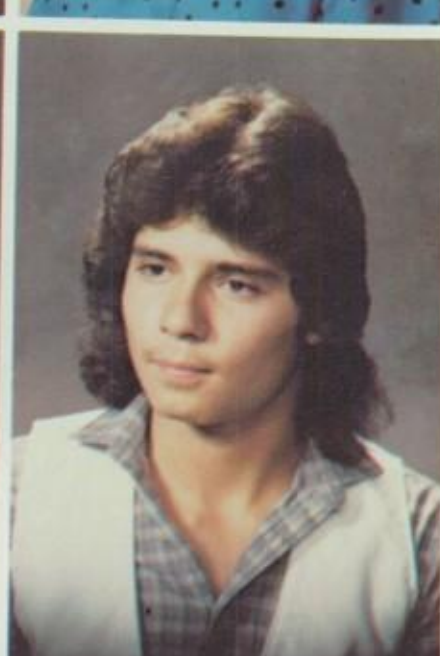

Glenn has also been 13th in the nation in Cross Country and 5th in the nation for the 1500 meter run in track.

Glenn Morgan has proved that, "If you believe you can do something, always stick with it. It pays off."

Matt

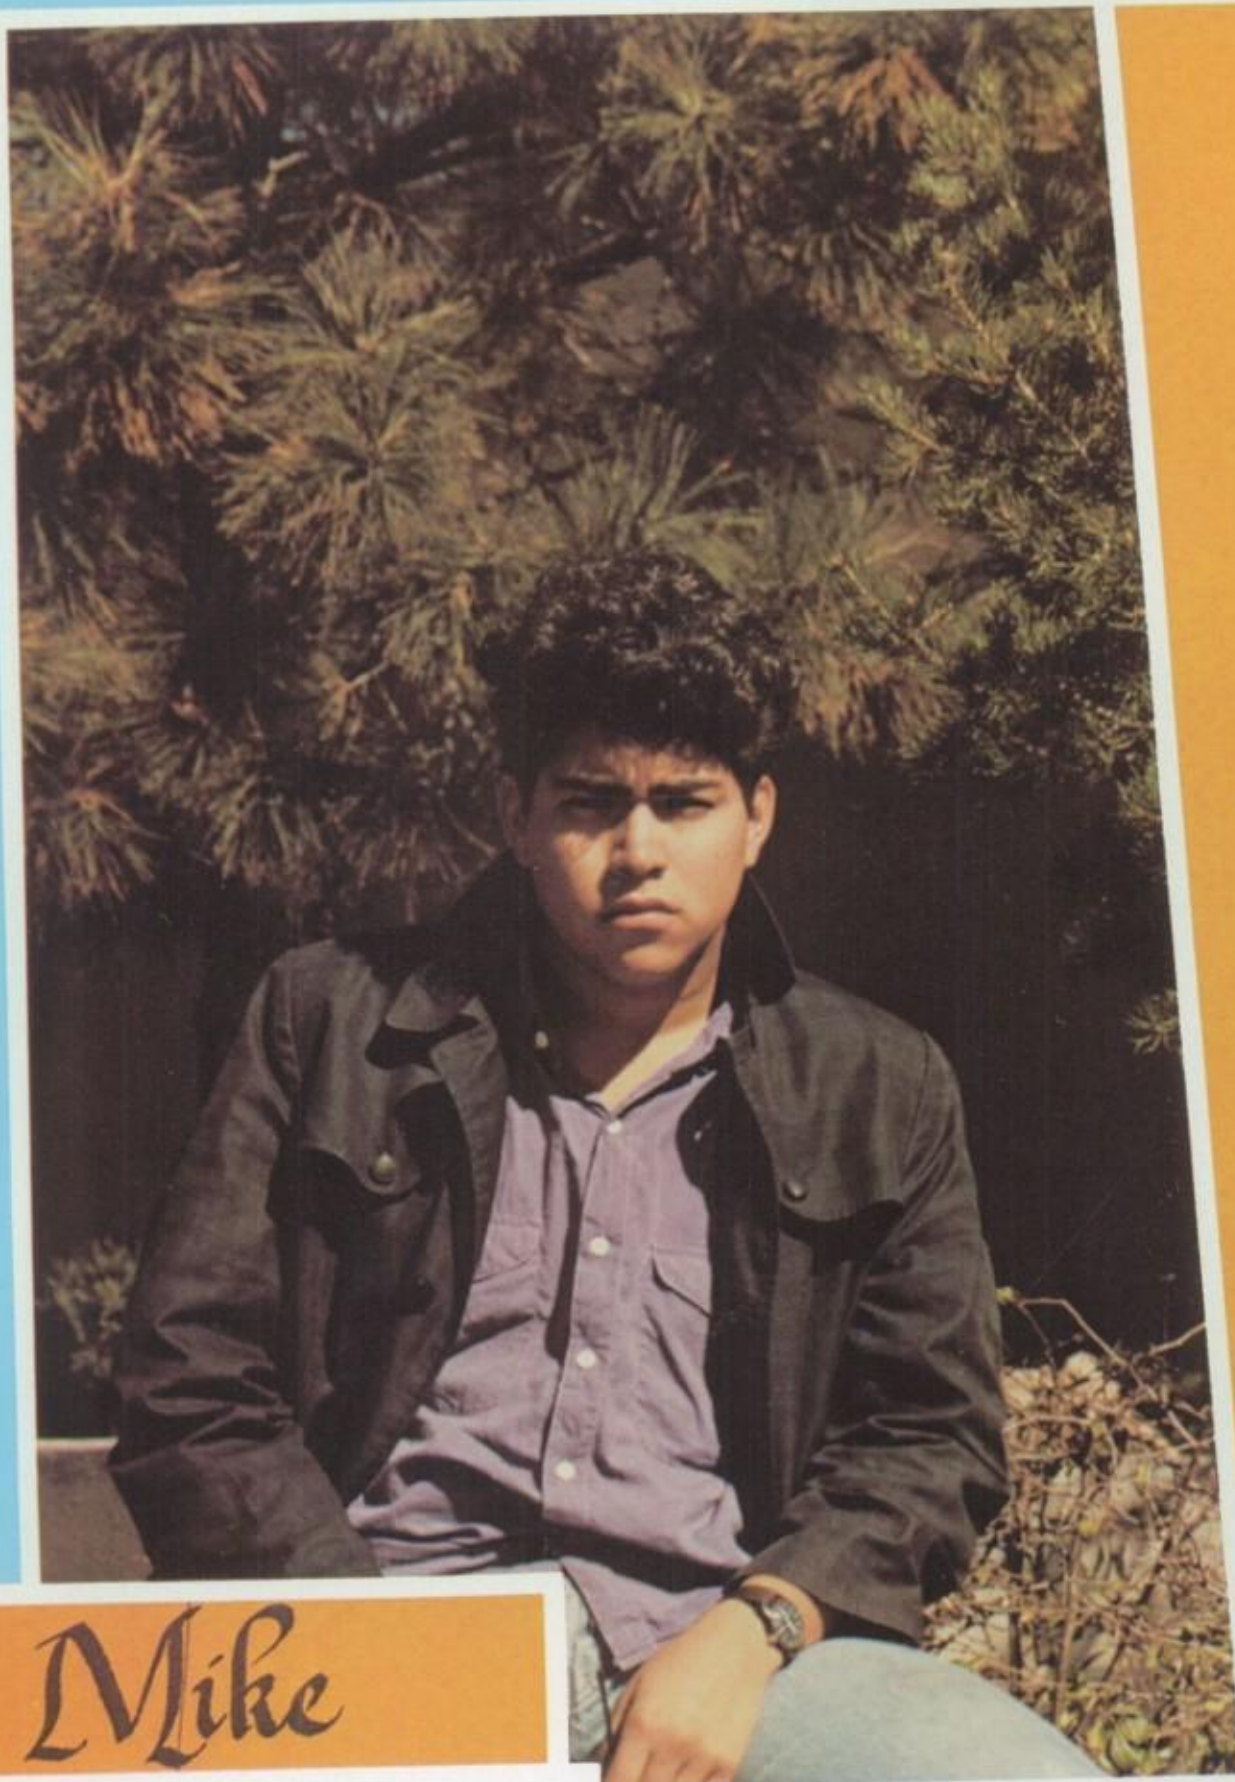

Aragon

"Football is a way to learn self-discipline. It gives you a goal to work toward," said Matt Aragon one of the outstanding Varsity Football players of Del Norte.

"Matt is a very mature and intense athlete, and he approaches the game in that manner," said David Williams, head coach of the Varsity Football team. "His leadership is the single greatest contribution to our team."

Matt has lettered for three years and was awarded City interceptor and safety linebacker his sophomore year and was on the second city district team his junior year. Including his dedication to our football team, Matt has put his energies into other sports such as the Varsity Track and Varsity Baseball teams.

"Matt is a smart player who is always aware of the situation," the coach went on. "In the tough situations he, is aware of what is necessary for success."

Mike
Beltran

Until the middle of his junior year, Mike Beltran's talent was unknown to most of the student body.

Suddenly, his cartoons started appearing on campaign posters, dance flyers, and programs.

Drawing has come naturally to Mike, who has been drawing as long as he can remember. He has refined his talent through the several art classes he's taken at Del Norte.

Not everyone has appreciated his art work. "My mind boggles at the thousands of desks

I've had to clean for exercising my talent in the classroom."

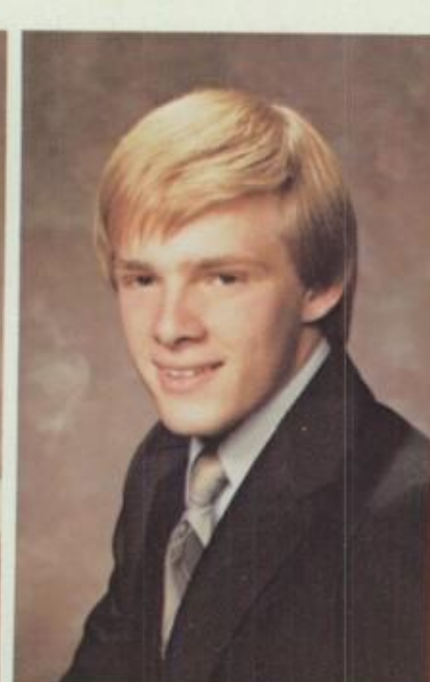

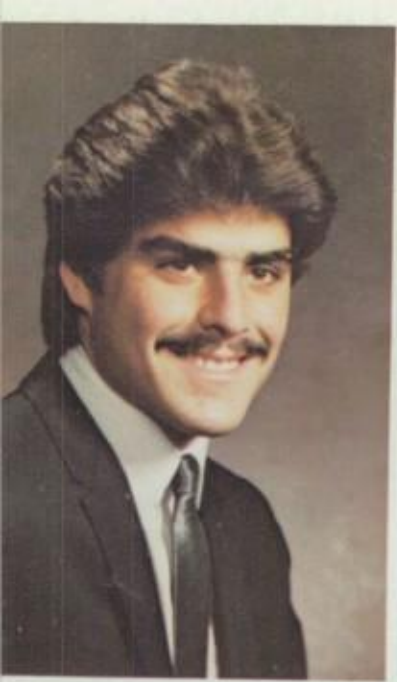

Mike's attention centers on cartooning. However, he was the one-man committee who designed and painted the 30ft sunset which was used as a backdrop at the Homecoming Court Coronation.

After attending ASU, Mike plans to continue cartooning and become "the most widely read cartoonist in America."

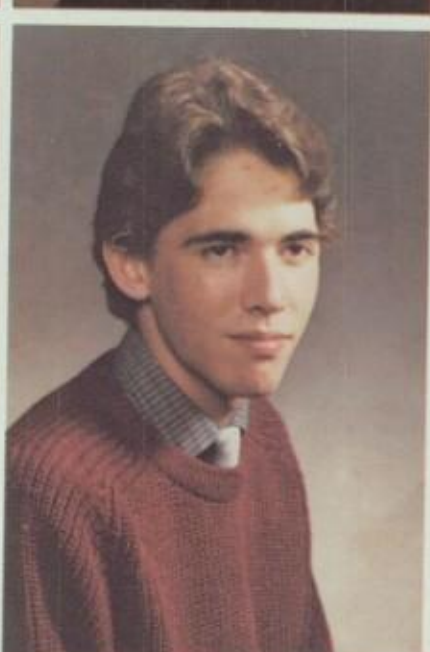

Next time you open the paper and open the cartoon section, you just may see a cartoon that appeared around the halls of Del Norte.

Sandi Nossett

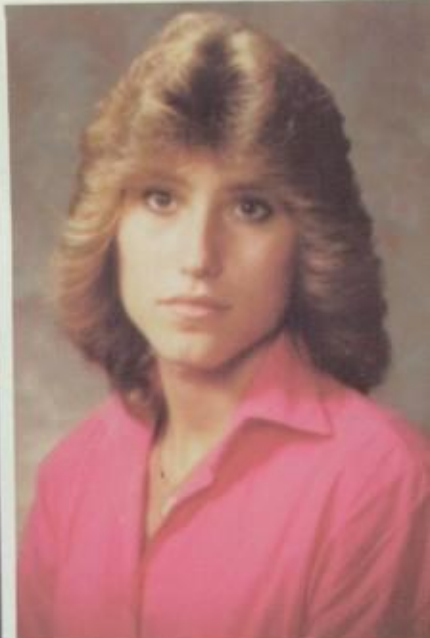

The center of time of the Phantom Knight Marching Band are drum majors Sandi Nossett and Anthony Swisher. Mr. Fannin said, "Having outstanding drum majors is the essential element to having an outstanding band. They are the core of this group and can make or break us. Fortunately, Sandi and Anthony put everything they had into this band, and it was a very successful year."

Sandi and Anthony both feel that having an outstanding band is well worth the work it takes. Besides bringing trophies back to Del Norte, there are many other positive advantages all individuals who participate in band will gain. Anthony said, "There is a special closeness which develops between band members and the directors that you don't get in a normal classroom. The students also become close, and we're like a big family who really goes through a lot together." Sandi has an exciting outlook on the band this year. "Mr. Fannin has brought the best out in everyone both musically and attitude-wise, and we're doing great!"

Both Sandi and Anthony can help and understand all members of the band because over the past three years, they have been in all the different sections. Sandi played the flute and bass drum, while Anthony played saxophone, snare drum, and tri-toms.

Juniors set the pace.

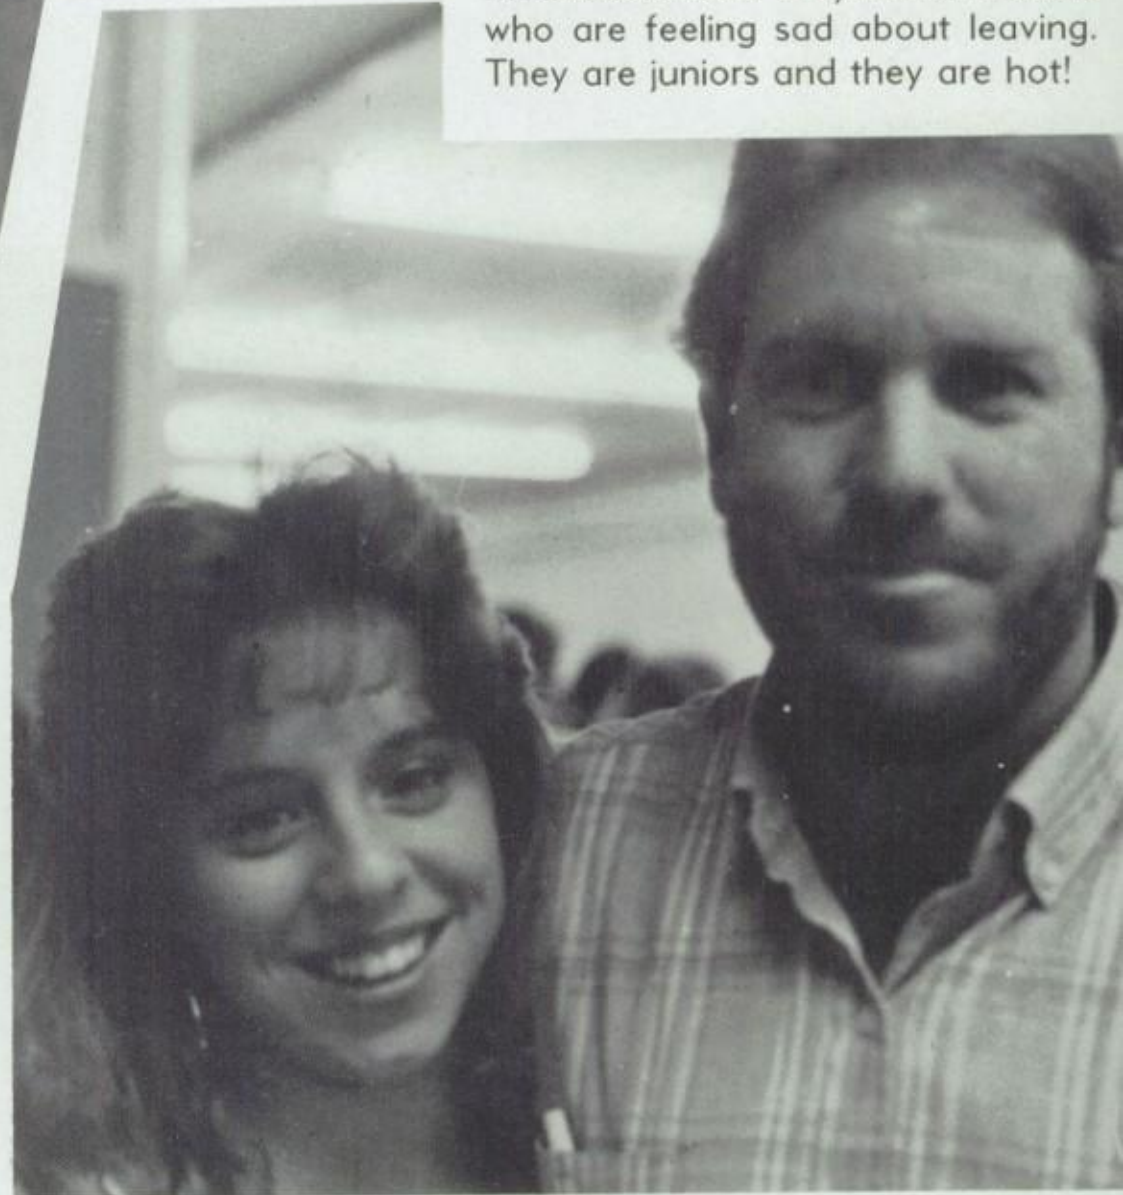

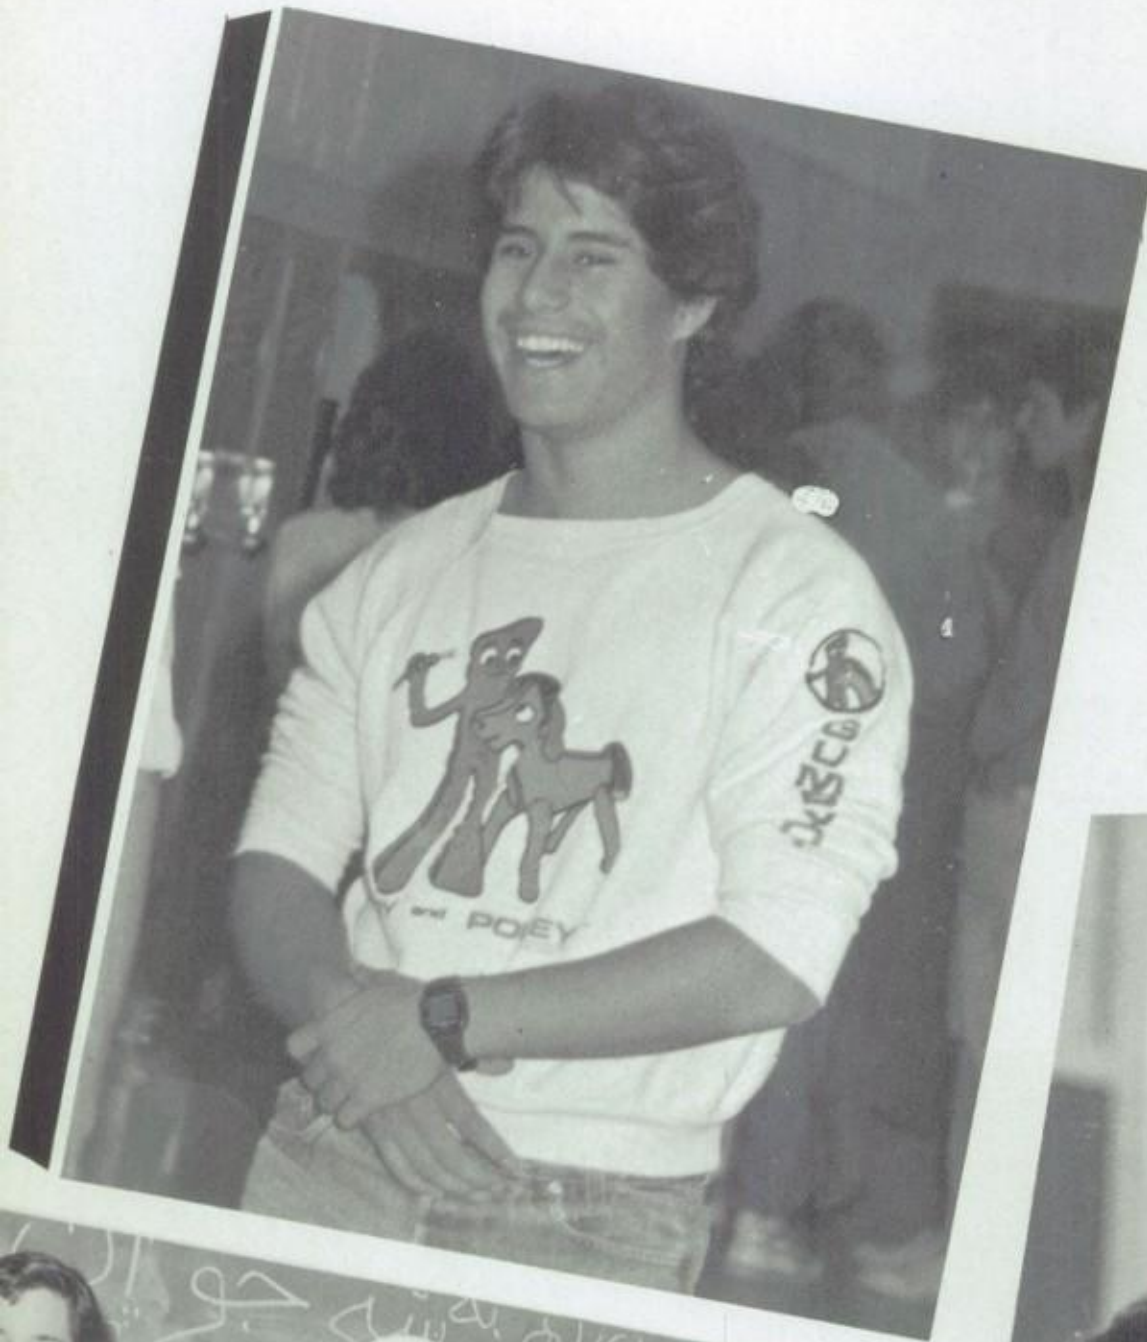

"We've set a routine and we've set a pace, if you get in our way we'll break your face." Juniors have a way with words. Here are some typical junior comments: "I can't wait to be a senior." "Next year I'll graduate." "It's pretty fun." "I'm one year closer to being a senior." "I think we're the party class." "We're the rowdiest!"

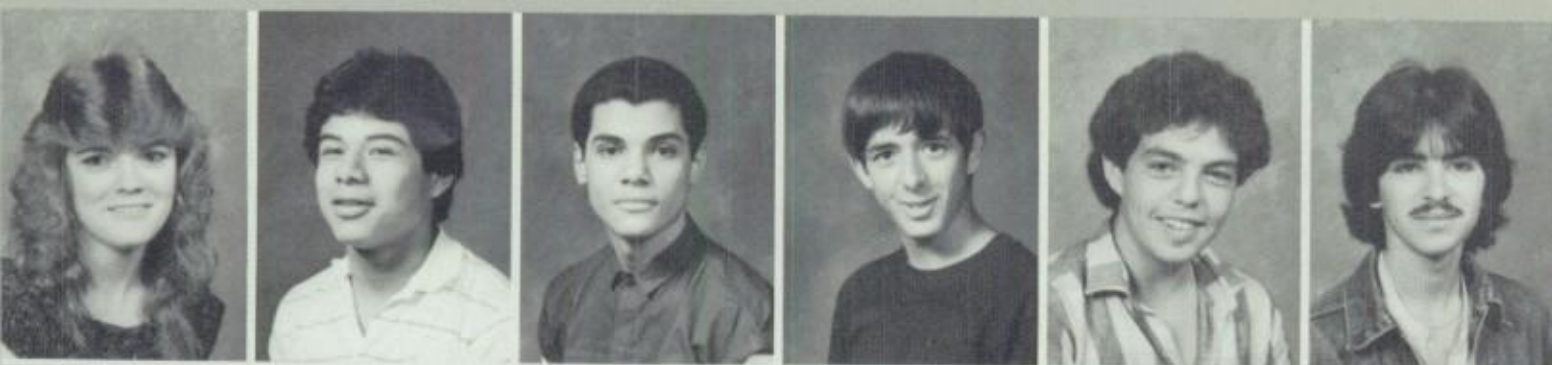

Juniors are at the peak of their high school years. They're not freshmen just starting out, naive to high school pranks. They're not sophomores who are bored with school and have no motivation. And they're not seniors who are feeling sad about leaving. They are juniors and they are hot!

"Yea, Gumby and Pokey; they're my pals," laughs Tim Mora.

We're getting our kicks in 85-86.

EXCITEMENT . . . What do they mean? What exactly excites people here at Del Norte? Football games or players. Homecoming, pep rallies, cheerleaders, well these are just a few things in Excitement 86'!

This year at Del Norte the class that seems to be most spirited is the freshmen. At assemblies they usually dominate over every other class. That's what they call excitement. Winning an important game against a school rival is very exciting, too.

When the yearbook comes out with everyone's pictures, and you're looking through it to see if there are any extras of you and your friends. Looking back on all the fun times you and your special group of friends have had together. But also thinking of the good times to come.

Getting an "A" in your hardest class that you didn't even expect to pass. Getting that guy's, or girl's, attention who you have been watching for weeks upon end.

Excitement 86', for the seniors, it's graduating and moving on to new and better opportunities.

Lockers

Students here at Del Norte decorate their lockers in many different styles. Some of the different styles range from putting calanders and stickers on their locker to decorating their locker with rock posters, wall-paper, and note pads.

Why do students decorate their lockers? Reasons vary from "It looks cool." to "It makes the locker look like home."

Junior Chris Tervin had his locker decorated with various comic strips, some weird pictures, and magnets with funny messages on them. He said, "This stuff is on my locker because it has a lot of class." Junior Reggie Roark had his locker decorated with pictures of Randy Rhoads and Led Zeppelin which he made in graphic arts class, and he drew a pentogram on the outside. He said, "This stuff is really 'bogus'!!"

There are many different styles of decorating lockers. It all depends on the kind of person you are.

You walk out into the street.
The moonlight combines with the light from the porch,
Yet it seems more bleak than without it.
Your soul cries with pain.
Sorrow passes over those who knew him.
And even those who didn't.

He meant so much to all.
So why did the Lord decide this life to take?
He left his brother and sisters, his parents, and all who cared,
It makes you think it was all a big mistake.

We must all face tomorrow without
him,
We must watch the time go by.
We have to try to forget his death,
And remember his life without asking the question why.

You stare at your tired swollen eyes,
As you stand before the mirror.
You hope to awaken from this nightmare,
You wish for no more tears.

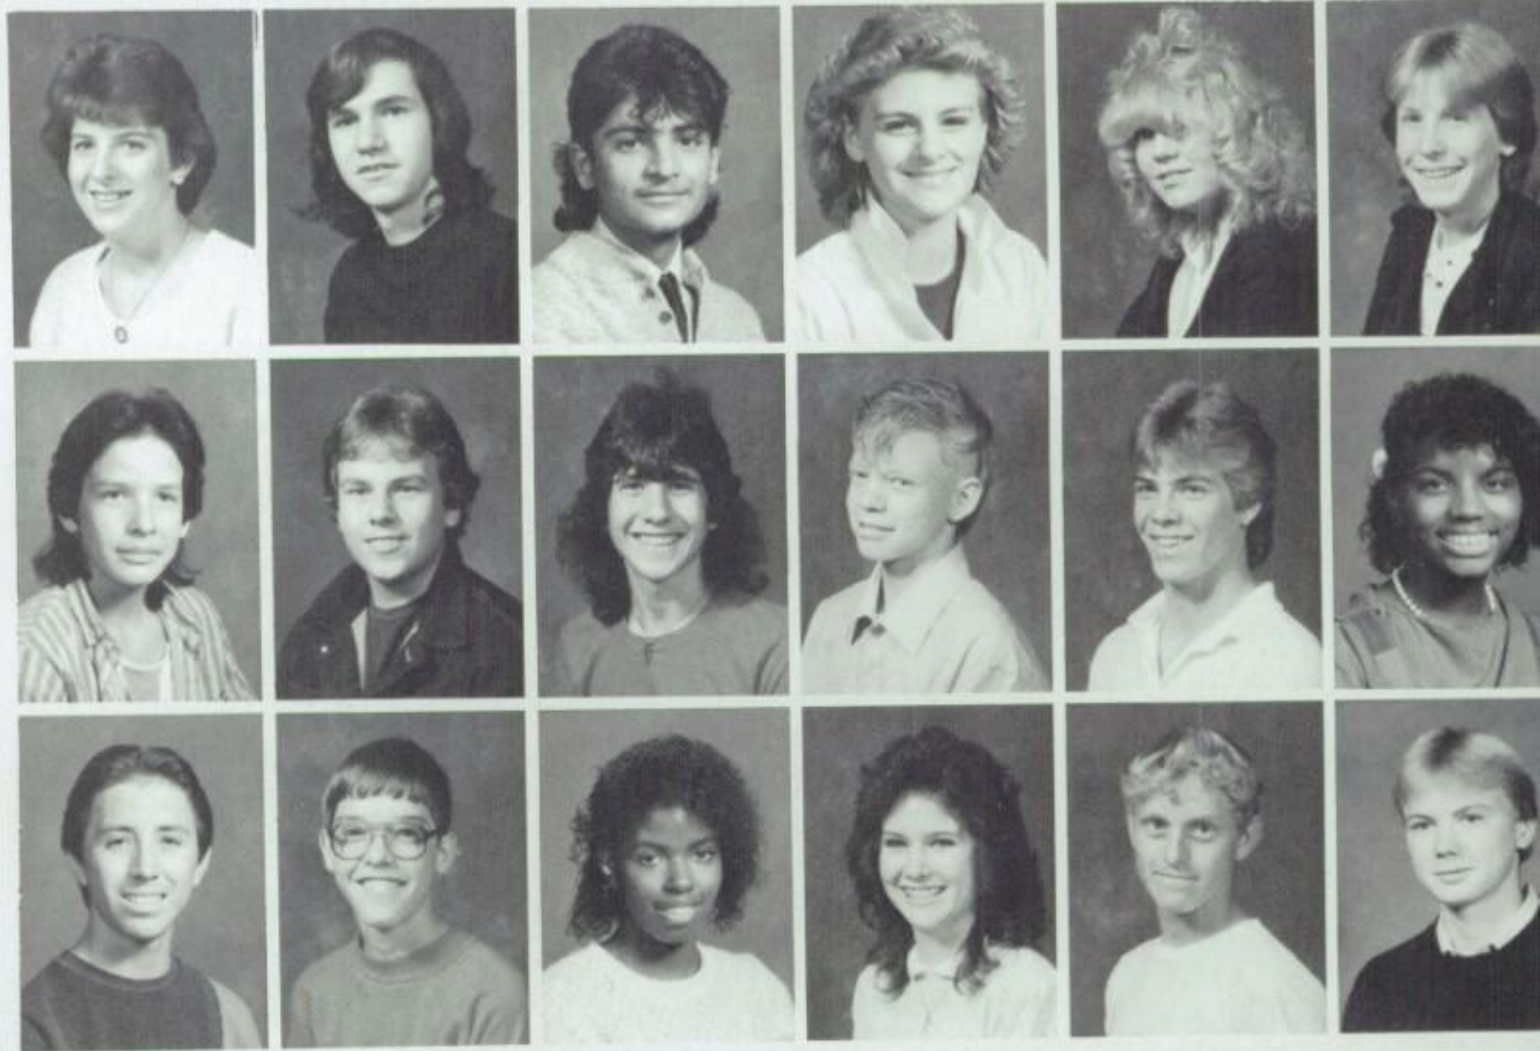

As a river always flows to a sea,
As life always shall end as it starts,
We'll remember Dennis Trujillo,
As he forever remains in our hearts.

Class of '88' shows their class spirit at an assembly.

"'88 Dominates!" is a popular cheer the J.V. cheerleaders shout to the crowds. "They really get the sophomore crowd rowdy," said Mike Davis.

What does being a sophomore mean? "Two more years left of high school!" was Gary Trujillo's response. "Being a sophomore means you are getting a little closer to being a senior," said Kristen Herreid. "It means you're not a freshman any longer!" was Casey Joseph's reply.

Sophomores are really enthusiastic when it comes to taking pride in their class. They're out to show Del Norte that there really is a class of '88!

For a sophomore, school isn't everything. Many sophomores are getting their drivers' licenses, have jobs, and basically take on all kinds of "adult" responsibilities. They are getting prepared for life after high school, which comes in only two short years. "Graduating is just around the corner. I'm excited but kind of scared," said Michelle Quinterro.

All in all, the sophomore class was a class with outstanding spirit and high goals in life. Put it together and you have success.

Freshmen get rowdy during Mrs. Wood's second period English class.

TWAS THE NIGHT

by Cynthia
Pacheco

Twas the night before high school
And the first day at that,
The soon-to-be-freshmen
Repeatedly chant:
"Will I be popular?"
"Will I succeed?"
"Will I be laughed at or bullied or teased?"

They worried and fretted
All the night long.
And prayed that they wouldn't
Do anything wrong.
The day finally came
And off they all went
To find all that was said
Was not really meant.
They roamed all the halls
With a look of despair.
As they searched for their classes,
"This couldn't be fair!"

The tension was eased
As they all became one.
They went to assemblies,
Cheered and had fun.
Upperclassmen were amazed
And just had to stare,
At all the great spirit
That this class had to share.
Christmas approached
And school was forgotten.
The freshmen awaited
To see what Santa had brought them.

School started once more
And finals were near.
Time to study and cram,
And get into gear.
The rest of the year
Was one easy flight
As the freshmen became A true D.N. Knight!

Mrs. McMahan and students supervise the pre-schoolers here at Del Norte.

The responsibility a student takes on when signing up for this class is great. The class has two sections. One part is with the youngsters. The other is lab. In the lab, the students learn to make lesson plans, come up with ideas for activities such as preparing different snacks and art projects and working in a small or large group.

What this class teaches is how to handle youngsters. Since students take care of the children, they learn how to be firm with the children, yet be friendly.

For Halloween the youngsters dressed up in costumes. They went trick or treating to various classrooms.

This class also benefits other people by serving as a day care for working parents.

A student should take this class if they enjoy working with youngsters, are willing to take on a great deal of responsibility, and learn what it's like to always work with a large or small group.

Varsity Football

Productive Season

This year's Knights had an extremely productive year. The preseason polls predicted the Knights would not even make it to the playoffs, but with hard work and determination the Knights finished fifth in the State.

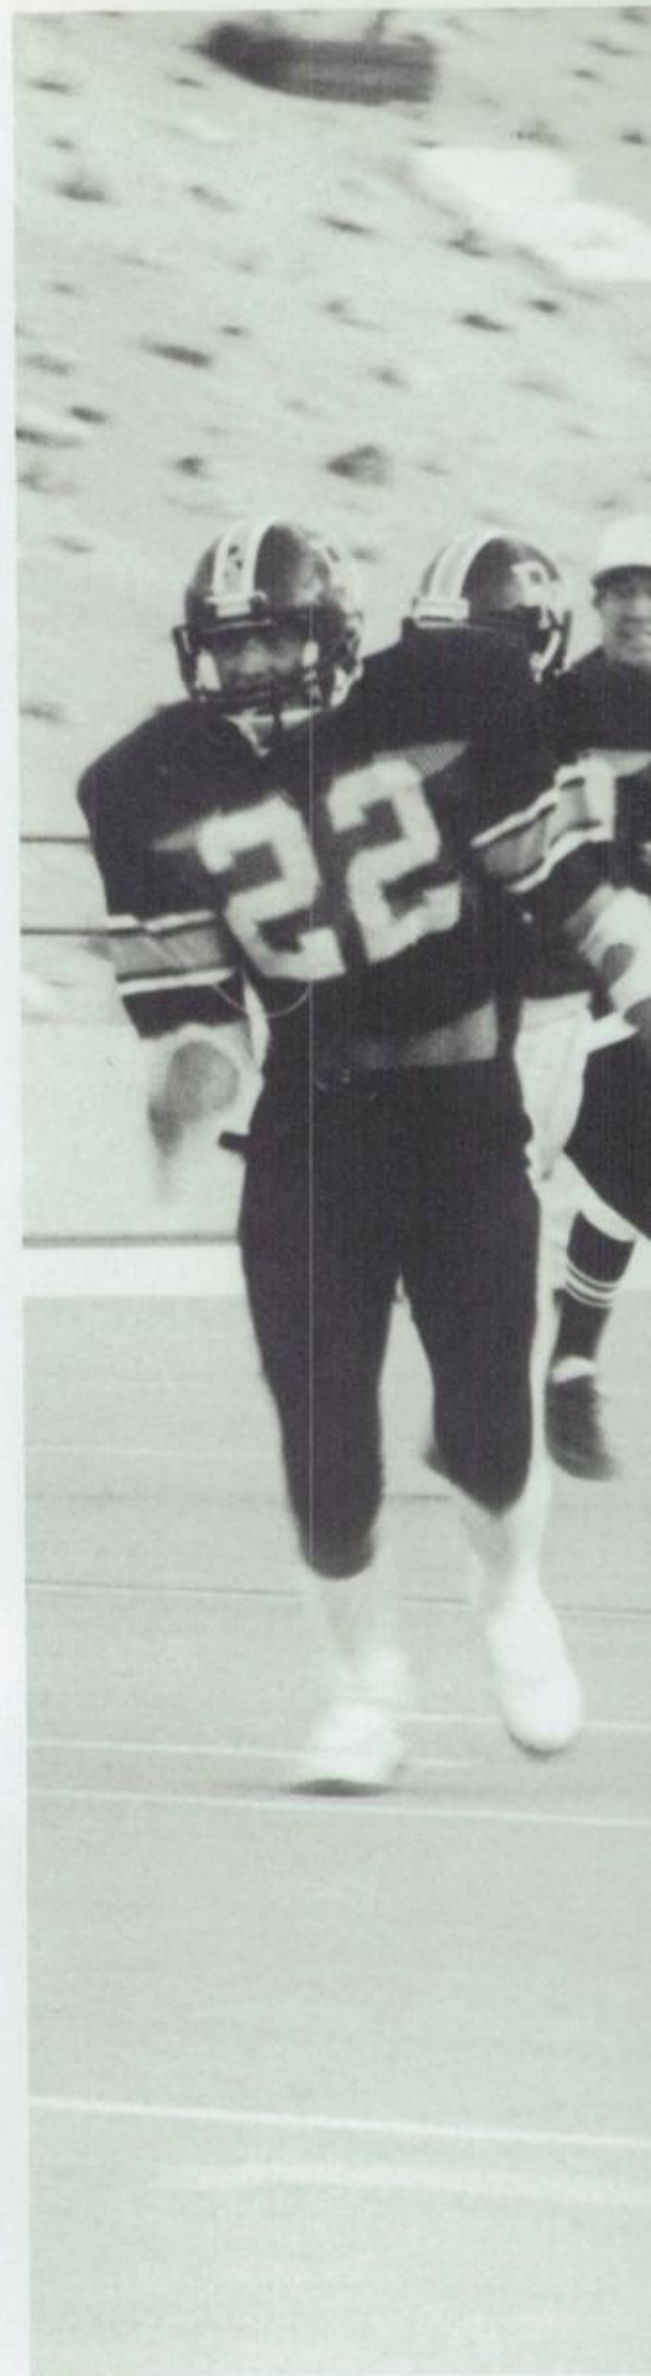

The Knights offense was led by senior quarterback Sandy McAdams. McAdams was the leading passer in the city and is the first DN quarterback to pass for over 1000 yards. On the other end of McAdams' passes were seniors Robert Perea, John Hill, and Matt Aragon just to name a few. The offense's big plays were often the key to many a game.

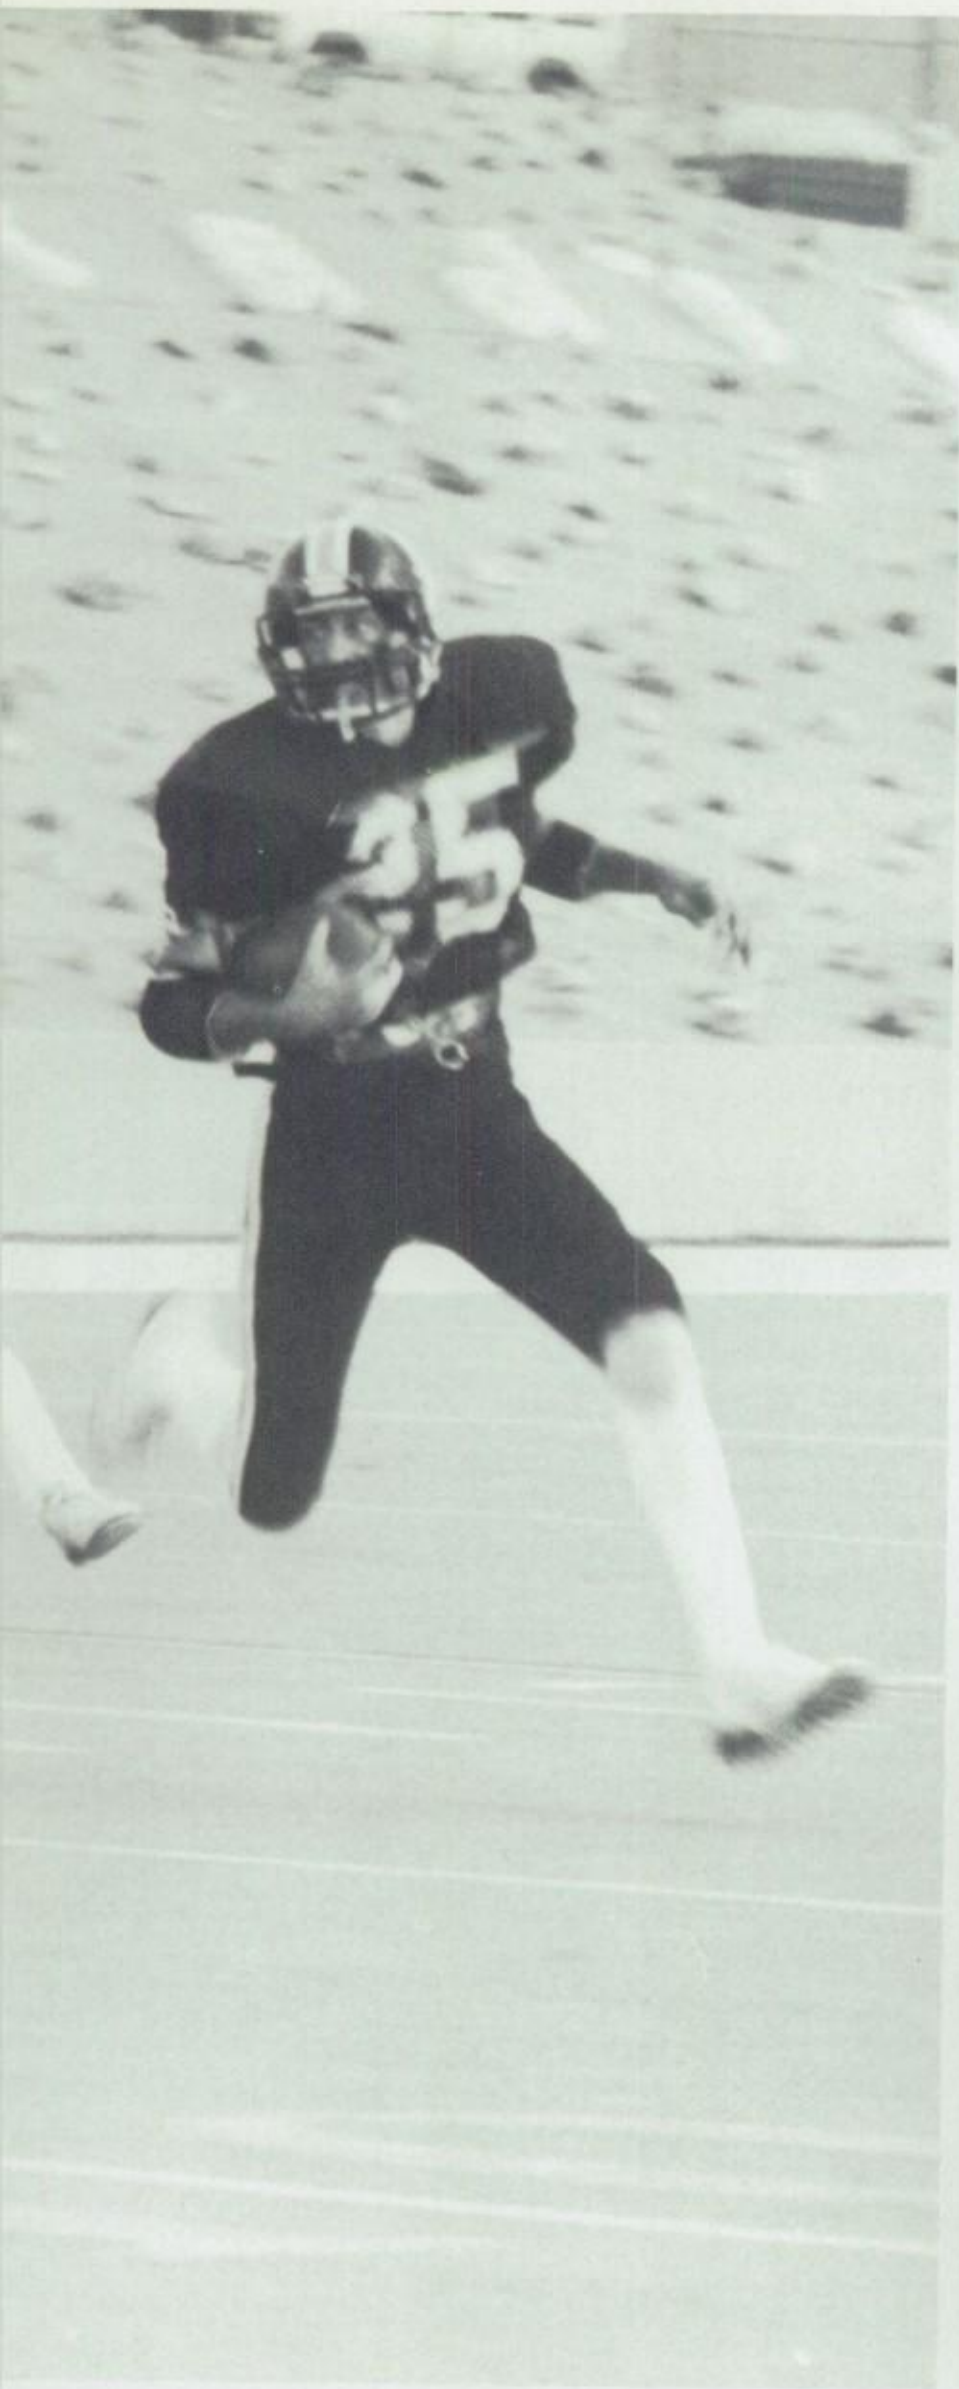

The Knights' defensive line was led by hard-hitting seniors Robert McCurdy, Mike VanAmburg, and John Bell, a junior. In tight spots defense always seemed to come up with a jarring hit or holding their opponent short in close moments.

This year's schedule included such teams as Albuquerque High, Highland, Rio Grande, and long-time rival Sandia High School. District games were against Los Alamos, Santa Fe, Farmington and always tough Gallup. After losing to Sandia in the final seconds of the fourth quarter last year the Knights handled Sandia without a hitch. The tough games came against defending State Champs Gallup. After winning a close game against Gallup, Gallup came back to defeat the Knights in the state playoffs.

Head Coach Dave Williams described this year's team as "Extremely productive and hard working". Another coach explains, "Despite the early criticisms our hard work and team spirit came through to win us some games."

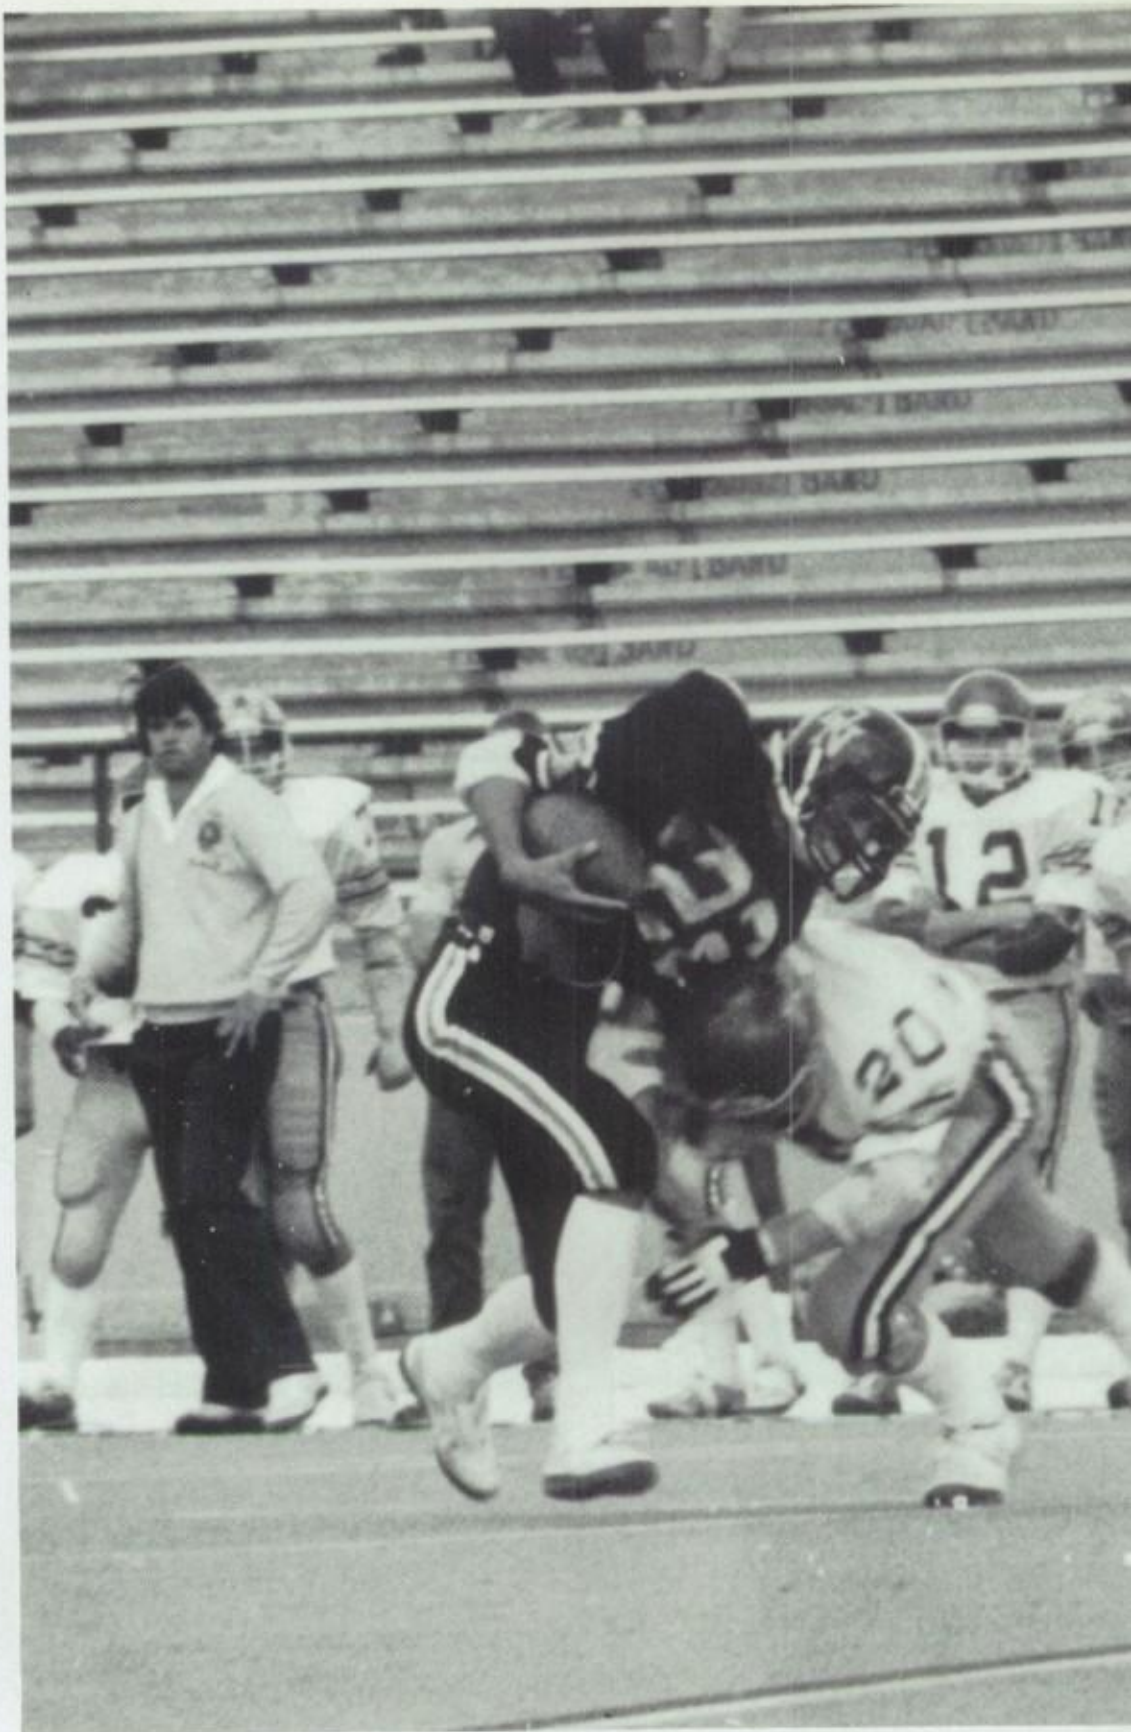

Bottom L to R: Manuel Moncayo, Robert Harris, Scott Rowten, Paul Jones, James Martinez, Damian Thomas, Rick Marquez, Stanley Abeyta, Brian Rowten. 2nd row Lisa Long, Matt Montanes, Richard Sedillo, Eldon Staggs, David Sandoval, Jim Bruner, David Williams, Ron Warren, Leigh Lookingbill, Philip Cruz, Don Montoya, Matt Page, Ian Smelser, Joe Vivian. 3rd row Steve Hill, Matt Aragon, Sandy McAdam, Scott VanAmburg, Jimmy Glenn, Robbie McCurdy, Joe Gonzales, Steven Schula, Anthony Sanchez, Pay Yancy, Robert Perea. 4th row Jon Hill, Mike Van Amburg, Keffory Levy, Carlos Etheredge, David Ray, RJ Pettis, John Bell, Steve Driscoll, David Hoff, Willard Talbott.

Impressive Offense

This year, the Junior Varsity Football Team, the Squires, had a trying season as they finished with a record of three wins, four losses, and one tie. One of the contributing factors was that many of the more experienced and deserving players were moved up to Varsity. This left positions that had to be taught to someone new between games, which is difficult to do.

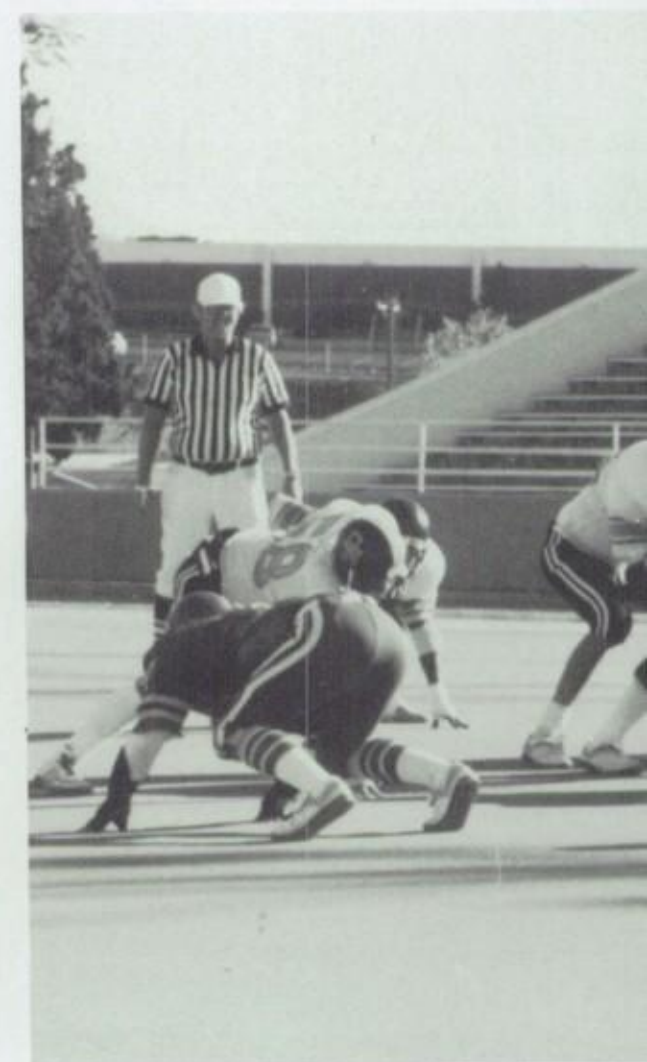

Of the Squire's four losses, three of them were to the top-ranked teams in the city. Top-ranked Eldorado, second-ranked Monzano, and third-ranked Valley were the Knights' three toughest games. Their three victories were against Gallup, Highland, and Albuquerque High. The most impressive win was against Albuquerque High 37-7. Coach Randy Simmions commented, "For that game we felt real good and pulled out all the stops." Coach Portillos said, "It was good for the team to have a big win like that."

The impressive offense was led by quarterbacks Ricky Marquez and Paul Gomez. The two running backs were Greg Aragon and Hector Morino. The defense included line backers Matt Page and Ian Smeltser.

The Squire's Coaches, Cip Portillos and Randy Simmions, believed that hard work and team dedication is what made the Squire season a productive one. They feel that these kids will help next year's team to be even more productive.

Freshmen Football

Trying Season

This year's Freshmen football team came upon hard times. Their opponents which included Sandia, West Mesa, Eldorado, and Valley were not easy ones. Possibly their most devastating loss was to West Mesa (25-0), but they came back to defeat Eldorado (14-0). Another exciting game was with Sandia in which we lost (7-0). The game was scoreless until the fourth quarter when Sandia scored a touchdown. As the clock expired so did our hopes of winning.

The Knights are proud of their freshman football team. Some of the outstanding players were quarterback Jason Hill, running back Sean Calocci, Skip Gunderson and lineman Anthony Yepa. Coach Petropoulos commented "It wasn't the most successful season, but it was certainly a good learning experience for the players." Another comment from Coach Portillos is, "Even though they only won one game, they showed good sportsmanship, responsibility, and teamwork," all of which are needed for a good football team.

Though the statistics didn't show it, the freshmen fought hard and proud. We know next year with their hard work, determination, and good teamwork, the Knights will be back on top.

Girls' Soccer

All Time High

Performance this year was at an all time high for the girls' soccer team. A winning season was the result of hard work on the team's part and the support of Coach Fleming. The highlight of their 8-7 record was the 3-2 victory over St. Pius, a tough team to beat.

The quality of soccer players has increased at Del Norte according to Coach Fleming. "The girls enjoy soccer, thus they are more enjoyable to coach," he said.

Enjoying soccer seemed to be the main goal of the team, but the girls took their sport seriously. "The girls were very competitive," Coach Fleming continued.

Though five seniors are leaving the team when they graduate, the underclassmen are very talented and some All-District players will be returning.

Summing up this year's team, Coach Fleming said, "I feel like we accomplished a great deal." His outlook for next year's team? "Very promising!"

Boys' Soccer

"Hard Working"

The Del Norte Soccer Team ran upon hard times during the 1985-86 season. The team, consisting of 8 seniors, 6 juniors, 4 sophomores, and three freshmen, was plagued with injuries throughout the season.

During the long thirteen game season, DN was out scored by their opponents forty-eight to fourteen.

In the first game, the Highland Hornets rolled over DN defense to score six goals and shut out DN. In the second game, DN did better, scoring a goal and holding the Hobbs team to only five.

Next on the agenda was Albuquerque High. This was the match Del Norte was looking for to get into the win column. But when the game was over, DN had to settle for a one-to-one tie. Sandia was next and DN lost to their quick inter-city rival 5-2. In the fifth game, Eldorado held DN scoreless throughout the game and finished with a 2-0 win.

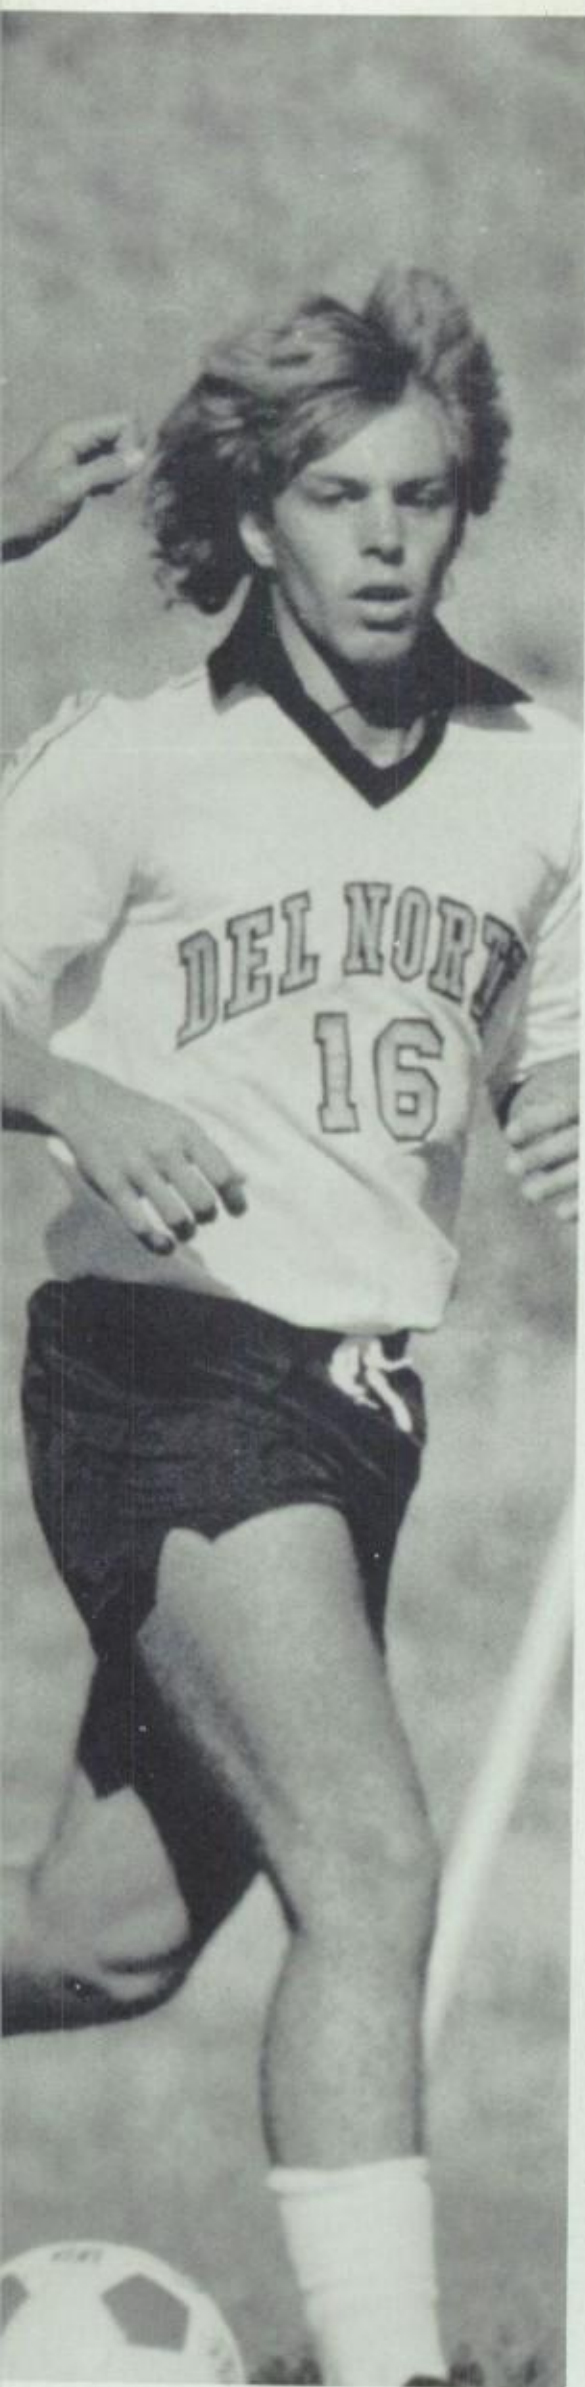

Then came the game that put Del Norte into the win column. Against Valley, Del Norte played tough and shut out the valley vikings 3-0. Going for two in a row with Sante Fe next,

Del Norte worked hard and came out on top again with a tough fought 3-2 victory.

St. Pius was next. The Sartans, who finished the season with a 12-3 record, were highly favored to win. Coach Pino states that "Four key players were out and we played a quite well-balanced game." The final score was an impressive 0-0 tie with the St. Pius Team.

Del Norte then fell on hard times, losing their last five games. Highland beat them 1-0, Academy rolled to an easy 9-0 victory, Manzano captured an 8-3 win Los Alamos claimed a hard fought match 5-1, and Cibola ended things with a 4-0 win over DN.

The bright points of the team, with a final record of 2-9-2, were captain Mark Husman, captain Paul Nelson, goalkeeper Joe Atencio, and defender Bruce Solberg. Also, Paul Nelson said this about their rookie coach, "The coach was great; he worked the team really hard."; Coach Emery Pino: "The team was hardworking, young, intelligent, and most of all, an enjoyable bunch of players."

This page: Mark Lane, goalie, kicks out the ball to a fellow teammate. Joe Burgess and Kevin DeVries both Junior Varsity get the ball out of a tight spot. Girls' Cross-Country

Running Determination

The cross-country team this year was really tough. The thing that contributed to the team's strength was the long, hard practices. "Even running out in the cold weather was fun, but rough, and it kept our blood flowing," said Sophomore Rose Ann Romero.

The runners for Varsity were Denise McCallister, and Renee McKinny, Seniors; Guyvina Loddy, Chelsea McIntyre, Melanie Patten, Juniors; Leslee Barret, and April Romero, Sophomores; and Freshman Cary Avalos. At the end of the season they were ranked third in district. "They tried hard to go to state, but missed it by three points for the second year," said Coach John Haaland.

The Junior Varsity team consisted of Lesley Gray, Junior; Laura Bresson, Angelica Lovato, Rose Ann Romero, and Cheri Sadler, Sophomores; and Cassie Schaffer, Freshman.

Chelsea McIntyre, Del Norte's top runner was champion. She was fifth runner-up at district; and eighth in state.

Both Varsity and Junior Varsity ran courses that were two-and-eight-tenths of a mile or three miles long. Each course had hills, sand, or was flat.

Each week Junior Varsity fought for the top positions challenging the Varsity squad for their spots. This did strengthen the team, making them more competitive.

Boys' Cross-Country

Running Hard

This years Boys' Cross Country team fell upon hard times. Head Coach Nevelos said, "We have a strong team, it's just illness and outside responsibility have hurt the team." Another factor was not enough runners, "We have one of, if not the best, runner in the state. We just don't have the quality runners to back him up and place him in a meet."

Yet another let down was just before the state cross-country meet. Senior and defending State Champion, Glen Morgan fell ill and was not able to practice before the next meet. Despite the illness, Glen came on strong and finished second. When asked if the loss bothered him Glen said, "Not at all, winning comes with losing and the illness weakened me and I lost."

Although Del Norte's two top runners are leaving, next year's team looks promising with such runners as Adrian Hoglin, Marvin Estill and Nick Gonzales.

Girls' Volleyball

Tough Teams

From C-team to JV to Varsity, girls' volleyball had a winning year.

The Varsity girls had been called a tough team and through the season, they proved this to be true. Coach Kim Horton began this year as the girls' Varsity Coach, and she had many new ideas that helped and improved the team. One of those ideas was to begin practice in mid-August; a head start gave the team that extra edge they needed to defeat many of their opponents.

The girls' JV volleyball team also had a new coach this year. Terri Nielson, a former volleyball team member at UNM, developed the team into a well-disciplined, talented group of girls, worthy of the district's toughest opponents. Coach Nielson helped lead the girls to one of their most exciting seasons.

The C-team had a rocky start this year, but new coach Becky Lucke made sure the girls learned and improved from every game. By the end of the season, each team member showed herself to be ready and capable for future JV and Varsity teams.

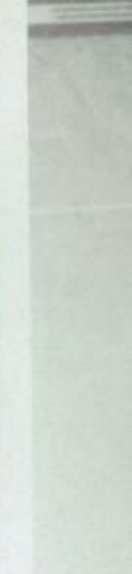

On the whole, it was a successful year for girls' volleyball. Through their wins and losses, each team improved to the best of their ability.

Boys' Volleyball

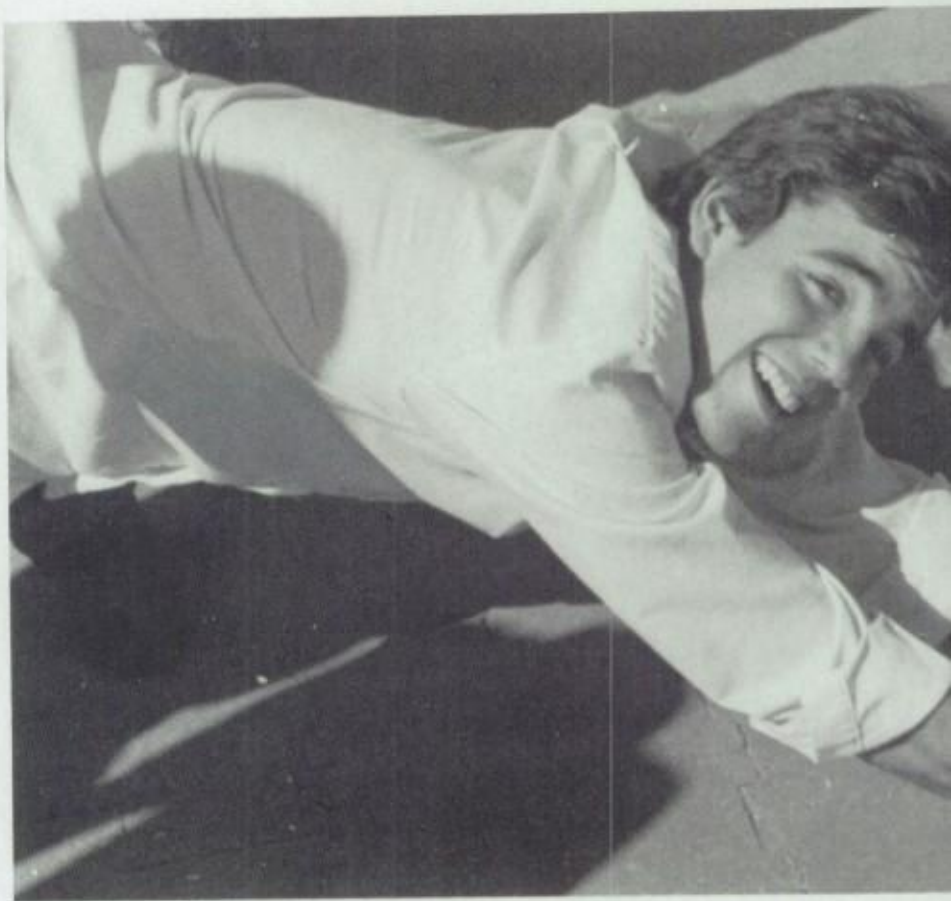

Terrific Effort

Hitting the ball with terrific force across the net to fierce opponents on the other side was a scene familiar to boys' volleyball.

Boys' Volleyball started late this year. As an intramural sport, the team had to wait until all other sports were out of the gym. It wasn't until the middle of March that the volleyball team began practice.

Hard work and determination made up for any lost time. Practicing everyday after school for several weeks got the team in shape and sharpened their skills for opponents from Sandia, Eldorado, and Manzano.

The team made a terrific effort to bring pride and recognition to Del Norte. They did not fail in their goal.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

Adjusting Year

Not only was this Mr. Phil Baca's first year at Del Norte as a special education teacher, but it was also his first year as coach of the girls' Varsity Basketball team. "This year was fun. It was a challenge. The girls worked hard, and anytime you have people working hard at a team sport, the players and coaches both are going to have fun," said Coach Baca.

"We're like a great big family. Like all families we have our differences, but we always can pull it together," said Junior Felicia Serna. And pull it together they did, finishing one of their most trying seasons with 12 victories and 10 losses.

The team's most auspicious players were Hazel Tull who is 6'2" and Heather Packer who towers at 6'4". They were the inside players while the starting ball handlers were Marion Griego, Tina Waddles, Antoinette Valencia and Pam Chavez. Felicia Serna and Rochelle Harris were the hot outside shooters and Alicia Englemann was the lone JV player brought up for the varisty team because of her talent and ability.

"I think adjusting to the new coach was difficult at times, but being as close as our team is, we always managed to pull through," commented Junior, Tina Waddles.

J.V. Basketball

Hard to Beat

The JV and C team had a great year. They surprised everyone by how well they did with such young team members. They have proved that next year the teams will be hard to beat.

The Junior Varsity basketball team had an excellent beginning. They opened their season with a great victory over Sandia. They then went on to defeat Valley with a score of 43-36. The season went well after that. Their final win was in an impressive game against Cibola with a victory of 51-24. The JV team has proven to be an impressive Varsity team next year.

The C team also showed great potential for next year's JV team. They had a 9-10 record which illustrated great potential for such a young team. The girls' favorite game was undoubtedly the one against arch-rival Sandia. The score was 42-30.

"The first time players had a good attitude and improved because they played for learning," concluded Coach Baca.

Varsity Basketball

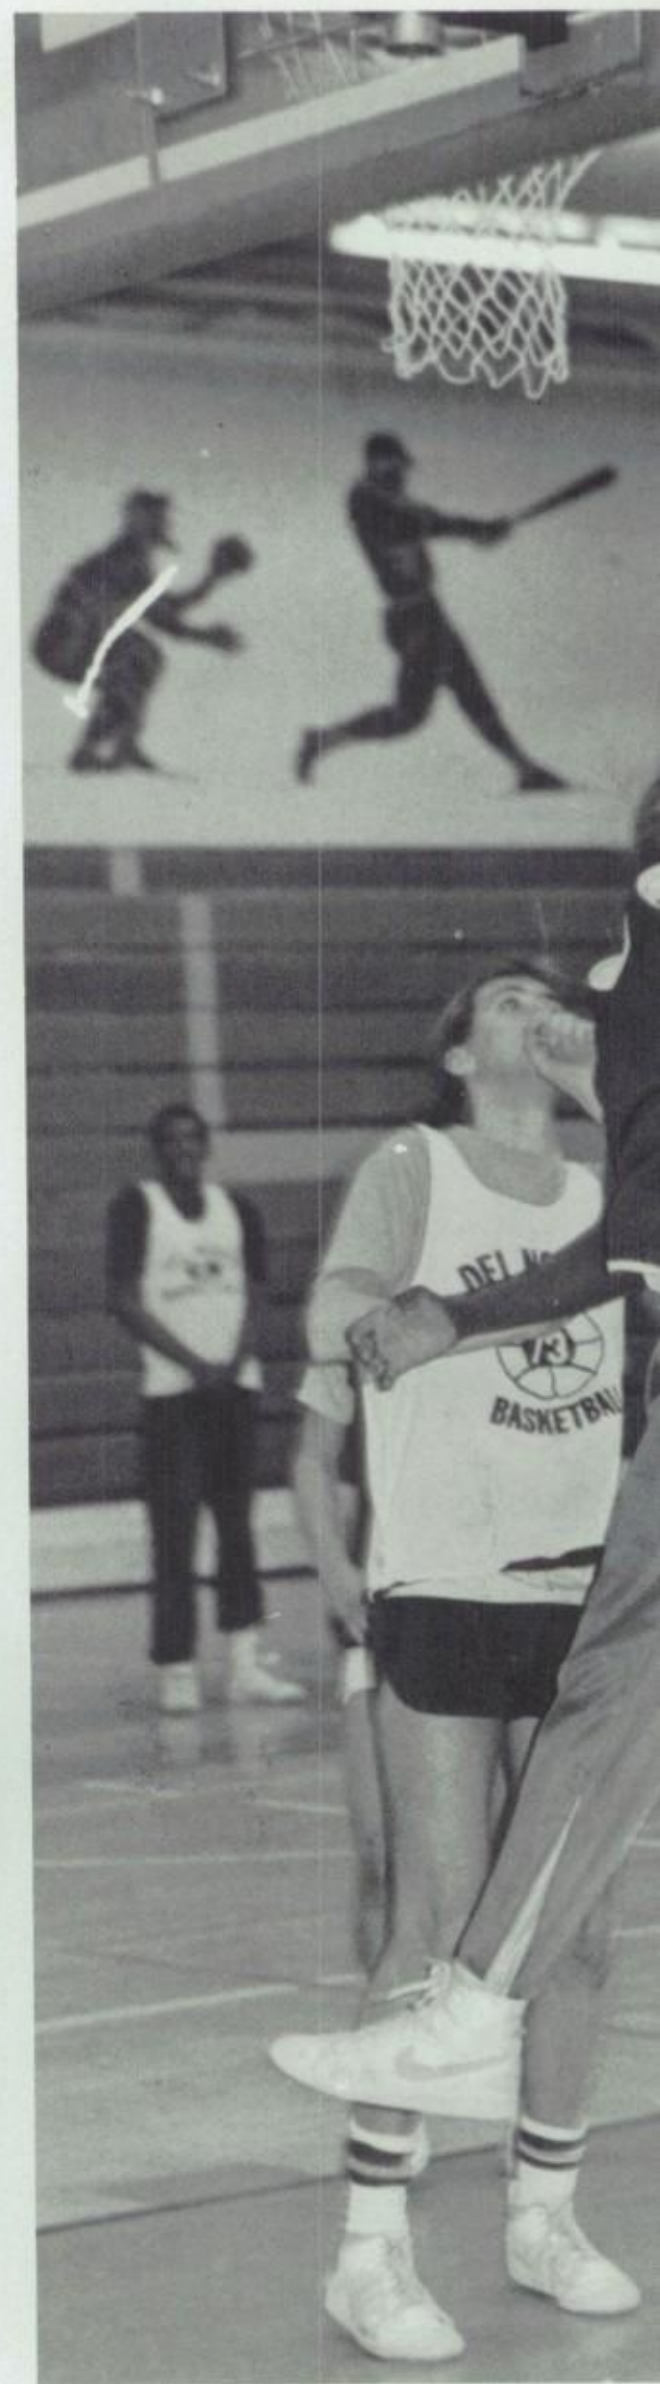

Thrilling!

This year's Varsity team gave Knight fans many thrilling moments. With a crew consisting of seven seniors, Coach Pino put together a basketball program which, in his words, is "a complete turn-around from last season's 5-18 team."

The seniors were #13 Jerry Silva, #15 Doug Bolich, #23 Andrew Engelman, #33 Bruce Harney, #43 Bob Troutman, #45 Chris Beaver, and #51 Ken Wilson. Dedicating themselves to the team, these seven seniors decided to have a winning season and Coach Pino gives credit to the players as being the pulse of the team.

The DN coaches combined the spirit of the younger team members and the experience of the seniors to develop a winning attitude for the players. The pre-season aspirations were high and this talent-laden Knight team was successful in upholding its goals.

The high point of the season was the win over Los Alamos who was, at one point, ranked number one in the state. In Los Alamos, the DN Varsity team overthrew the Hilltoppers 57-47. Also, the Knight's were successful in beating Santa Fe in Santa Fe 65-51. This year's team played well on the road as well as in the Knight's castle.

Determination

The Del Norte Junior Varsity Basketball team had an excellent year. In August, the team went to summer league at UTEP in El Paso where they learned many valuable skills. By the end of January, the JV team had a solid record of 10 wins and 2 losses.

The JV team was fortunate to have many outstanding players including sophomores Scott Deal and Carlos Etheredge as the top rebounding, Matt Page, Marcos C de Baca, Gary Trujillo, Joe Maestas, David Kibbee, Ron Crosby, and Richard Sedillo as the skillful guards, and Gary Trujillo leading the offense.

JV Coach Cip Portillos felt this year was one of his most rewarding. "I've been coaching since 1981, and this has been one of the hardest working groups that I've had the pleasure of being associated with. This group will not only excel at Del Norte, but in all walks of life."

The C-Team had an extremely successful season by capturing the city championship and finishing with the best won loss record in the history of Del Norte High School. Under the direction of Coach Frank Griego, the C-Team established the best record of any sophomore team in the history of the school. The team was led by the strong inside play of Jessie Becton and the perimeter shooting and guard play of Danny Rudolph and Sonny Ice. Wings Richard Watts and Ruben Griego provided additional scoring balance. These players should provide for a solid nucleus of players for the varsity and junior varsity teams next season.

The Freshmen basketball team completed a very successful season with a record of 8 wins and only 4 losses. Under the direction of Coach Dan Serrano, the freshmen team was able to finish in third place in the city standings with the strong inside play of D.J. Ellison and the outside play of Michael Mendoza. Allen Maestas contributed with rebounding and Jason Hill was the point guard.

During practice, the team members compete against each other.

Wrestling

Winning Moves

This year's varsity wrestling team started off the season determined to be even better than the previous year. Following that goal, this year they also finished a good season with a record of 8-2.

Led by wrestlers Tony Triviso, Glen Macy, John Bell, Dennis Trujillo, and senior co-captains Todd Hileman and Mike Salway, the Knights were ready to go for it all this year.

Things were going well until the weekend of January 20 when wrestler Dennis Trujillo was fatally injured in a motorcycle accident. This was a great loss to the team since he was having such a good record (10-8), not to mention the loss they felt of their friend. The team had a hard time adjusting to life without him, as could be expected.

The highlight of the season was February 20 when the Knights hosted the state wrestling tournament. Wrestlers placing in the tournament were Tony Triviso, third place, 98 lbs., Mike Salway, sixth place, 132 lbs., Todd Hileman, fourth place, 155 lbs., and John Bell, fifth place, heavyweight.

As for next year, the outlook even better. Only three of this year's starters are graduating and John Bell, David Sandoval, Tony Triviso, Glen Macy, Coyle Domina, and Harry Lopez are returning. If the team performs half as well as they did this year, they have nothing to worry about next season!

Gymnastics

Tumbles!

This year's gymnastic team tumbled away the season. The team consisted of nine members. Two of the members were returning gymnasts Katie Evans and Elizabeth Zimmerman. The two assistant coaches were Laura Bertram and Angela Castro. Laura and Angela are very dedicated to the sport. They were on the team for four years and have come back to help the team.

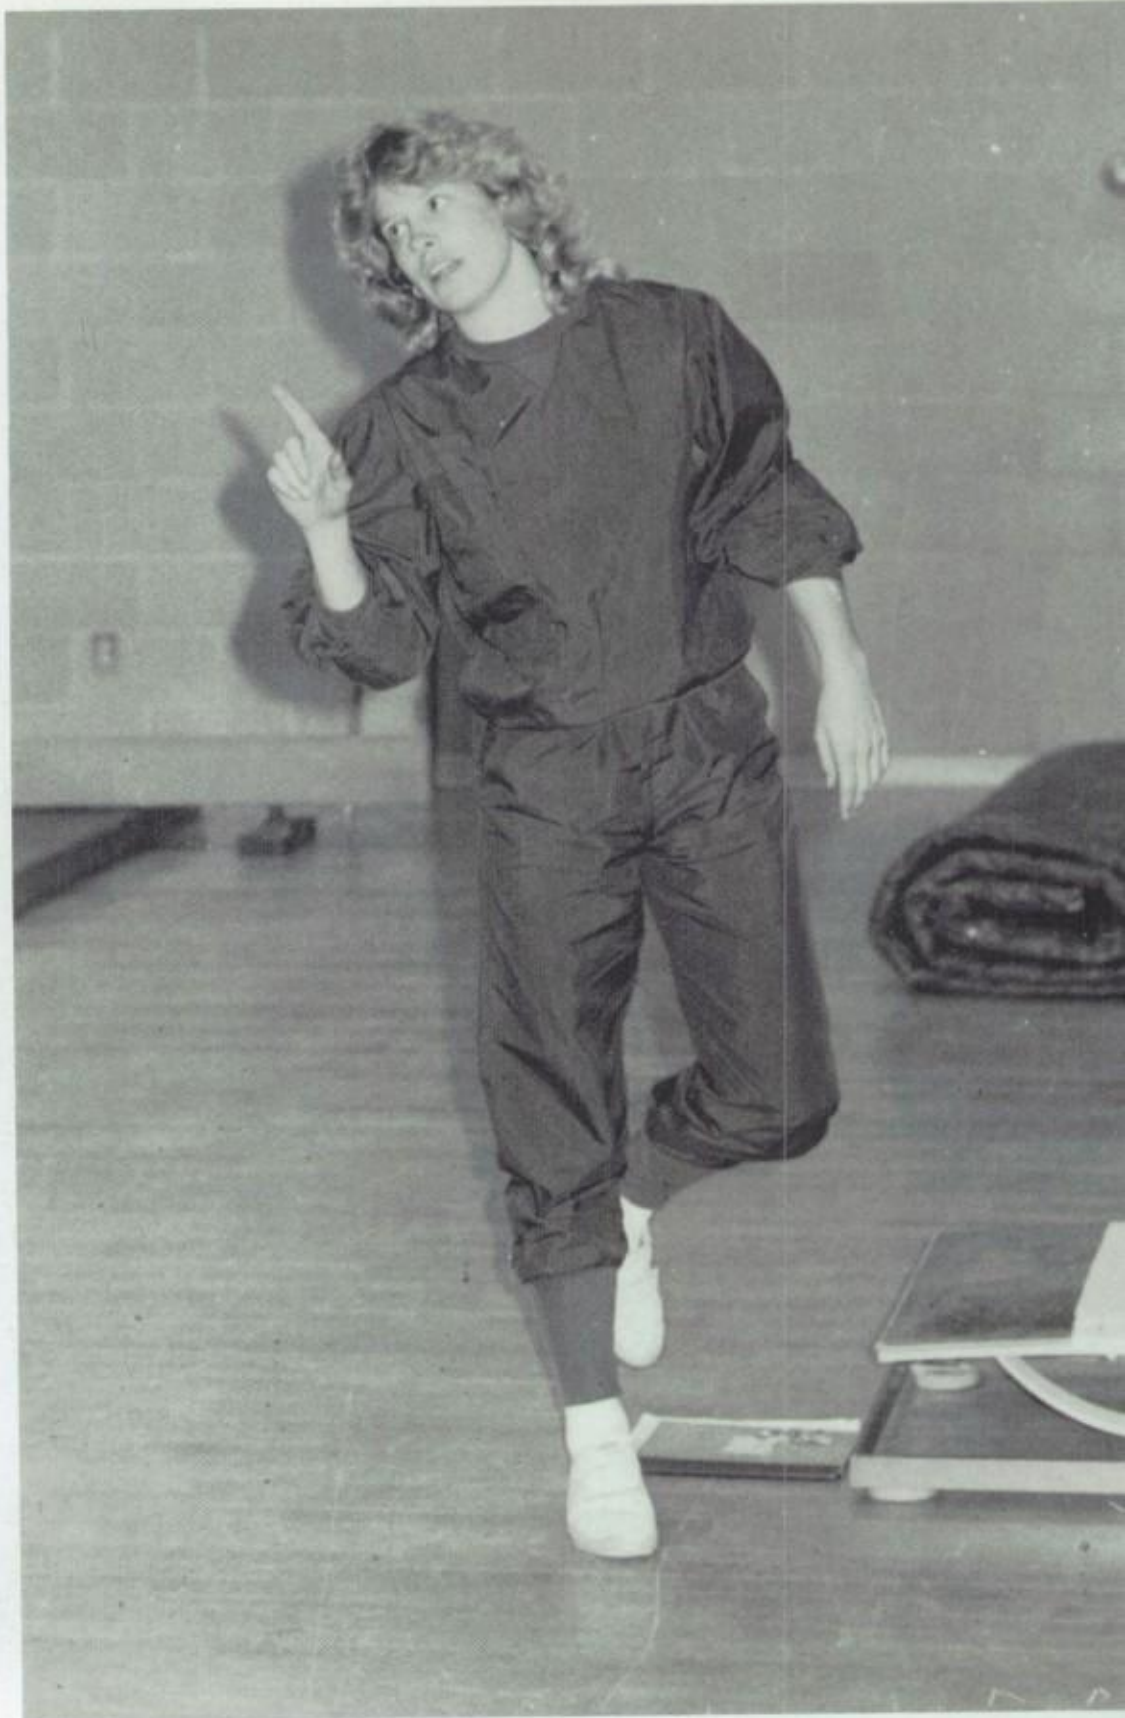

The girls practice six days a week to compete against other schools at meets which are held once a week. They choose an event such as the floor, the uneven bars, the balance beam, or the vault. They then compete as an individual against someone from another school in their same event.

Swimming

What a Splash!

"Be ye King or queen, nobleman or peasant, thou shalt not sink!" This is what you might hear when attending a Del Norte swim meet. Being undercast, and for the most part outclassed, the aquatic Knights went to battle with vengeance in their eyes.

Nate La Zar, Eric Olsen and David Lewis were the stars of the boys' squad while Michelle Edger and Alyssa Bearce donated their royal talent to the girls.

But often when the shining armor of these talents were tarnished from battle, it was the hungry first year swimmers that gave their contenders a fright.

These fighters are Scott Barnard for fly, David Peck for breast, Bill Pino with free and Walter Rendell on backstroke.

But what kept them pushing on? It was the courage of the returning swimmers. Swimmers like Jenette Isaacson, Felicia Schulte, Mike Burianek, Stephen Ledford, team captain Steve Haives and two who will probably be heard much of next year, Charles Mascarenas and Kendra Gray. The brains behind the brawn were coaches Philip and Lynda Paulsen.

Diving was accomplished through the one man team of Bob Scholl. Next year when you go to a meet don't be surprised to see an almost entire team of returning lettermen, and to hear this favorite motto "Mighty Warriors!"

Girls' Track

Excellent Traditions

The tradition of excellence continued this year with the girls' track team. Under the supervision of Coach John Haaland, the team developed the tremendous talent they had.

After completing an outstanding indoor track season, the team prepared for the outdoor meets which eventually led up to the state track meets.

The team began preparing months in advance of their first meet to live up to the high standards they had set for themselves. Standards and goals were what the team was all about. Each time they attained one goal, they set a harder, higher one.

Qualities which were important to the team included endurance, speed, and strength.

As they have in previous years, and as they will undoubtedly continue to do in future years, the girls' track team brought a great deal of pride and recognition to Del Norte.

Boys' Track

Crossing the Line

If you didn't attend the track meets this year thinking that they were long and uneventful, you don't know what you missed!

The star of the team this year was, of course, Glen Morgan. During nearly every meet, Glenn could be seen leading the pack in the distance races. The excellence of Del Norte's boys track team did not lie only in the distance runners. Sprinters, discus and javelin throwers, and hurdlers practiced hours on end everyday after school to make their team the best around. Did their hard work and dedication pay off? Victories in every event made the answer a definite "Yes."

The glory of crossing the finish line first was experienced by most of the team. However, the glory did not come easily. In the bitter cold months of January and February, the team was training outside while most other sports were practicing in the warm gym.

If you were one of the lucky and loyal Knight fans who did attend the track meets, you can well appreciate the effort that the boys' track team put into their sport to be the best.

Trainers

Athletic Assistance

A group of ten student trainers, under the direction of Certified Trainer Leigh Lookingbill, offer care for sports-related injuries involving Del Norte's athletes.

These trainers include Nick Gonzalez, April Robero, Laura Bresson, Leslie Barrett, Kelli Ortiz, Michelle Crespín, Brenda LaBonte, Anna Fernandez, and Senior trainers Lisa Long and Joe Vivian.

"The athletic training staff has done an exceptional job this year. The number of competent student trainers tripled and made my job a great deal easier," said Lookingbill.

Each trainer spends up to 20 hours weekly helping Lookingbill with evaluations, first care, and long range rehabilitation of athletes' injuries. They attend practices and games to keep an eye out for injured players, provide water for the teams, and travel on all of the road trips.

"This year has been a great one for the training staff. Everyone worked together as one, despite the large numbers. Del Norte is lucky to have an excellent trainer like Leigh Lookingbill," said Vivian.

The trainers' room is always full of injured athletes.

GOLFERS!

Paul Sackett, the coach of the boys' golf team for nine years now, feels that, "These men competing this year have a year's more experience, which will help them achieve their goals as well as the team's goals—that is, to make it to the state tournament."

As far as this team compared to previous teams Coach Sackett has coached, he feels that, "As far as wanting to perform well, they rank high comparably. As far as talent, they do not, as of yet have the skills and temperament to be compared with previous teams. Each team has their own unique characteristics!"

Coach Sackett hopes that he will "have more individuals attempt to try out for the team."

He would like to implement a class in the physical education program which would in turn create an interest in the program and also increase (people's) knowledge of golf.

Mr. Ron Warren has taught at Del Norte for seven years. He not only teaches health and physical education, but also helps coach football and is the head coach of the girls' golf team.

He has coached the girls' golf team for the past five years. This year coach Warren says that, "This team is very young and inexperienced." He added, "That will make it all the more challenging and they will have to concentrate all the harder in order to do their best."

Mr. Warren earned a degree from Western New Mexico and U.N.M. He is also interested in baseball and softball. Warren says, "Del Norte is a great school with good teachers and students. We have excellent administrators who are very supportive of athletics and set high standards for all to meet. This is what makes Del Norte such a great school!"

Varsity Tennis

DN Shufflin' Crew

The 1986 boys' tennis team strolled into the season sporting five returning players and seven new players. The experienced DN returnees were Bruce Solberg, Mark Lobitz, Keun Kyu Yi, Brian Sieck, and Alan Eaker. Making the list for the first time were Richard Cooley, a freshman with some experience on the court; John Skinner, a transfer from Los Alamos who was ranked in Northern New Mexico; Carlos Montavlo who recently moved from Philadelphia where he was one of the leading players; and Gabe Juric, Stan Parks, and Pat Guerra who were all glittering additions to the team.

This year's coach, David Sooter, is an alumnus of Del Norte. He graduated in 1982 when he led the tennis team to one of its best years ever. He's coached the boys' tennis team since 1984 and has given the team all of his support.

The girls' tennis team looked forward to a winning season. With only one returning senior, Susan Williams, many of the younger players lacked experience but made up for it with enthusiasm.

Art Burton, the girls' coach is a DN graduate with two years of team credit. He left DN in 1982 and returned to share his experience by coaching the girls' tennis team.

"The '86 tennis season brought together a very young girls' squad. But through hard work and determination these girls have shown the dedication needed to succeed at developing their abilities and skills," said coach Art Burton.

The team members were Tammy Booze, Jeni Glatt, Muriel Parkes, Kristi Grayson, Glenda White, Jeanette Richard, Rachel Utley, Carolyn Utley, Wendi Wettlin, Sunny Plont, Justine Tijerna, Ime Eldridge, and Susan Williams. Ime and Susan combined the most experienced as they are both tournament players. Susan, ranked in Northern New Mexico, won the Apache Junior Open in Ruio-doso, and Ime played in a variety of tournaments. Although the rest of the players were not quite as auspicious, they will be a huge asset to the future DN tennis program.

Varsity and JV Softball

Going for Goals

The Del Norte softball team has been rated in the top ten for the last five years.

Varsity Baseball

Victory after Victory

Each season, the baseball team seems to get better. This year was no exception. The talent of this year's Varsity baseball team seemed too good to be true. The team which consisted of such great players as Fidel Luna, Jason Jones, and Tim Reed left the opposing teams wondering what hit them.

Many hard weeks of training gave the team an enviable winning record, which was aided by the excellent coaching staff consisting of Coach Miller, Coach Roselle, and Coach Pennington.

After last year's close state playoff games, crowd attendance was greatly increased. Knight fans were not let down as the team scored run after run and victory after victory.

Win or lose, the baseball team was a source of great pride for Del Norte.

Practice Pays Off

Have you ever wondered what makes the Varsity baseball team so good? It's all of the hard work and long hours the players put in on the JV team.

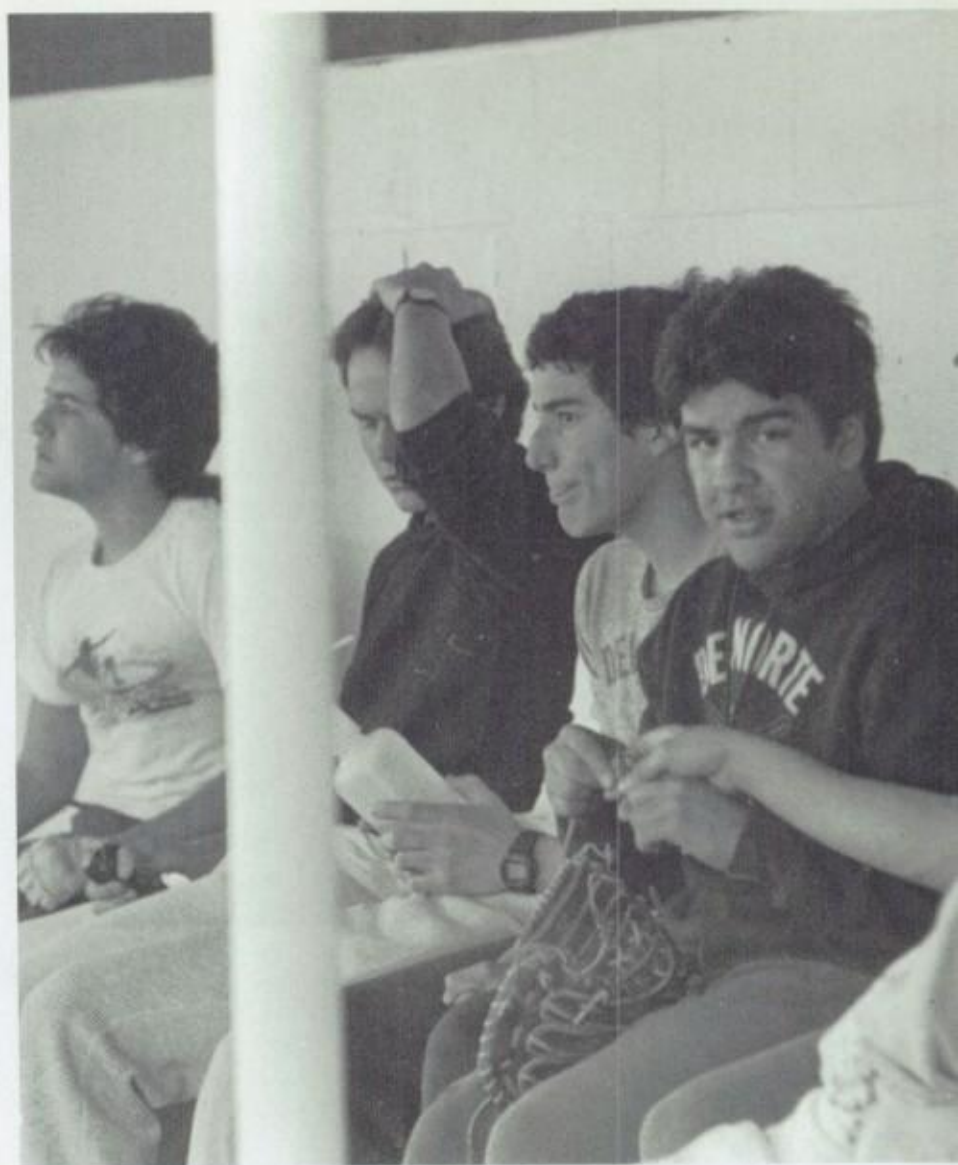

Coach Pennington, in charge of the JV team, worked with the underclassmen players to ensure that they would be well prepared when they reached the Varsity level.

Practicing with the Varsity team also helped JV learn and improve.

The long after-school practices paid off. The JV players' devotion was obvious to each of their opponents. An excellent season will undoubtedly lead to future Varsity victories. In the years to come, look out State Championships!

Marvelous Minds

Each year a new group of outstanding students qualify to be inducted into the National Honor Society.

These students must have a four semester cumulative grade point average of 3.5 and express ample leadership and scholarship ability. NHS, sponsored by Ms. Lenore Pardee, met the first Thursday of every month at 7:30 AM to plan exciting activities for Del Norte. The activities this year included Think Fast, a competition between groups formed from the student body; the Talent Show; the Morp Dance, this is where the girls ask the boys out; and decorating the Del Norte Christmas tree. The money raised from these various fulfilled projects went to award prominent seniors with scholarships at the end of the school year.

The National Honor Society officers for the 85-86 school year were Todd Weathersby—president, Christina Rodriguez—vice president, Kristine Wherle—secretary, and Eldon Staggs—sergeant at arms.

Ms. Pardee, sponsor, listens intently to the club's nominations. Senior Eldon Staggs laughs at the different suggestions for fundraisers. NHS officers: Christina Rodriguez—vice president, Todd Weathersby—president, Eldon Staggs—sergeant at arms, Kristine Wherle—secretary

Recognizing Knights

What is Excalibur? Excalibur is Del Norte's #1 Club which recognizes people for a job well done. Excalibur recognized deserving Knights including students, teachers, and staff members who went out of their way to make Del Norte a better place.

This honorary club has been at Del Norte for two years honoring those who have done a little extra.

"It emphasizes the fact that a school community is made up of many people who contribute to the school's excellence," said Mrs. Lett, organizer of Excalibur.

Every week nominations were given to a group of students called the Excalibur selection committee. The selection committee read through the nominations and chose up to five deserving Knights, who were awarded a pin and a certificate for their hard work. Those who were not chosen received a letter thanking them for their contributions.

The Knights are honored in many different ways, but Excalibur honored those that normally would not have been recognized.

Nominating a person for Excalibur, Dina Jaramillo, junior, puts an Excalibur nomination form in the box.

Sparkling Interests

"Right on! THE LANCE is coming out today," said one student in 3rd period.

Even though his enthusiasm was only for the Burger King coupons, this year's staff, with hard work and long hours, did manage to spark more interest in the students, teachers, and community.

"We've gotten a lot more response," said Managing Editor David Munar, junior. "It's because we've improved so much in the past three years," he said.

Because of last year's popularity, the size of this year's staff increased from 16 to 26 students.

According to four year advisor Kathy Parsons, "The enlarged staff meant that we had better stories because there was continual competition for space."

"The variety of interests, depth of ideas, and teamwork is what made the 85-86 LANCE the best since I've been with the paper," she added.

"When you work with 25 different creative people, you realize that each one has a special, usable talent. I feel we used those talents to our best benefit this year," said Editor-in-Chief Darcy Pulliam.

"We even had outside talents asking if they could contribute to the paper. That was a neat feeling for us," she added.

Pulliam said, "My biggest goal was to create a better quality newspaper. With quality we were able to create a larger readership and a better paper."

Darcy Pulliam, Editor, makes sure every article is professionally written

Creating the Difference

The 1985-1986 Yearbook Staff was a spectacular team this year. They got together and put every person's ideas to work to make the best Pavilion. At every event or activity Del Norte participated in, someone from the yearbook staff was there.

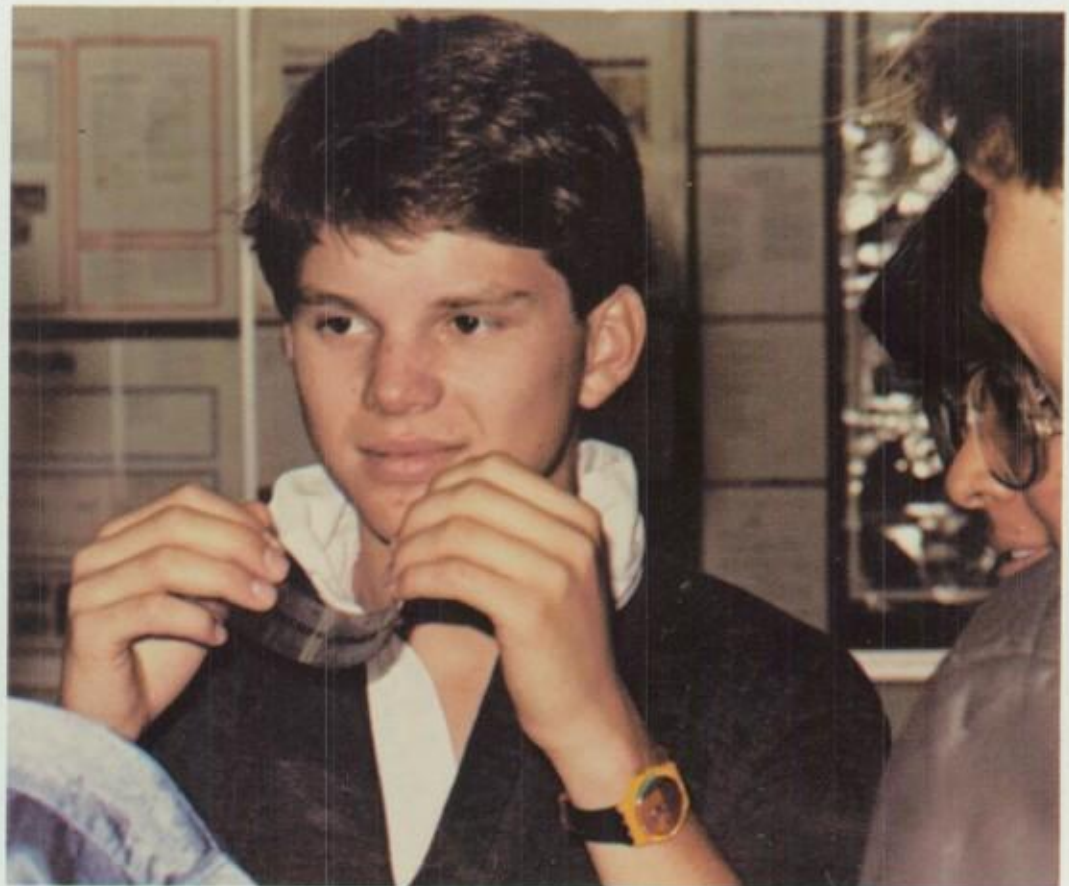

Many times the staff stayed in for lunch putting things together or trying to make a deadline. "It seemed like when we were working for a deadline we settled down and strived hard to make it. That's when our best work came out," said Yvette Blair, a writer on the yearbook staff.

This year's Yearbook Editor was Michelle Myers. Three assistant editors were Roger Burnett—Sports;

Dina Jaramillo—Underclassmen; and Melanie Patten—Clubs and Organizations. The Senior Section Editor was Christina Rodriguez, and the Art Editor was Kevin Gant.

This year's yearbook staff worked on updating the Pavilion with the times. "Changing the theme from a traditional one to one that captured the spirit and rowdiness of Del Norte was a big move for the staff, but through hard work and determination the difference has become exciting!" said Michelle Myers.

"The yearbook is pure pandemonium, but it is more fun every year," said Mrs. Wood, the sponsor of the Pavilion.

Editor of the Senior Section Christina Rodriguez in all of her glory. "A breather on deadline night is always a help," sighs Senior Beth Lennox. Art Editor Kevin Gant and his creative genius.

Spirited Castelles Come Through for Del Norte.

The Del Norte State Champion Castelles are one of the most active groups at Del Norte. Their colors shine through at assemblies and pep rallies as well as many other activities. They cheered our football team and other sport teams on to victories. The Castelles attended the football games as well as the out of town trips to Farmington, Gallup and Santa Fe. "They're fun to watch. They're entertaining and they really support the Del Norte athletics," said Judy Perkins and Lori Blomker.

Over the summer the Castelles attended the USA Drill Team Camp. The girls received a "superior" trophy. In the early fall the drill team members scored high marks in the State Fair parade. The Pageant of Bands is an activity the Castelles attended to support the marching band, the Phantom Knights. Later on the State Champion Castelles went to the Zia Marching Festival.

The Castelles put in a great amount of hard work and dedication every day. Practices were held in the mornings and in the afternoons. All that hard work has definitely paid off. In the past fifteen years that Mrs. Graham has sponsored the Castelles, they have never placed lower than third in the State competition. Mr. Bass feels, "the Castelles are a great and fantastic group. They have represented our school as State Champs the last two years in a row and we are very proud of them."

Jackie Graham observes her creations.

Spirit Shines On Shining to Victory

The Del Norte Varsity Cheerleaders' spirit shone through everywhere they went. Whether it was on the field, in an assembly, or just in class, their spirit could not be stopped.

This year's varsity squad consisted of four Seniors: Jennifer Case, Chelsea Fox, Mandy Hinkle, and Karla Hodge. There were also three juniors: Dana Ambuehl, Stephanie Barrack, and Katie Eaton. The cheerleaders were sponsored by Cindy Martinez who has been a dedicated sponsor for the past three years.

This the cheerleaders were fortunate enough to attend the NCA (National Cheerleaders Association) clinic at UCLA. They spent two days at Disneyland before attending the clinic. They then spent four days and three nights at the clinic.

A lot of effort was put into fund raisers to help raise money for the trip. "The most important thing I learned at the NCA clinic this summer was the importance of technique. You can never be too stiff or smile enough," said Junior Stephanie Barrack.

Spirited Frosh & JV

The Del Norte Freshmen and J.V. Cheerleaders had a spectacular 1985-86 year. They cheered whether it was cold or hot, always showing their spirit.

The Freshmen cheerleaders were sponsored by Miss Rudeen, a student teacher for Miss Vandetti in the business department and a Del Norte graduate. The Cheerleaders were Kim Culler, Shannon Leavitt, Jeanne Otero, Michelle Sprunk, Kari Wall, and Vallie Zamora.

To raise money for pom poms and other things, they had car washes. "A lot of effort was put into the car washes," said Jeanne.

J.V. Cheerleaders, who were also sponsored by Miss Rudeen, were Traci Leuck, Sylura Montano, Nicole Navigate, Adele Ortega, Denise Pino and Rhonda Sandavol, "I think that it is fun to cheer in any kind of weather," said Denise Pino. "When it's cold is the best time. Cold weather makes me more rowdy because I am so cold that I want to get warm so I jump and get Rowdy."

Cheerleading is no easy job. The girls spend countless hours practicing. They attend most of the activities at Del Norte and manage always to keep their spirit high, cheering our teams on to many victories.

OEA—Running the Show

The Office Education Association is a National voluntary association for students who are enrolled in vocational business and office occupations education. OEA is a co-curricular activity that is an essential part of the educational program. This program is designed to develop leadership abilities, interest in the free enterprise system, and competency in office occupations within the framework of vocational and career education.

Del Norte's OEA has 30 proud members who participate in many community services.

In OEA, students learn fields related to office work such as job interviewing, speech, shorthand, and word processing among other things.

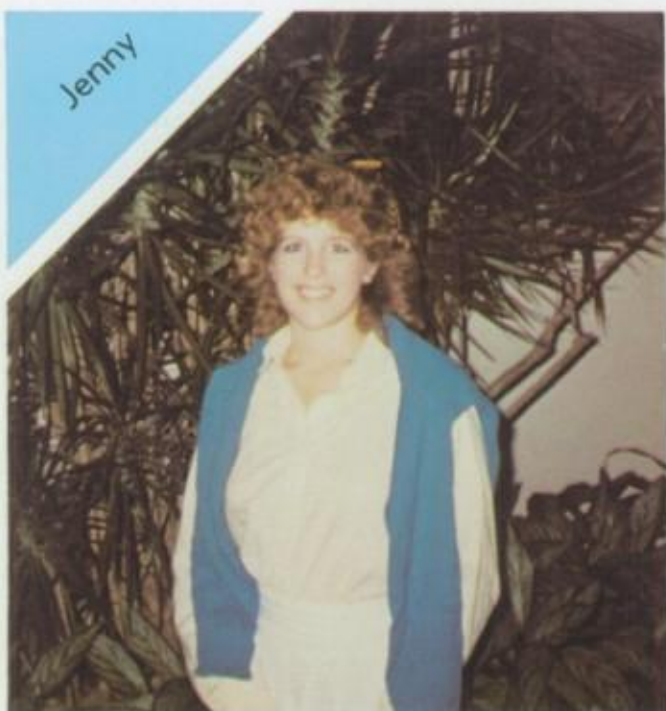

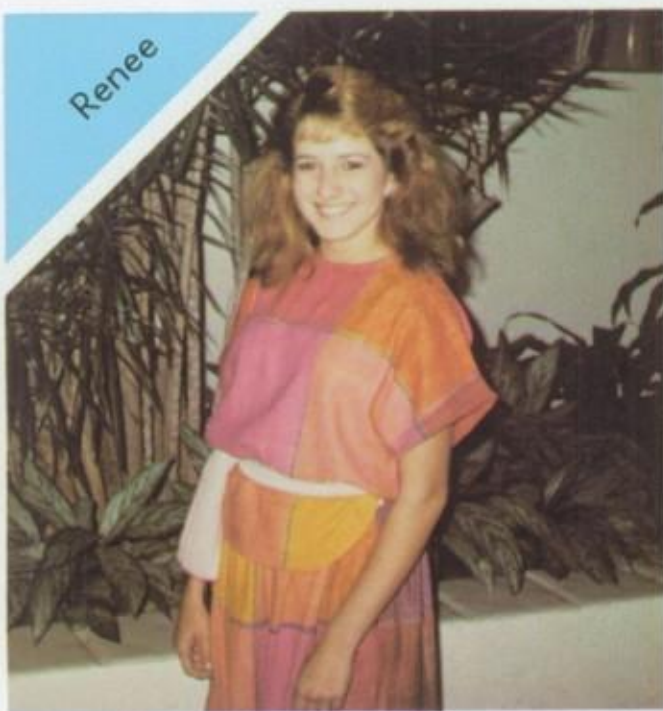

Mrs. Barrett, who sponsors OEA, says, "The kids run the show and are very active. When we're at competitions other sponsors always comment about how they can recognize Del Norte girls by their neat appearance and the mature way they carry themselves."

Studying intently are Melanie Mack, senior; Tisha Brooks, junior; and Tracy Knowlton. Merchandising is part of OEA.

Distributive Education Clubs of America, DECA, is offered Del Norte juniors and seniors. This year 55 students are club members.

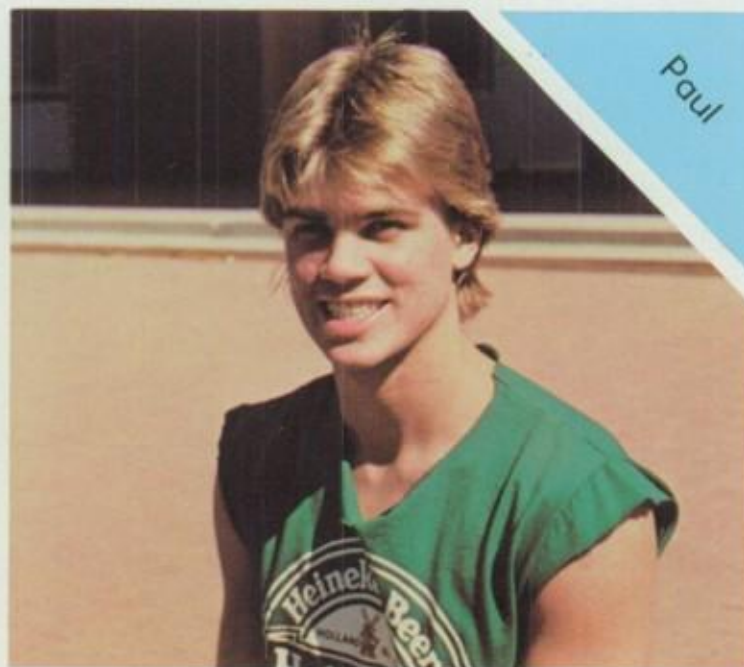

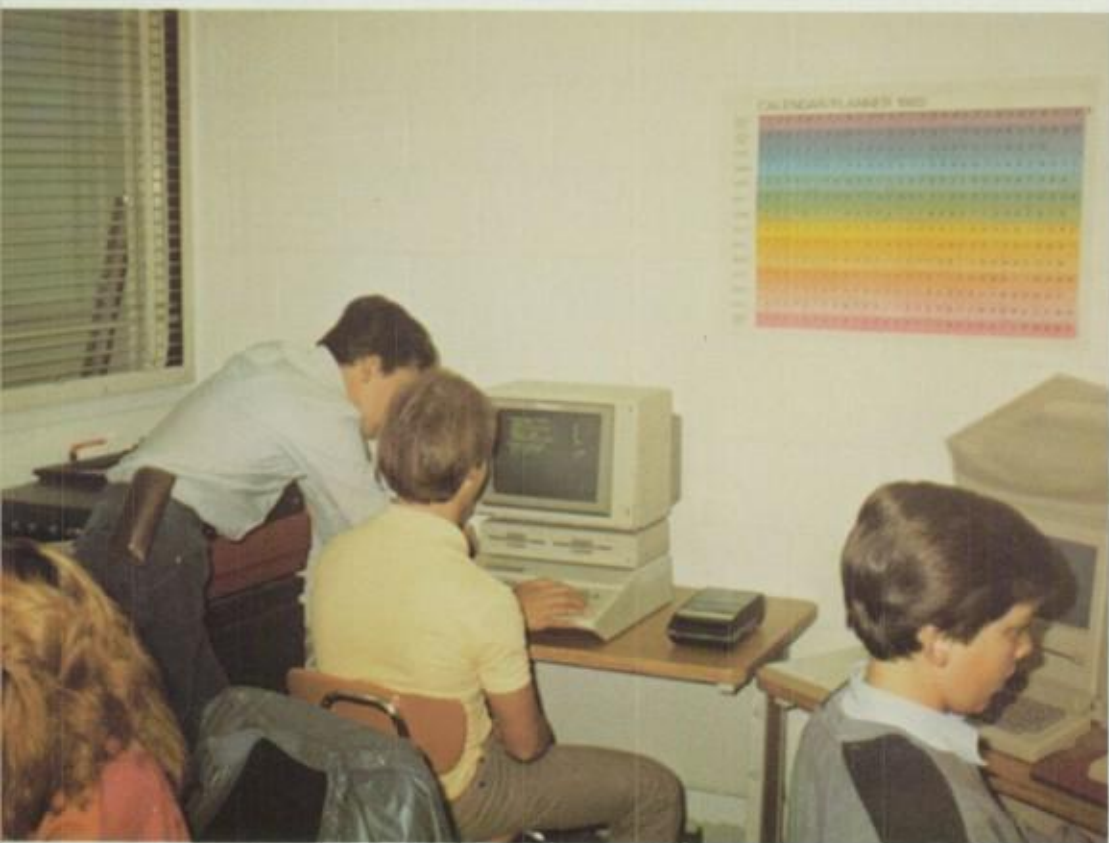

DECA is a very active group. Students in DECA take turns running the snack-bar. The funds raised from the snack-bar are used to send members to the district, state and national competitions. Other activities they put on are the annual can food drive and walk-a-thon. At Halloween was a fund raiser, also. The proceeds from the dance were given to help the children at the Ronald McDonald House.

Students joined DECA for various reasons. Dewan Campbell, senior and also DECA Historian, joined because she wanted to learn about marketing and business. Dewan believes, "DECA prepares you to go out into the business world with leadership and confidence." Casey Shipley, DECA President, believes, "DECA is an opportunity to prepare for the rest of your life and still earn credits in school."

Learning important skills and getting self-satisfaction are what some members got out of DECA. Casey learned, "In order to make a business or organization work, it takes everyone's help and participation. Everyone is as important as the next." Stephanie Parker, Vice President, thinks DECA is important: "It's helping people to do better business-wise and gives a lot of personal satisfaction."

Eight members were elected officers for the 1985-86 school year. They were Casey Shipley, President; Stephanie Parker, Vice President; Rene Hurtado, Secretary; Virginia Moncayo, Treasurer/Manager; Dewan Campbell, Historian; Paul Sekol, Reporter; and Sandra Romero as Junior Vice President.

All-around Performers

Performing skits that make people laugh, cry, and cheer is what the 1985-86 Del Norte Drama Club did.

The fifty members of the club produced five plays during the school year. Members either were part of the play's cast, or they helped backstage to make the productions run like clockwork.

During Halloween, the Drama Club created a Haunted House to raise money for the department. They attended theatre events together, helped work on and in plays, and settled down and enjoyed movies together.

"Drama Club members are hard workers and are excited to learn new things about the theatre. Our drama Department couldn't work as smoothly without them," said John Milholland, the sponsor of the club.

The Drama Club traveled to the All-City Play Festival in November and the Southwest High School Theatre Festival at UNM in January. The Best Thespian Awards were best actors in major roles, best actors in minor roles, and best all-around theatre people. The club members said, "I love it!", "Great!", and "It's a great way to meet people."

Drama students, Ginger Axtell, Becky Ross, and Crystal Jester are always clowning around. "Stick 'em up," says Aaron Swanson as William Styre screams for help.

Phantoms Prove to be "Winners"

"Winners are people who fulfill their potential 100% of the time." This philosophy, inspired by new band director, John Fannin, was the key to the Phantom Knight Marching Band's success. By placing in all of their competitions, including second place at the State Fair Parade, fifth place in the Parade of Champions at Las Cruces, and first runner-up at the Pageant of Bands, they proved their mettle.

In addition to their own competitions, their spirit shone at many school activities, such as football games and pep assemblies.

"This season has been great," said Jenny Jacobs, band president, "all of us were constantly "psyched." The early morning practices were a lot of work, but performing well at the competitions made up for it."

Breaking Records

A state record breaker which many people are unaware of is the Del Norte Staters Club. "This is a group of seniors which are recognized as having leadership qualities, an interest in the world around them, and are basically "tops" in their class," said sponsor, Dr. Cal Roberts.

The candidates tryout for this club during their Junior year.

The selection process takes input from the faculty, administration, and past Staters. A written current events test and a personal interview are also required. From this, delegates are chosen to participate in Girls' State, which was held in Roswell, and Boys' State, which was held in Socorro.

Tuesday—7:00 A.M.—you walk into a classroom with your eyes not yet open and your brain barely functioning, sit down and begin discussing issues pertinent to the school. This scenario is typical to one of the few, the proud, the tired, the members of Round Table.

Round Table is the executive board of ASA, consisting of the ASA officers, class presidents, and three people elected from each class. Their purpose is to set agenda for ASA and nominate student, organization, and teacher of the month. In addition, they put on a faculty luncheon and helped with an anti-drinking and driving campaign at Christmas.

ASA, the Associated Student Assembly, consists of representatives elected from each homeroom class. The Student Body President, Sam Lopez, and the Student body Vice-President, Kristene Wherele, conducted meetings every two weeks to deal with the problems and the interests of the students.

This year ASA organized the carnival in the fall, put trash cans in the student parking lot, and put on the Winter Ball. These are just a few of the accomplishments of ASA.

Other officers in ASA were Lisa Long (secretary), Christina Rodriguez (treasurer), Marya Beauvais (historian), and Todd Weathersby and Paul Jones (sergeant-at-arms).

Competing

Confidence, competitiveness, determination, poise, trophies, and friends from across the country? What is this? It's the speech team—the Jesters.

The jesters have approximately 70 members which is the largest team in the state. So many people participate because there are events for all types of people, such as debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, humorous and dramatic interpretations, impromptu, group improvisations, and humorous and dramatic duo.

For the past 7 years, the Jesters have taken 1st in the state meet 5 times, and 2nd in the state twice. The success of the team is also visible in that they have qualified at least 1 person to the National Meet for the past 10 years.

Sponsor Laurel Moore feels that forensics is one of the few activities that stresses knowledge and which teaches many skills that can be applied to all aspects of life. Mrs. Moore stated, "It's not the trophies the kids win that are important, but rather the knowledge and confidence that they gain which helps them throughout life."

The team competed in tournaments in New Mexico, Arizona, and Texas. The Jesters kept their excitement and winning traditions up throughout the year.

Leading Sophs

Leading the meetings of Sophomore Congress was Casey Joseph, class president. Sophomore Congress had many fundraisers, activities planned for the student body, and pride in their class.

Sophomore Congress had fundraisers in order to raise money to help create exciting activities for the students of Del Norte. Along with the other class, Sophomore Congress helped put on the Winter Ball. They contributed money, ideas, time, and effort.

Sophomore Congress had meetings regularly. The meetings were usually held in the mornings. "Morning meetings were rather nice," said Diana Corlew, "and we seemed to accomplish more because the meeting would not drag on; it had to end at 8:00, so we could get to class on time."

Trying to get more Sophomores involved with Del Norte as well as other grades was a main concern at Sophomore Congress meetings. Muriel Parks said, "We tried and sometimes succeed in coming up with ideas that made students want to get involved with Sophomore Congress or other clubs here at Del Norte."

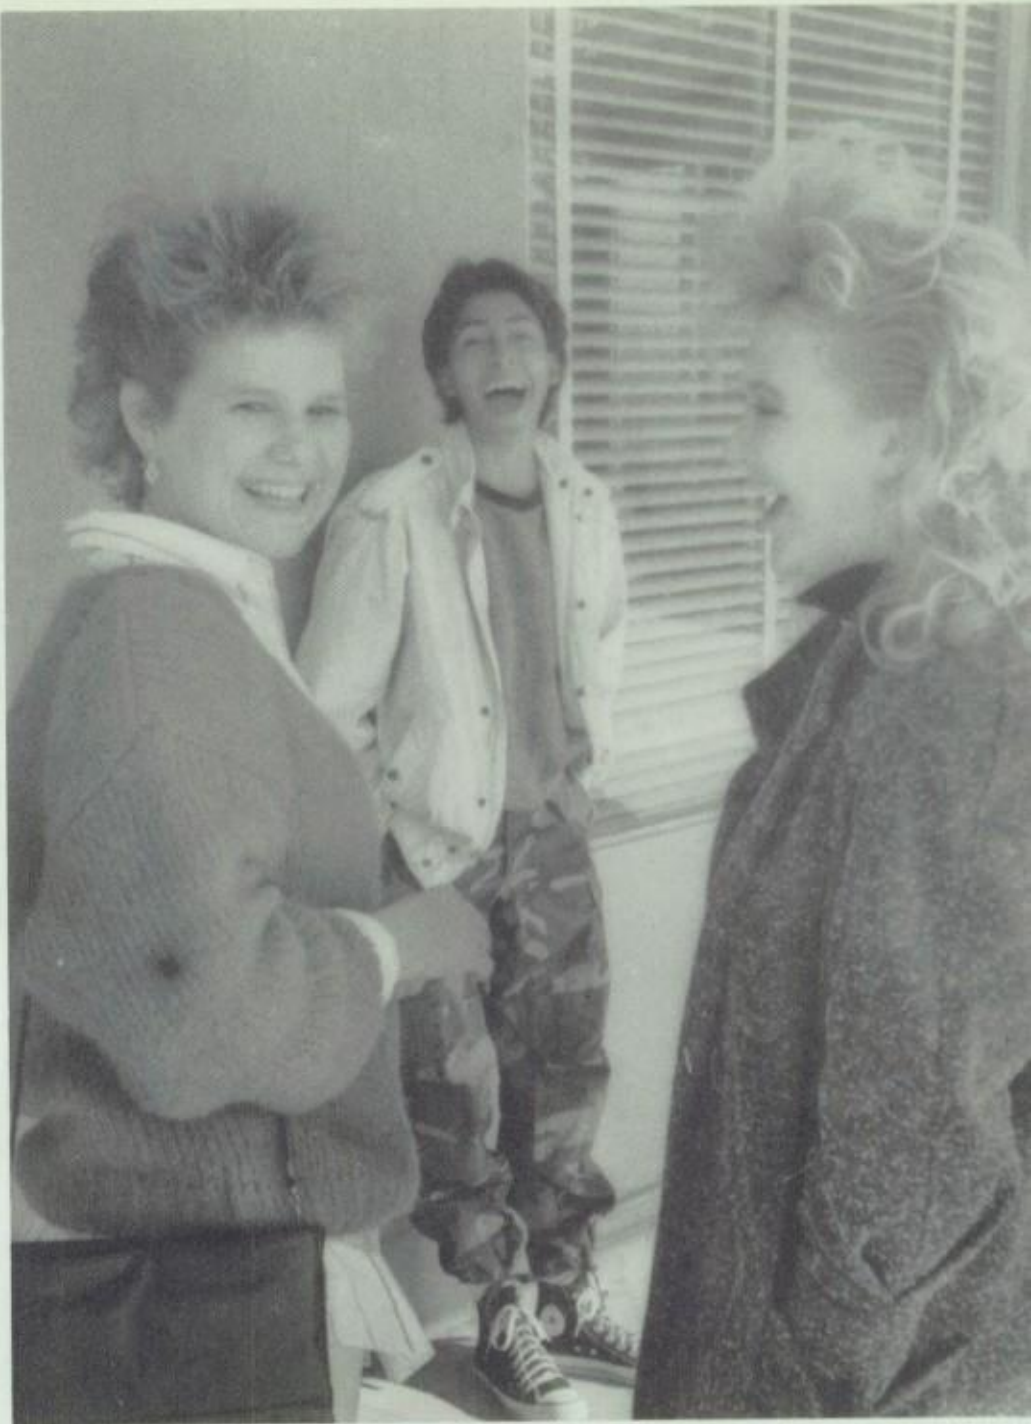

The officers are Casey Joseph—president, Robert Bettes—vice president; Jenny Glatt—secretary, Barclay Tucker—treasurer, Diana Corlew—historian, and Muriel Parkes—parliamentarian.

What a Start!

The Freshman Class started the year off with a bang. This explosion was due mainly to the terrific leadership qualities of the class officers. Raul Garay was the Frosh class president, Janice Burianek held the office of vice-president, Terese Lopez was the treasurer, Melinda Medina was secretary, Antoinette Gomez snapped the pictures as class historian, and Missy Dew kept everyone quiet as parliamentarian.

Other than demonstrating their lung power at assemblies, Freshman Forum didn't appear to be doing much until Del Norte was hit with a Sweetheart Dance in early February which was truly a class of '89 success.

With the start they've had so far, Freshman Forum appears to be moving on to an awesome Sophomore Congress.

Appreciating Music

Orchestra was one of the many extra-curricular activities here at Del Norte. It consisted of many talented people who play such instruments as the violin, viola, cello, and bass.

Each morning during first period the orchestra met to sharpen and perfect the many pieces of music selected for concerts. They usually play four concerts during the school year.

Competing in festivals, the orchestra tried their hardest to place respectively. Returning as first place winners at the Durango Festival, the Del Norte orchestra showed their Knight pride as they played. Competition at festivals was tough. Del Norte matched strings with other schools from New Mexico, Texas, and Colorado. Many orchestra members belonged to other orchestras. For example, some members participated in the Albuquerque Youth Symphony and the Albuquerque Youth Orchestra for which they had to try out in order to participate.

Orchestra exposed the students to different towns and enabled them to appreciate music while having fun. Lisa Banks said, "Many people have the wrong idea that orchestra would be a boring thing to be in. But actually it's more fun than people imagine. Orchestra gives you the chance to meet new people, travel and most important become musically inclined."

The director of the group is Mr. Teare. Jean Williams, viola player, said, "He worked with the group and helped them to be as successful as they are today."

DN Bands Successful

The concert season for the Del Norte band was as much of a success as marching season. The concert and symphonic bands held many concerts including "recruiting" concerts with the feeder mid-schools. The bands went into competition with the Albuquerque high schools at the District VII Festival and with high schools across the nation at the World of Music Festival held in Dallas, Texas. Another activity in which the bands participated was the annual Solo and Ensemble Festival. Many of the members received superior and excellent ratings.

The Del Norte Jazz Band also participated in these events, however, they competed at many additional festivals. These included jazz festivals at West Mesa high school, Los Alamos High School, the University of New Mexico, and New Mexico State University.

The New Mexico All-State Festival was another huge success for Del Norte's band members. All-State consists of outstanding high school musicians from all over New Mexico who must audition for this honor. These students attended two days of intense rehearsal and perform in a concert at UNM. This year Del Norte had seventeen band members accepted in All-State.

Les Chanteurs

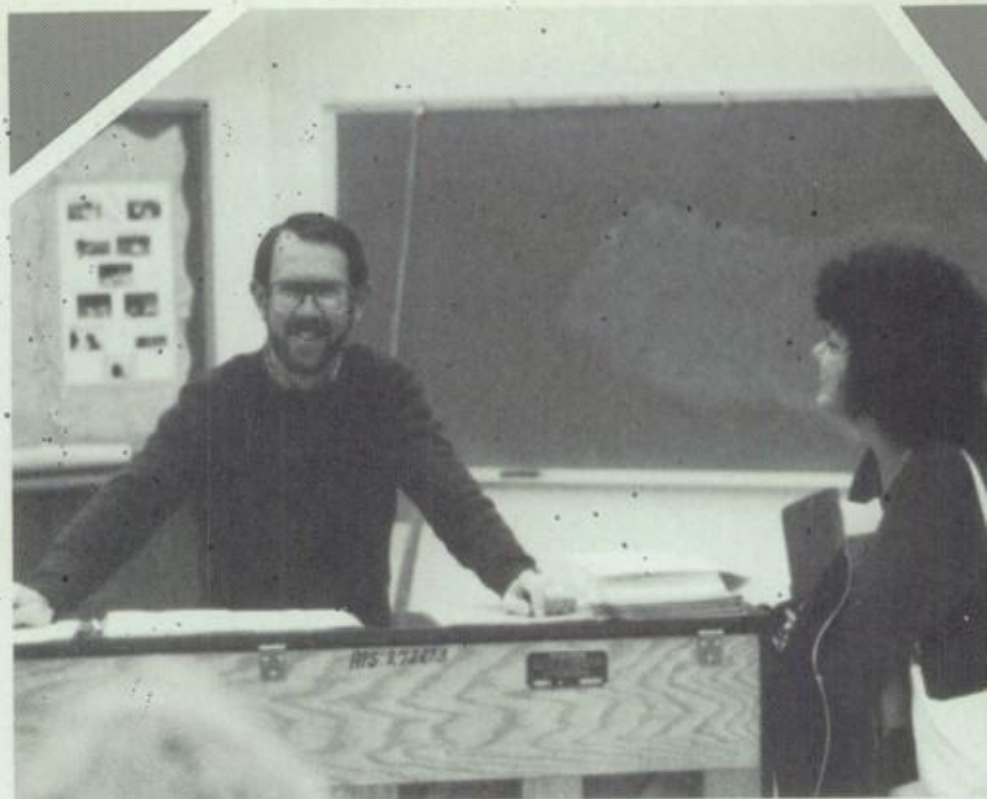

Two are always better than one and three even better—especially when they're Del Norte's three choirs.

The Concert, Modern, and Treble Choirs performed superbly this year in each of their concerts.

Mr. Cooke could only be pleased with the choirs as they ranked highly in all of the competitions they participated in.

The choirs toured in the spring spreading their talent to judges in the Southwest. Trips to the middle schools helped recruit incoming freshmen. Springtime also brought high ranks for the choirs in the all-city choir festival.

No matter what rank judges gave our choirs, they all ways ranked high here at Del Norte.

Involving Students

Working on ideas that would get the students involved with Del Norte was an idea that Senior Senate had. They sponsored many activities to promote school spirit.

At the beginning of school, Senior Senate sponsored a Hawaiian dance. The students came to the dance with bright, colorful Hawaiian shirts, leis, and grass skirts. Decorations hung around the patio, and the Knight statue was dressed for the occasion. Another activity the club sponsored was the blood drive. Students 17 or older were asked to contribute blood in order to help save a life. Senior Senate promoted this community effort with lots of excitement and enthusiasm.

At the meetings, called to order by Keun Kyu Yi, president, students contracted on projects that they would strive for and eventually accomplish. Michelle Myers, vice-president, said, "Since it was our Senior year, everyone was very willing to participate and work. We all wanted to make our final impression on Del Norte as the best Senior class."

The officers for the class of 1986 were Keun Kyu Yi, known as Q,—president; Michelle Myers—vice president; Anita Romero—secretary; Dalit Gisser—treasurer; Karla Hodge—historian; and Melisa Parkes—parliamentarian.

Doing Events

Planning, organizing, and fundraising is what Junior Jury did this year for the many activities they helped sponsor this year.

"Forever In My Heart" was the theme for the Homecoming dance, put on by Junior Jury. Many meetings were held in order to create the magical evening that many students will remember. To help promote the theme for Homecoming, the club decorated the Junior section with heart balloons, streamers, and signs.

Prom was the next big event for the Junior class to tackle. Brainstorming for ideas on Prom took place at meetings; the result was an unforgettable evening for the student body. Staci Dow, president, said, "We managed to put on Homecoming and Prom, which were the main goals for Junior Jury to conquer." Melanie Patten said, "For all attendance was rather low at club meetings; there was lots of pride in Del Norte which helped us plan events for the students.

Junior Jury was sponsored by Ms. Levitt. The class officers are Staci Dow—president; Sheryl Tsiosdia—vice president; Julie Drake—secretary; Chelsea McIntyre—treasurer; and Susan Sutton—historian.

Business Scholars at DN

Business Honor Society is a group of seniors who demonstrated excellence in the field of business.

To be a member, each student must have a business class grade point average of 3.0 or better. Administrators judge notebooks compiled by each of the members and awards a scholarship to the best student at the end of the year.

Fund raisers were held to provide for the scholarships.

Community service projects and school service projects were activities which occupied BHS members' time.

President Debbie Hillmeyer and her fellow officers worked hard and devoted much time and effort to making the Business Honor Society a success.

Career or Hobby?

Junior OEA (Office Education Association), sponsored by Mrs. Koester, was a club made up of Juniors who were interested in business as a career or just as a hobby.

The purpose of the club was to create business awareness at Del Norte.

During the year, Junior OEA was involved in many competitions. The various areas that they competed in were: Records Management, Job Interview, and Receptionist.

"OEA helps students with business skills, it prepares them for the future, and gives them something to fall back on," said vice-president Monica Seymour.

The proud members of Office Education Association. Sharpening typing skills is an important part of OEA.

Putting Forth Effort

Two hard working clubs at Del Norte are Spanish Honor Society and Winter Color Guard.

The Spanish National Honor Society, sponsored by Elaine Alarid, is a club limited to honorary students in the area of Spanish.

To be a member, students must have completed three semesters of Spanish with a 3.5 GPA or better, according to club president Tina Marcilla.

Throughout the year they hold meetings to organize initiation of new members, fundraisers, and plan social activities with the club.

The money they raise from the fundraisers was used to take a cultural experience, such as watching flamenco dancers.

The Winter Color Guard consisted of a group of flag girls who performed at half-time during basketball games. Some of the girls performed with the band flag corps earlier in the year.

Latin Club

Gets Noticed

Being interested in the subject of Latin is what brought many students together at Latin Club meetings. Latin Club had various fundraisers and participated in different school activities. Some of the members went to the State Latin Club Convention.

Raising money was one of the things Latin Club did. The club sold reindeer grams around Christmas time and worked the concession stand at a speech meet. Numerous members put forth great efforts into raising money. The money raised helped members pay for the State Junior Classical League Convention.

Participating in various school activities enabled Latin Club to get noticed. Selected members attended a leadership workshop, and they brought back to the club many helpful ideas. Teams were formed for the annual Think Fast competition.

Students involved with Latin Club ordered T-shirts and printed on the front were Latin sayings. By wearing these T-shirts, members let other students know that there is a Latin Club.

Training and Preparing Students

The Vocational Club of America has been an active part of Del Norte for 15 years. It has been a part of many Del Norte students' lives.

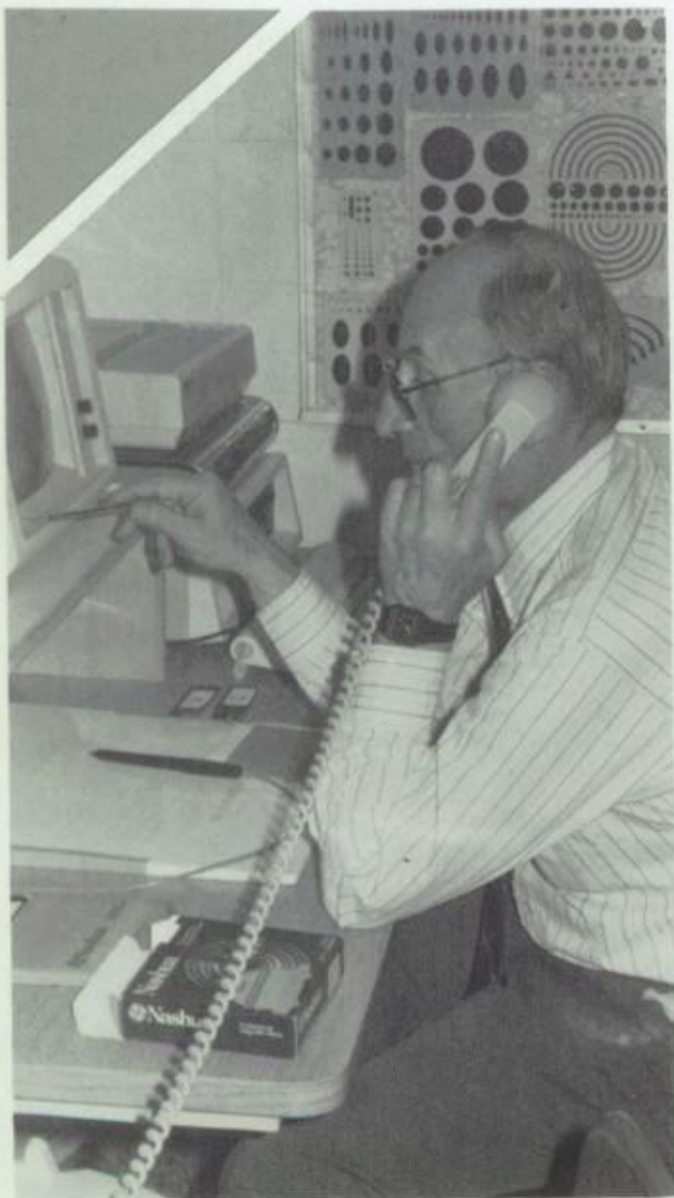

VICA's purpose is to help train and prepare students for what lies ahead of them in the job world. To help students achieve this, VICA helps to develop their leadership skills through participation in education, vocational, civic, recreation and social activities. They also enhance the students' ability to plan as a group, organize and carry out worthy activities and projects through the use of the democratic process. As well as giving them a deep respect for the working class, they learn the importance of craftsmanship.

VICA students realize that in order to achieve anything in life, they have to give 100%. Every member in VICA pledges that they will strive to become a worker that will be respected by both their employers as well as their co-workers. Then the members of VICA go one step further and also pledge to honor and respect their vocation in such a way to uphold the ideals of VICA.

At Del Norte, VICA is divided into two separate clubs, ICT and CED. ICT stands for Industrial Cooperative Training and CED stands for Civil Engineering Drafting. Students involved in ICT, are involved in part-time work in trades and health occupations. Civil Engineering Drafting members, on the other hand, work in the classroom to develop basic entry level skills for industry.

AFJROTC Excellence

The arrogance of excellence. That is the motto of the AFJROTC unit at Del Norte High School. ROTC is not just a class. It's an organization that participates in school, local, state, and national activities.

They present the National colors at all assemblies and home football and basketball games. This year they contributed 2,452 cans to DECA's canned food drive. That is 47% of what the whole school contributed. They also have a Sabre Team at the Homecoming Coronation and at prom.

They have marched in most of the parades here in town. On the state level they supplied escorts for the New Mexico T.E.E.N. Pageant. Nationally they also supplied escorts for the National Miss T.E.E.N. Pageant held over the Thanksgiving break.

Other than just these activities, the cadets also have regular class work. The AE-I Cadets study the "History of Flight" and military customs and Conterversies. The AE-II Cadets study More Aerospace Science, the Atmosphere and a more advanced leadership class. The AE-III Cadets study Military Aerospace and basic physiology. The AE-IV Cadets study Survival and a more advanced physiology.

Exposing MESA

Picture yourself as a chemical engineer, a civil engineer, a mechanical engineer, an architect, a scientist, or a mathematician. All these careers are possible with the right background. There is a club at Del Norte for above average minority students. This club exposes the students to different types of math and science-related careers. The club is called MESA, which stands for Math, Engineering, Science, Achievement.

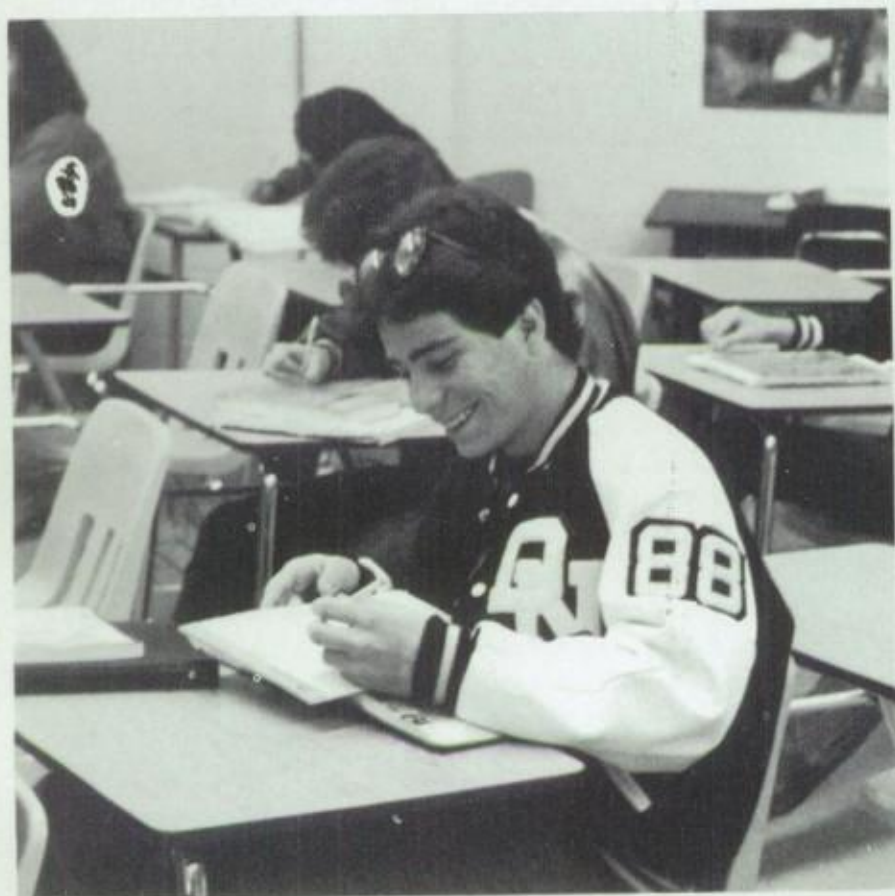

This is the second year MESA has been at Del Norte with Mr. Bob Morro as the sponsor. The members of MESA had to have been recommended by a math or science teacher to be in the club.

Throughout the year, the students go on various field trips. For the past two years, Del Norte's MESA has taken a tour of Sandia Labs. Guest speakers also come and talk about a wide range of subjects, from what an electrical engineer does to how to use a calculator.

When asked what she thought of MESA, second year member Debbie Sanchez replied, "I think the exposure is great. I'm getting a better understanding of the different types of math and science-related careers. Also, I am thinking more seriously about my future career."

Members must maintain a 3.0 grade point average, and study sessions are available if a student is having trouble in any class. Throughout the year, there are programs to enhance each student's education, not only for now, but also for his or her future.

Important Role

The Black Student Union has played an important role here at Del Norte. They accept any interested person for themselves, not for their race or sex.

The Black Student Union has been here at Del Norte for about six years. This year is Ms. Levitt's second year as sponsor.

There are 10 members in the club. This year's officers are Monica Morgan as President, Stephanie Barrack as Vice President and Dena Williams as Treasurer.

This year's unions' activities consisted of presenting a collage and vast announcements of blacks during History month.

"I think this has been a very productive year. A lot of people don't realize that no matter what color you are you can achieve anything," said President Monica Morgan.

The AMIGA demonstration interested many computer lovers. Handouts and booklets increased students' knowledge of computers. The meetings held everyone's attention.

Computers at DN

One of the newest and most exciting clubs at Del Norte was the Computer club.

The computer club was made up of a group of students who were interested in computers.

This was the club's first year, and it was sponsored by Dee Skinner and Daren Daye.

"The students bring new computer games to show each other. We discuss problems and successes. We will bring in different types of computers for demonstrations, too," said Skinner.

The club varies in the number of students who attend the computer labs. For demonstration purposes, all faculty and students are invited to attend.

"I enjoy the computer club. I think it's really good for the school. We play a lot of games on the computers," said David Dabney, a club member.

This year the computer club was able to bring the AMIGA demonstration to Del Norte. It was a great learning experience for the club members.

"I think the computer club is going to go far. This first year has been really productive," said Robert Henry.

Mountains and Foils

"GETTING HIGH IN THE WILDERNESS" is the way sponsor Mrs. Maish described the newest club at Del Norte. It is the Mountain Club, which gives students a chance to escape the city life and get back to nature.

Del Norte and Cibola's mountain club enjoyed many backpacking excursions, including trips to the Jemez Mountains, Mount Taylor, Deer Creek, Piedra Lisa, New Mexico, and two visits to the Sandias. Throughout the year, they planned several hiking and cross-country skiing trips.

"EN GARDE!" the masked opponent challenges. The foils are lifted. The fencing match begins. This is just a part of the excitement felt in Fencing Club.

The Fencing Club gives a student a chance to experience the medieval art of sword play. Students also learn to improve their coordination and balance.

In the Fencing Club, the fine art of fencing is taught. The members practice against each other. They then go against the Sandia Fencing Club.

Del Norte's Fencing Club was started just last year by Mr. Harold Stevens, who has been fencing for over ten years. He started the club because of his and other students' interest in fencing.

Discovering

German Culture

People gathered to form a club which would enhance the language and culture that they are learning. The club is the German Club. Student participated eagerly to let Del Norte know about a foreign language. The members had fund raisers to help pay their way.

Selling many items, the German Club was determined to reach their goal. The goal was the German Weekend held at Ghost Ranch. Many other schools from all over the state also participated in this event. Fifteen to twenty members sold Gummi-Bears in order to help with the cost of the German Weekend.

The officers were Rob Mead—president, Eric Meyer—vice-president, Chris Muldez—secretary, and Steve Jorganson—treasurer. The club was sponsored by Mrs. Parnell.

Roping, Riding Equals Rodeo Team

Every Thursday a unique group of people meet. This group is the rodeo club and is sponsored by Percy Larranaga.

Over 80 percent of this year's club is freshmen. At the beginning of the year Larranaga thought that might be a problem because he didn't think their parents would let them participate in some of their competitive events. But they proved to be ambitious and made this one of the best years for the rodeo club.

A lot of hard work goes into keeping the club together. To put on one rodeo for a day and a half it costs $3,135. To raise the money for their rodeos the club put on bake sales, sold pizza, and contacted people who were willing to sponsor feed, belt buckles, prize money, and donate money towards the rodeo.

"During this year we put on a Dance-A-Thon and raised over $500!" said Vice-President Cliff Bryant. "The reason we did so good is because there were a lot of people who were really interested and really wanted to raise money to put on a rodeo," he added.

Other officers include President Chuck Templeton, and Secretary/Treasurer Vicki Price.

"This year's team is much better than last year's team because everyone is more ambitious and willing to work harder at raising money and finding sponsors," said Bryant.

Goat tying, Vicki Price uses all of her might.

Rodeo team members gather to come up with ideas about a rodeo they'll be putting on. Dawn Dykes, David Harwell, Shannon Cassidy, Christy, Timmy, and Natisha all contribute magnificent ideas.

Academics

Administration

Mr. Bass has been at Del Norte since the fall of 1981, and if it were his choice he would continue serving Del Norte for many years to come.

"The students at Del Norte," Mr. Bass states, "are the most sincere and the best group of people I've ever worked with." Last year when the ACT results came in, Mr. Bass was more pleased than ever to be associated with Del Norte, because the school was ranked second among Albuquerque Public Schools. Although Del Norte usually appears in the top four, the students excelled by placing second highest in the city.

Del Norte is known to have students from different cultural backgrounds, had a good mix among our student body.

Mr. Bass concluded, "I enjoy the atmosphere at Del Norte and the students and teachers. They are great people and it is a joy to work here and be part of this school."

Mr. Bass and Mrs. Coffee converse over plans to re-landscape the patio of our school.

Mr. Taffoya, bogged down with work, receives yet another phone call.

Mr. Evans, the new assistant principal, takes a minute out to get a snap shot.

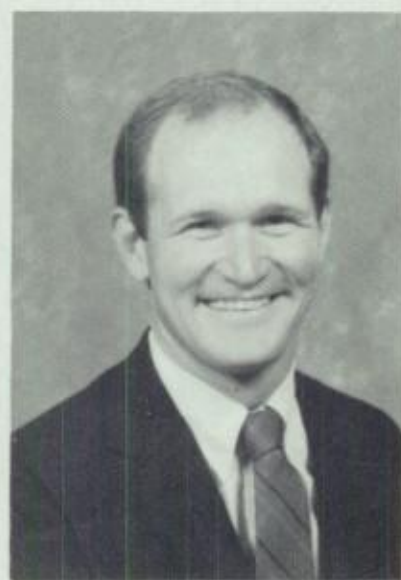

Charles Evans is Del Norte's new Assistant Principal. He came to Del Norte from Van Buren Middle School where he was a teacher.

When asked what he thought of Del Norte he replied, "Del Norte has always had a fine reputation for its academic and athletic programs. I'm proud to be associated with Del Norte's staff and students."

JoAnne Coffee is another one of Del Norte's administrators. When asked what she liked about being at Del Norte she replied, "The opportunity to work with the talented and unique students, and the knowledgeable and dedicated staff members."

Peggy Jojola feels proud to be on Del Norte's administration. "Students are great here; they are willing to take suggestions and work with you."

Mrs. Jojola feels the most rewarding part about being at Del Norte is "working with the professional teachers. I feel we have a congenial staff. We all work really well together as a team. I also like working with Del Norte's outstanding student body."

Guy M. Seiler, the activities director, feels that, "This is an excellent school that has a lot to offer. The students seem to be taking advantage of this because their school spirit seems to be very high. I only wish that we could get more accomplished in ASA and Round Table. If I could improve anything in this school, it would be to start accomplishing more. I hope to be back next year as the activities director and possibly teach a student government class."

Social Studies

Dr. Susan A. Roberts is the head of the social studies department. She is a dedicated person who spends much of her time developing curriculum and updating materials to better the education of students.

She has taught at Del Norte since October, 1971. She teaches American History, You and the Law, American Problems, and Political Science. She received her Ph.D. in American History at U.N.M. in 1974. When asked what she would like to see done at Del Norte, she responded, "I'd like to see an influx of students eager to learn and expand their knowledge, along with a group of parents supportive of quality education."

With her husband, Dr. Cal Roberts, she co-authored A History of New Mexico (U.N.M. Press 1985).

Mr. Bass always holds teachers' attention at faculty meetings.

Science

"To have an education is very self-satisfying," said Dr. Keith Grisham, head of the Science Department. "Being educated makes us independent; we can take care of ourselves."

Like many veteran teachers, Dr. Grisham, who has taught biology at Del Norte since 1970, is concerned about his students' desire to get an education. With this in mind, Dr. Grisham explained that he hopes his students will be prepared for the future.

"I believe, as others do, that the 21st century will be known as the century of biology whereas the 20th century has been called the century of chemistry and physics."

Dr. Grisham cited examples to back up his opinion. The world's food supply has increased 25% in the last 10 years with no appreciable increase in the acreage under cultivation. Where one stalk of wheat grew before, today there grow two. This is the so called "green" revolution.

Scientists in the 21st century, Grisham went on to say, will be able to substantially alter DNA. Various aspects of cell biology and genetics will probably touch our lives more intimately than computers have in the 20th century. "We'll surround ourselves with new forms of life and even change what we are."

Math at DN

Mr. Stanley Reagan Sleeter was hired 22 years ago from McKinley Middle School to head Del Norte's Math Department. "The department requires considerably more time than can be realized by anyone not acquainted with what goes on," said Mr. Sleeter.

"With all of the time and effort put into this department," Mr. Sleeter said, "some of the things that you do bear results, and some do not. Some of the problems we can solve, and others we can just keep working on."

Some of the duties which his position involves are seeing that students are enrolled in the proper math class and representing Del Norte in matters concerning math in APS.

Mr. Sleeter would like to remind students that, "What you do now will reflect the rest of your life. Students need to develop good attitudes about their work and to learn what they can accomplish by applying themselves."

Exhilarating English

"I genuinely enjoy teaching—walking through the classroom door to teach a class makes it all worth it," stated Mrs. Doggett, a prominent English teacher at Del Norte. This attitude is probably the major factor in Mrs. Doggett's success as a teacher. Teaching is a "piece of cake" to Mrs. Doggett, whereas she enjoys the administrative aspects of her job. Nonetheless, she is an important "administrator" at Del Norte, serving as head of the English department, a job she views as a challenge, though time consuming. She acquired the job two years ago.

As of this year, Mrs. Doggett is a 15-year veteran of Del Norte. She decided to teach while in college, receiving her bachelors degree at C.U. and her masters at U.N.M. Before coming to DN, she served an internship at Sandia High for a year, and taught at Eldorado for six months. Here at Del Norte, Mrs. Doggett is a truly dedicated teacher and quite an attribute to the school.

Jane Limburg has been at Del Norte for three years and has been the head of the special education department for the past year.

"Special education meets the needs of students with different learning styles," said Limburg.

She doesn't feel she was more qualified for the job than anyone else but she said, "I like to solve problems, be responsible and am well-organized. Any chairperson of any department needs to have those requirements."

Looking to the future Limburg said, "I have a lot of goals that I would like to see met. But overall, everything is running well—hard working teachers and improving students."

Physical Education

Mr. Paul Sackett is the head of the physical education department here at Del Norte. He has been the head of the department for 2 years now. He has taught physical education at Del Norte for the past 16 years. Previous to his teaching at Del Norte he occupied his time at Jefferson Junior High and Coronado Elementary School. He was a graduate from U.N.M. and from there went right into teaching. Coach Sackett feels that we have an "excellent school with an excellent staff," here at Del Norte. One of his major concerns here though, is that "students need to begin taking pride in the school work, the school building, and students in general. They need to take school work more seriously," he says. Mr. Sackett's job can be very time-consuming at times due to the many duties which his position requires. Aside from his hectic schedule here at Del Norte, Coach Sackett spends much of his time participating and observing outdoor recreations such as golf. Other interests he holds include traveling and woodworking.

Foreign Language

More students are taking a foreign language now more than ever before; and most of them are taking Spanish. Mr. Morgan, head of the Foreign Language Department, thinks this is because of the large number of Spanish-Speaking people in New Mexico.

The other languages that are taught here at Del Norte are French, Latin, and German. In these classes, students not only learn the basics of their chosen language, but also learn about the culture and the people that speak that language.

Business Education

Mr. Virgil Boteler came to Del Norte from Lovington in 1965.

"The administration is great and as for the students, I feel very comfortable with them, and I enjoy working with them," said Mr. Boteler.

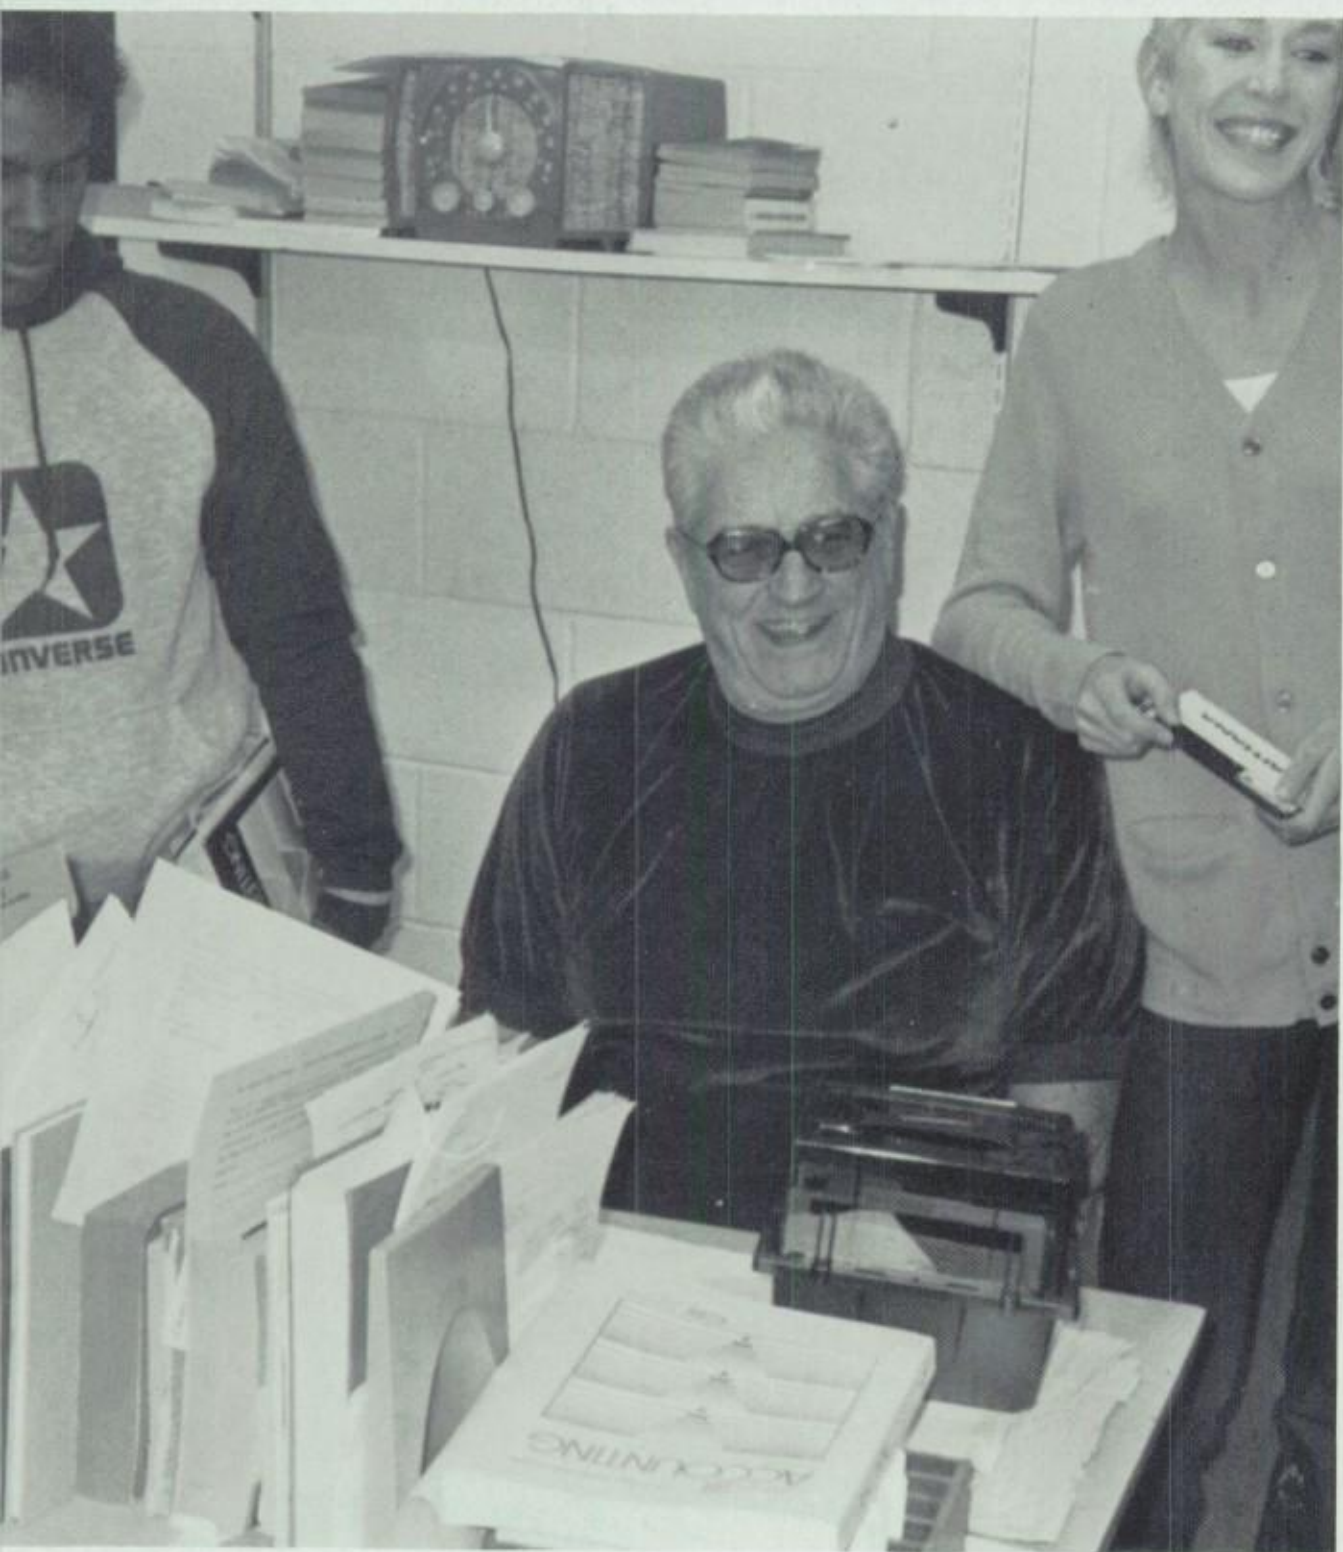

When Mr. Boteler first came to Del Norte, he was teaching Typing and General Business; but now he teaches one class which is Accounting I & II and Accelerated Accounting. Mr. Boteler plans on retiring either this year or the next.

Friendly gossip between Seniors Christina Rodriguez and Marsha Deal. Marya and Marci—best buddies. Friendly affection is always nice, too! "Friends make good pillows, I've noticed."

Relying on Friends

A friend can be defined as a person who makes you feel like you belong; someone who's there with you during good and bad times; and a person you can build a lasting relationship with. When you really think about what a friend is and how much you depend on each other you realize how important they are to you.

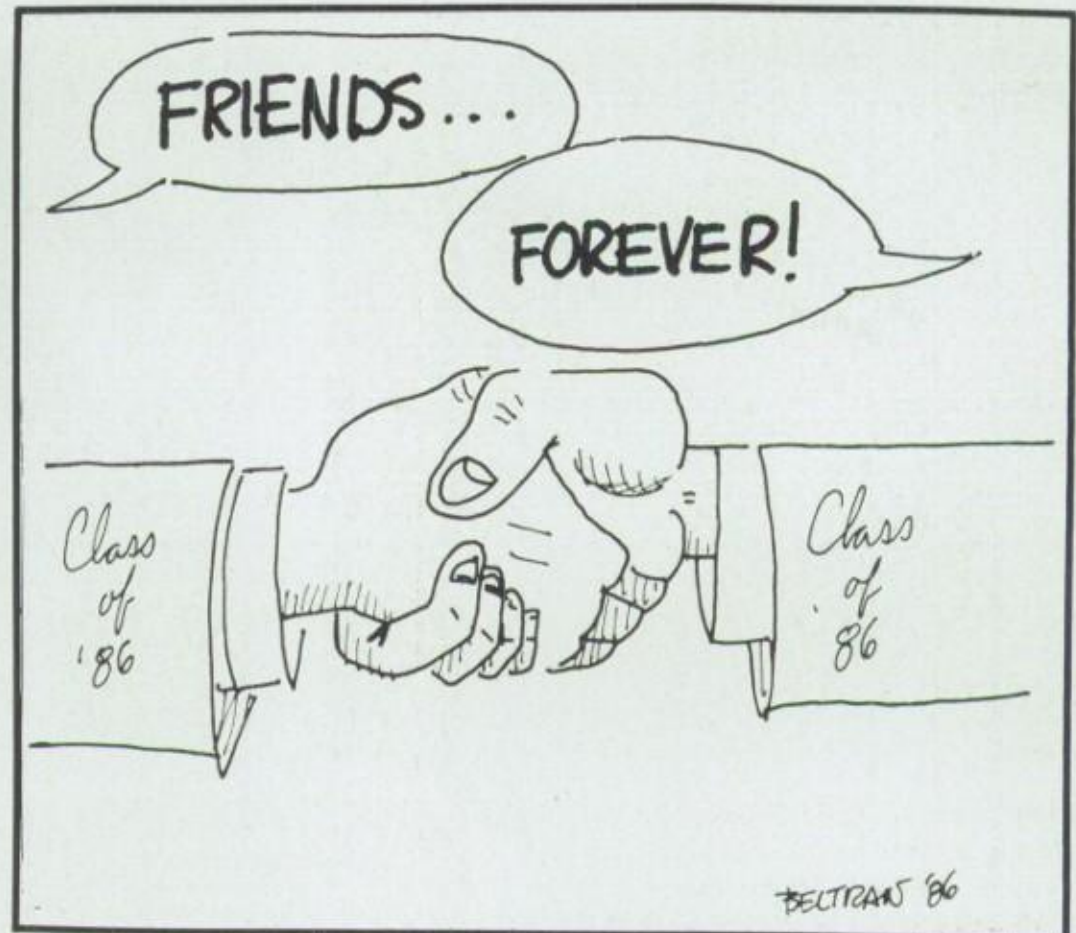

People need each other, and during high school having friends and fitting in can sometimes be a teenager's greatest worry. Friends that give you a sense of belonging make it easier for a person to succeed in life because they know they've already made a difference in other people's lives.

Friends are not only important to make you feel needed, but also to be there when you need them. For example, it's a great feeling to know that you can depend on someone to listen to you when you have a problem. Even when situations are good it's nice to have someone who'll share your happiness. And, of course, a friend can be counted on to do just everyday things with you such as go out to the movies or a basketball game.

Lastly, true friendships usually lasts a lifetime. During high school, romantic relationships usually are shortlived and friends are there to support you. Even when you do find a special person to be with it's important to be both romantic partners and friends because you'll always need someone to listen to you and make you feel needed.

Although sometimes we don't realize it, friends play an important role in our lives. We depend on them to reassure us that we belong, to share our feelings with, and to be there when high school's over. We all should show our appreciation to those people we can call friends.

Giving blood is a friendly gift to those in need. Pal-ing around: Senior Jenny Jacobs, Senior Marquesa, and Junior Kelly Bosland.

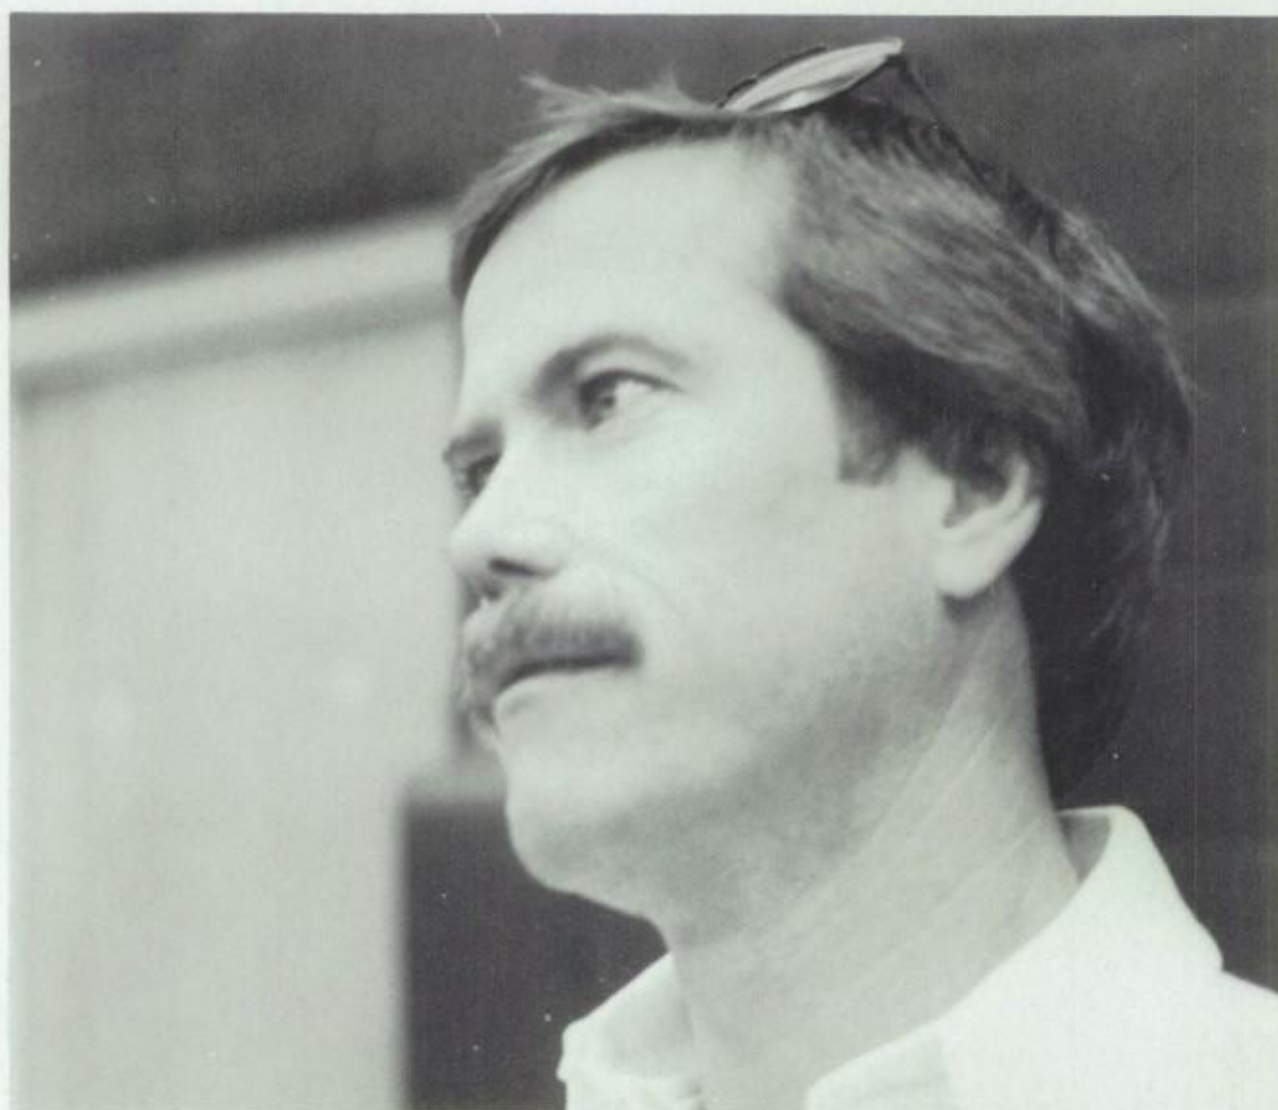

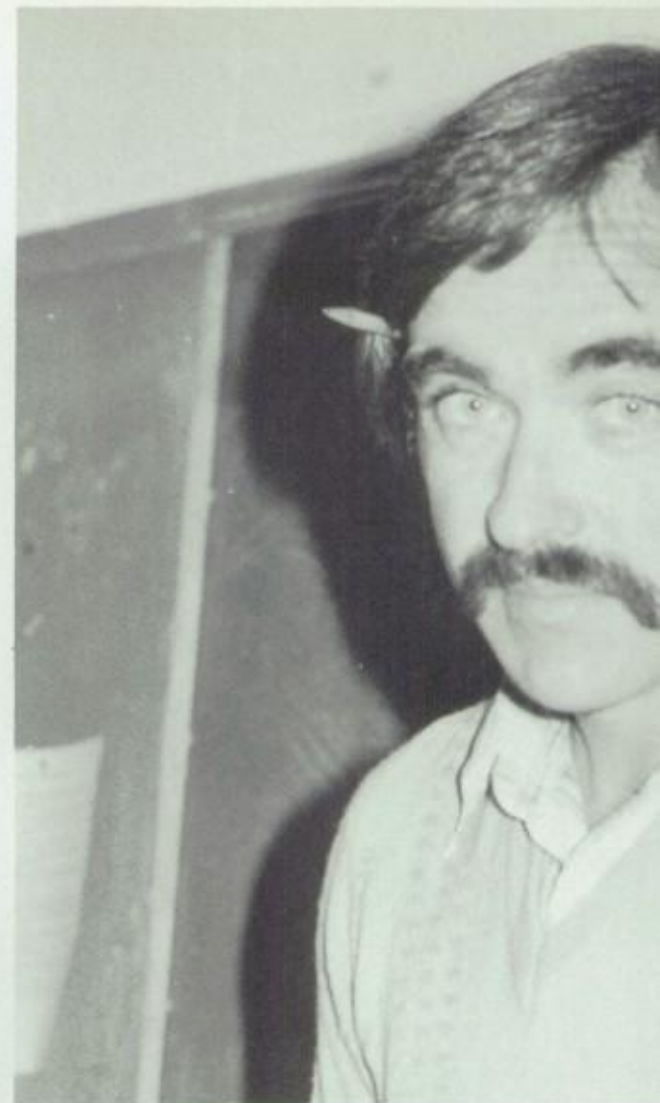

The Generation Gap

Have you ever received criticisms or strange looks from your teachers or parents due to your new haircut that all your friends think is neat? If so, then you have experienced differences of opinions due to a generation gap. The generation gap seems to be ever widening as teenagers grow up (and, now more than ever with New Wave and Punk styles becoming more and more popular.)

While there are many times teachers and parents are very understanding and tolerant, almost everyone can recall a time when a lack of understanding between two people of different ages led to exasperation and frustration. "We have a lot more freedom and a lot more responsibility than our parents did and I think that they have a hard time accepting it," said Junior Yvette Blair.

Of course, our parents undoubtedly feel that we have a hard time understanding and accepting THEM, but with communication, we can all bridge the gap.

"ME? Shocked and amazed by today's fashions? Of course!"

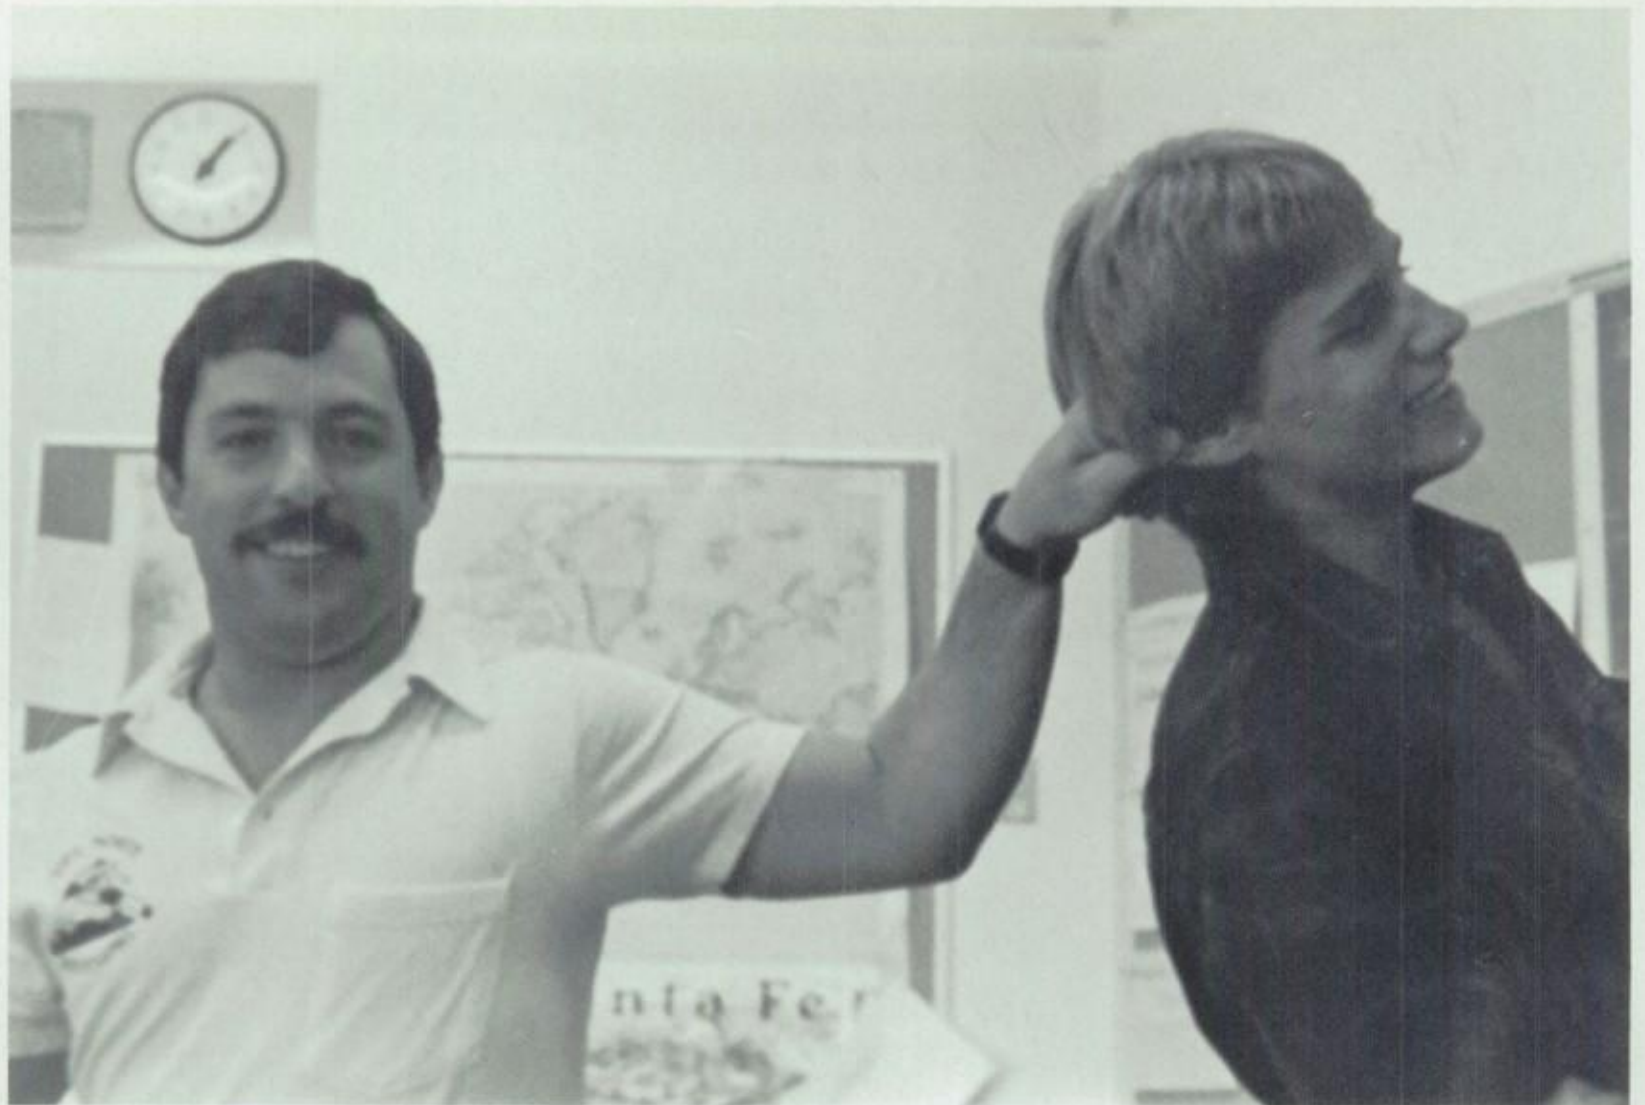

Though a Del Norte Knight is a Del Norte Knight, some are more radical than others.

Just Hanging Out

Where did you "hang out?" If you were like many of the students who were asked this question, where you spent your free time depended on a number of things.

Money. Usually the main concern of teenagers. If funds were low, dollar night was about the only thing to do. Just after pay-day however, a nice dinner out with that special someone was the way to spend a weekend night.

Fast food restaurants in the Del

Norte area are where many people went when nothing seemed to be happening. If there were no parties to go to and no movies to see, you could always see someone you know eating a burger or drinking a shake at McDonald's.

If you or your friends had to work on the nights you usually went out, finding something to do became even more difficult. But Del Norte Knights are creative and always have something to do. Right? Well . . .

Mad scientists in the making: Juniors Lori Hansen and Steven Schula.

Senior Kevin Gant's favorite lunchtime hangout spot is the local McD's.

Planning Ahead

"What are you going to be when you grow up?" was a question everyone heard when they were young. But just around high school, everyone realizes that there really are decisions to be made about a future career. Though seniors seemed to be the ones most pressured to decide underclassmen were thinking about their vocations, too.

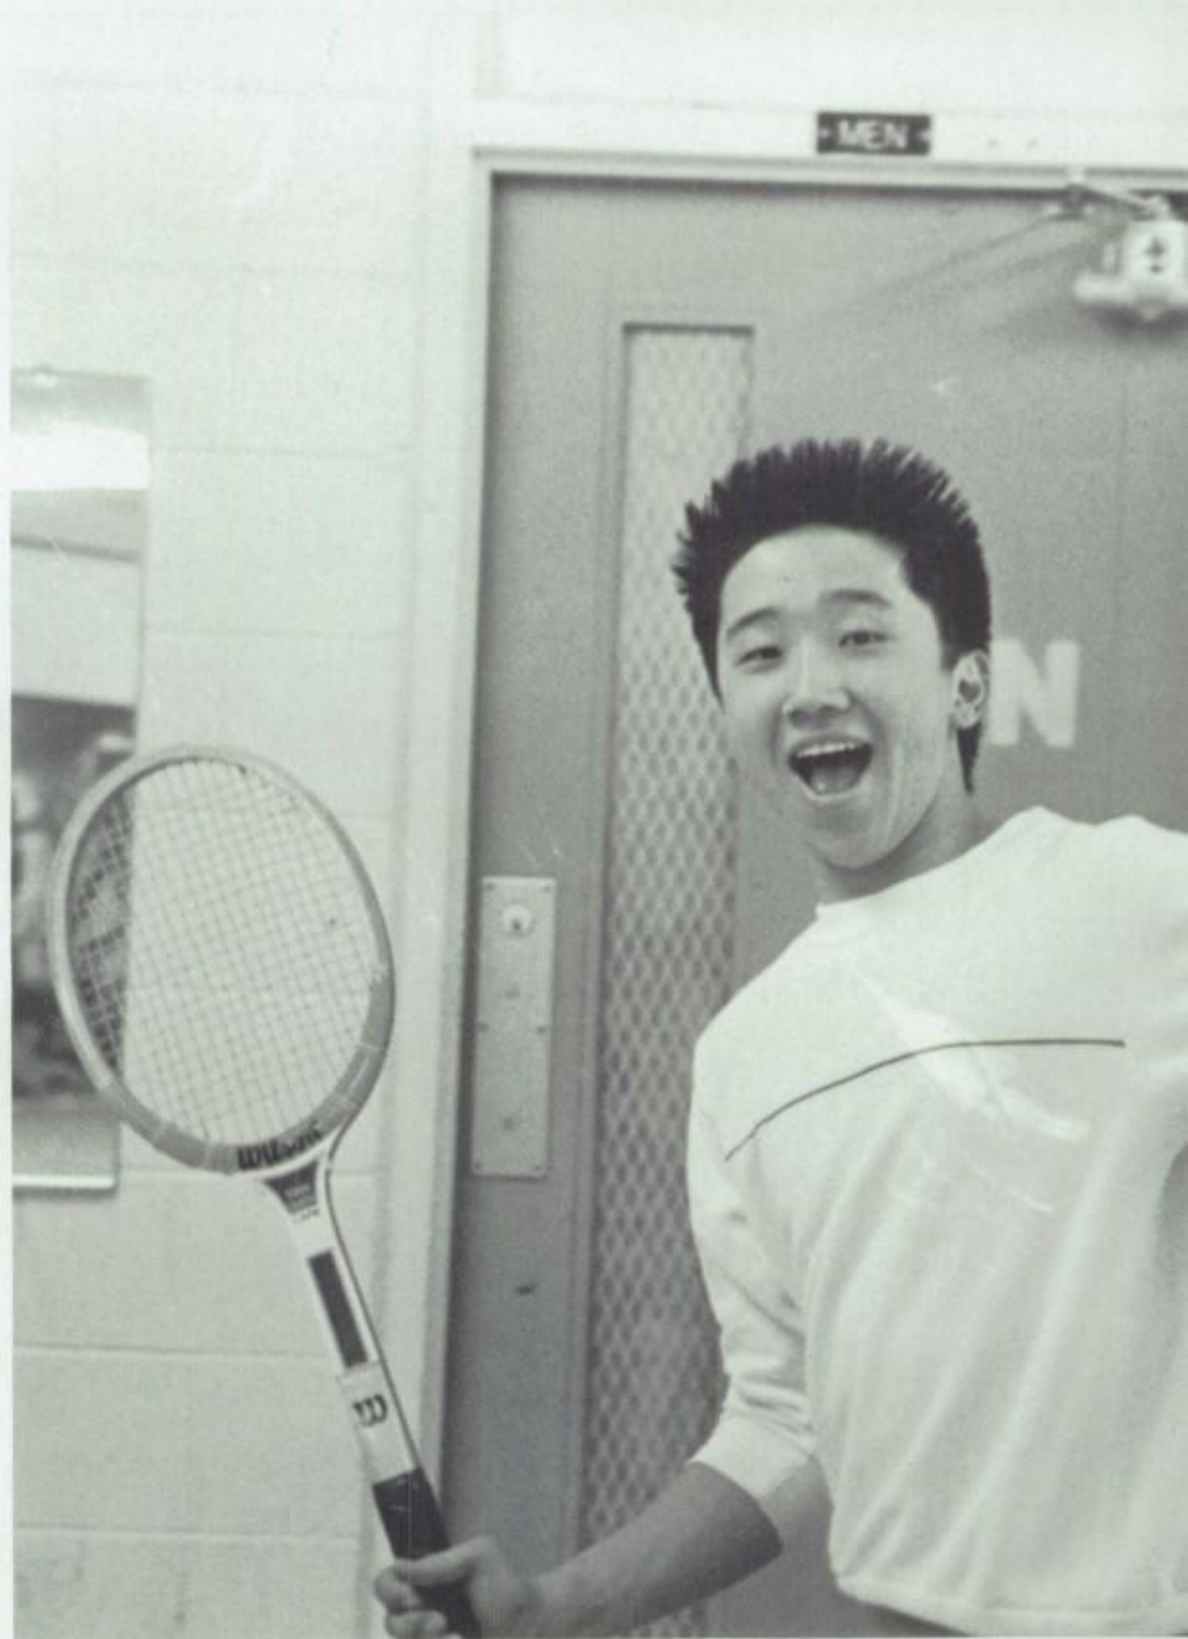

"I've already decided to be an interior decorator," said Junior Dina Jaramillo. Sophomore Cynthia Pacheco plans to be a mother.

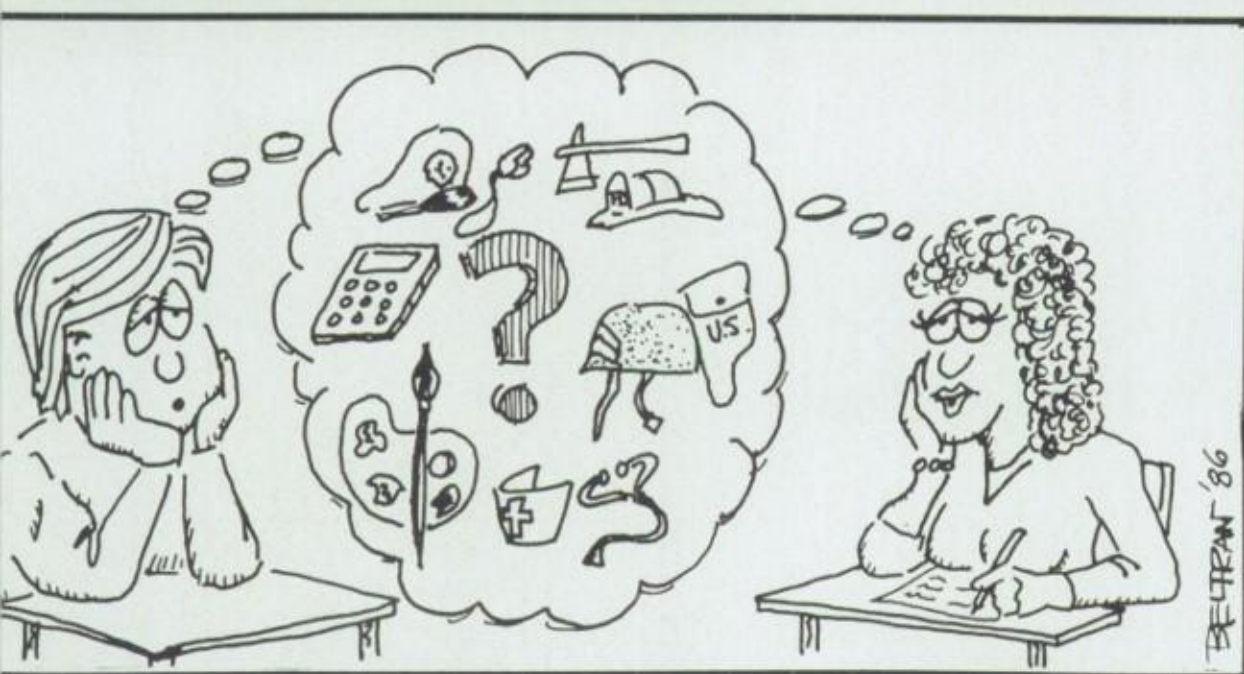

College before beginning a career was a possibility many seniors considered. "Advertising is a career which requires a college education," said senior Alan Eaker. Some careers don't require a college education. Mike Beltran, senior, who plans to be a cartoonist, realizes that the field he has chosen requires talent and originality to ensure success.

Career plans change, however. Junior Sheryl Tsiosdia changed her ideas of a career several times during her Junior year.

Choosing a career is a big decision facing most of Del Norte's population.

Friends From Afar

At Del Norte we have six foreign exchange students representing five European countries. They are Alexandra Rosenblad of Sweden, Jorgen Mon of Norway, Seline Hofker of Holland, Thor Hilton and Ulla Hansen of Denmark, and Sabine Bammel of West Germany. All are seniors, except Thor, who is a junior. The Seniors will take part in graduation, but they still have to complete school in their home countries.

As to their feelings on being exchange students, most agree that there are definite disadvantages, such as not being home for the holidays, the hot weather, and not being able to drive. However, they all agree these sacrifices are negated by the advantages.

"It's really fun," stated Alexandra Rosenblad. "You get to meet new people, see a different country, experience a different culture."

Seline Hofker said that "You really get to know yourself—you know exactly what your abilities and limits are."

Through it all, "they" have become one of "us" and at Del Norte we are proud to call them Knights.

Life After School

We're all familiar with the old saying, "Everybody's working for the weekend." But actually, everybody's LIVING for vacations and graduation. When school finally ends in June, people go their separate ways. Seniors who have graduated prepare for college or work, many people go on vacations, and everyone is relieved that school is out for the summer.

Not everyone is happy that school is out. There are some people who have classes to make up at summer school. Those who went on vacation, though, visited such places as California, Italy, France, and England.

Graduating gave seniors a lot to plan for and think about. "I'm excited about graduating and getting out. But the freedom and decisions that I'll have to make are very scary thoughts," said Senior Jenny Jacobs.

Work is something else that a lot of students have on their minds when it comes to summer. Getting a job for pocket money and college are concerns of many students.

"Colleges, colleges. Which one?" asks Senior Eldon Staggs as he fills out college applications.

Senior Natalie Sessa has only one thing on her mind after graduation—sleep.

Planning for a summer job is important to Senior Alan Eaker as he searches through the paper for some ideas.

Airline Fiascos

Between terrorist hijackings and the many airplane crashes, a record number of people died this year as a result of an airplane disaster. Some of the major accidents occurred in Japan, Dallas, and over the Atlantic Ocean. Senior Alan Eaker and Junior Sheryl Tsiosdia were glad they returned from their European trips safely!

Mr. and Mrs. Boss

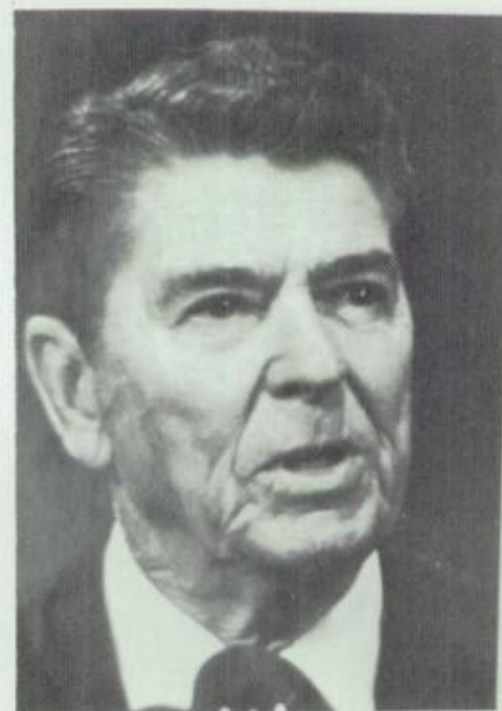

The Boss, otherwise known as Bruce Springsteen broke hearts worldwide when he married model Julianne Phillips. Fans still rocked at his concerts across the country to such hits as "Cover Me," "Glory Days," and "I'm on Fire."

Tubs and Crockett

Miami Vice hit it big this season with two of television's hottest actors—Don Johnson and Phillip Michael Thomas. Included on the show were songs from Glen Frye, the Who, and Dire Straits. The undercover detective show went straight to the top of the charts with its modern approach to television using drama, popular music, and fashion. Hints of the Miami Vice fashions were seen in the halls of Del Norte.

AIDS Epidemic

The Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome struck thousands of Americans this year. The sexually transmitted disease especially worried many Hollywood actresses after actor Rock Hudson died of the disease, yet experts stated that AIDS cannot be transmitted by kissing alone.

South Africa's Apartheid

The discrimination against Blacks in South Africa became a worldwide issue this year. A group of singers called the United Artists Against Apartheid organized a song opposing the racial discrimination. President Reagan went so far as to impose economic sanctions on the South African government.

"Boy Toy" and "Bad Boy"

Material Girl Madonna, known for her outrageous outfits and her alluring belly button astounded many people when she married "Racing With the Moon" star Sean Penn. Despite Madonna's obvious liking to posing for pictures, Hubby Sean didn't allow press photographers at the wedding. Determined to snap pictures of the newlyweds, some photographers took to helicopters to hover over the wedding.

Famous Farewells

Many talented and admired actors died this year. Orson Wells, Yul Brenner, and Rock Hudson were actors whose loss will greatly affect the show business industry.

Return of the Comet

Halley's comet, last seen in 1910, caused quite a stir among both amateur and professional astronomers. Though the comet passed 39 million miles away, it was marketed on T-shirts, hats and even telescopes. Here in Albuquerque, star gazers caught many glimpses of it.

Record "Censorship?"

A heated debate over whether albums with violent or sexually explicit lyrics should have warning labels on them occurred this year. Dee Snider of rock group Twisted Sister teamed up with John Denver to argue for musicians/artists. Though the decision was that labels would be on potentially "harmful" albums, they would still be available to people of all ages. Del Norte music fans were still able to buy all of their favorite records and tapes.

Uniting Against Hunger

From Lionel Richie to Phil Collins and the Led Zeppelin reunion, music artists joined together for a monumental concert to battle the famine in Africa. Mastermind Bob Geldof organized a concert not only here in the United States but in England also. Generous hearts poured out millions of dollars for this worthy cause.

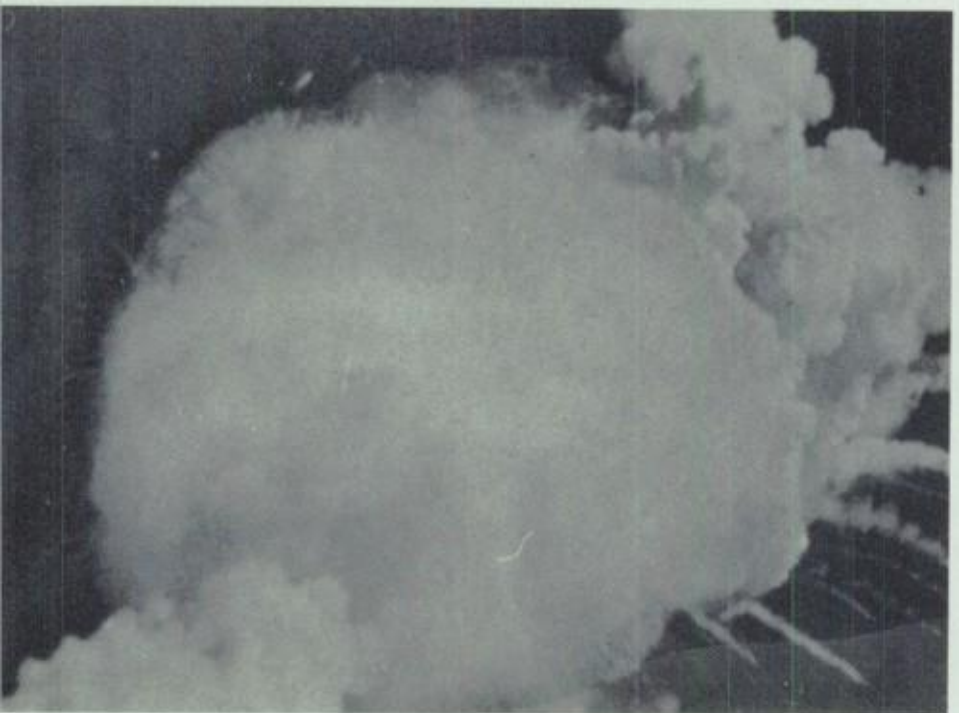

Close to Home

Albuquerqueans were shocked in January when 22-year-old Linda Lee Daniels was abducted from the driveway of her fiancée's house. Her body which was found later in the Jemez mountains had been raped and shot. Though she was one in a series of kidnapped women, the UNM student's "girl-next-door" appearance struck a chord in the hearts of New Mexicans and made her death more deeply felt throughout the state.

Even more personal to Del Norte students was the tragic death of wrestler Dennis Trujillo. He was mourned by those who knew him as a friend, those who respected him as an athlete, and every Knight who realized the loss of one so young.

Sting's Success

If Bruce Springsteen was the Boss of entertainment this year, Sting was certainly the king, as both singer and actor. His solo album "Dream of the Blue Turtle" released hit after hit. "If You Love Someone, Set Them Free," "Fortress Around Your Heart," and "Russians" were three of the songs that hit big on the music charts. Sting also sang backup for Dire Straits in "Money for Nothing" and many of the hits on Phil Collins' "One More Night" single. His classical looks helped him out when he was cast in the starring role of "The Bride," a remake of the "Frankenstein" sequel.

Reagan & Gorbachev Meet

For the first time, the leaders of the United States and Russia met in Washington to discuss matters of peace, the arms race, and future summit meetings. Both President Reagan and Soviet leader Gorbachev seemed satisfied with the outcome of the meeting. Soon after the meeting, both leaders exchanged greetings to the people of the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. Many were encouraged by the hopes for peace discussed by Reagan and Gorbachev.

Challenger Tragedy

After being postponed five times, the space shuttle Challenger finally lifted off on January 28. This historic flight, which would have carried the first private US citizen, Christa McAuliffe into space, tragically ended 74 seconds and 10 miles later in an explosion. The shocked nation mourned Christa and the six astronauts: Francis Scobee, Michael Smith, Judith Resnik, Ronald McNair, Ellison Onizuka, and Gregory Jarvis. Flags were flown at half-mast for a week. Del Norte students seemed to feel the loss more greatly because two New Mexicans were among the finalists from whom Christa McAuliffe and either one of them might have been on that fateful flight.

Editors' Note:

Due to the wonderful world of computers, many students names have been inadvertently deleted, as have most of the page numbers. Had we taken the additional time needed to correct the errors, the student body might not have received the book until after school let out. The Pavilion staff apologizes for any inconvenience and hopes that the quality of the book will outweigh the errors in the Index.

Excitement to the End

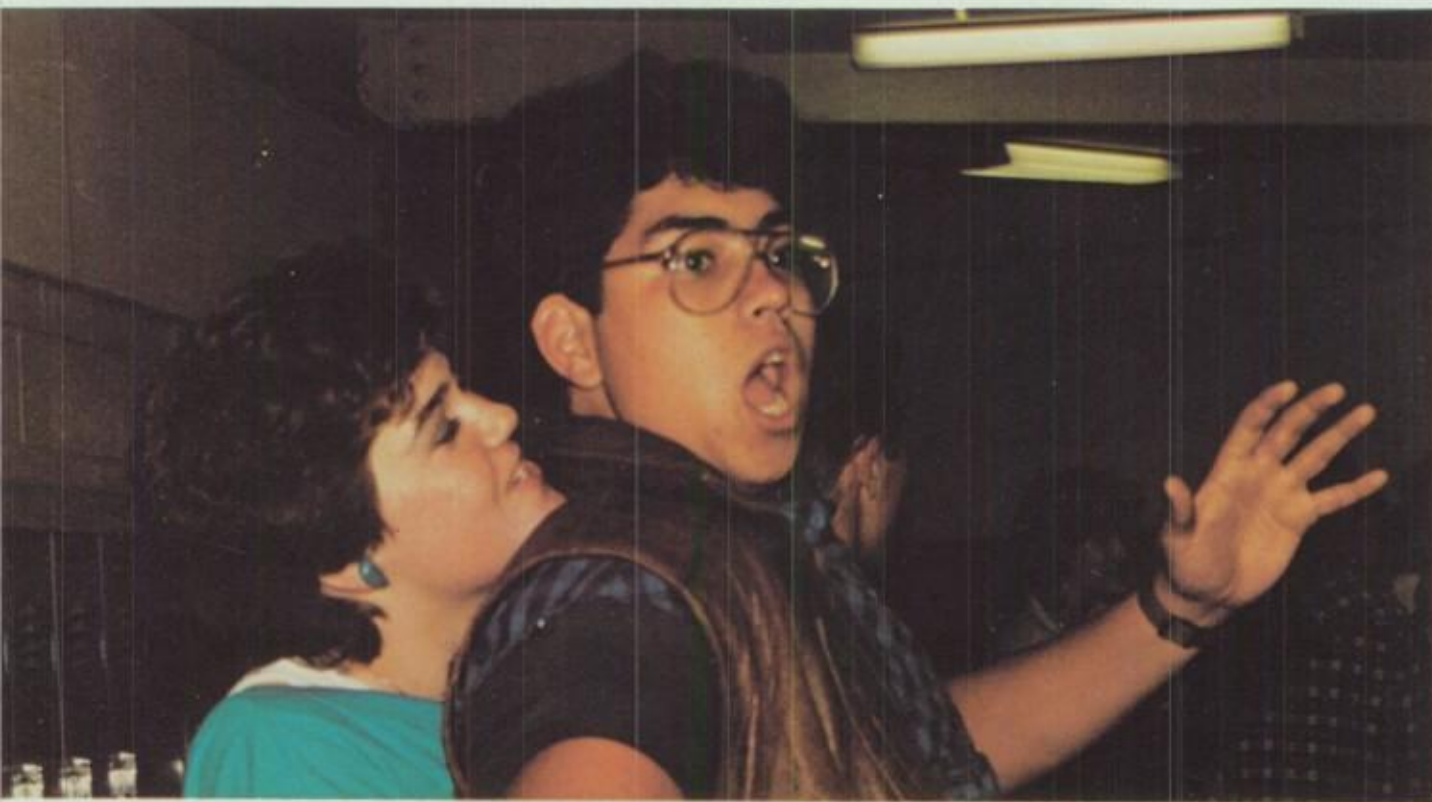

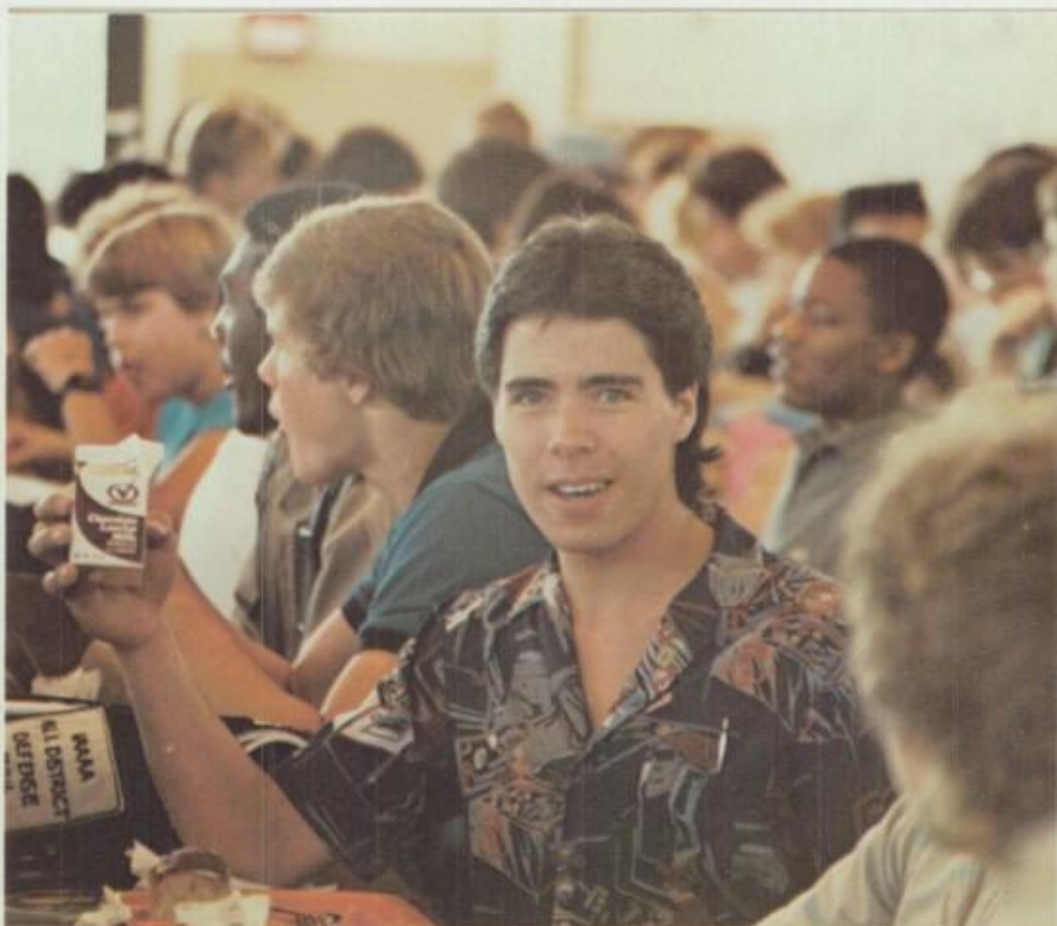

As the year comes to an end, the time comes to move on. Though it's hard to leave everyone behind, it's the memories that will remain. Memories like the Pep Boys in the student parking lot on the first day of school—what a Welcome Back. Memories of Homecoming and Kristine Wehrle will be "Forever in our Hearts." "Rowdies," cheerleaders, and Castelles building enthusiasm at the games and excitement at assemblies. The parties and fun everyone had, and the friends everyone met. The year was filled with tears and laughter, good times, and hard work. It's the people that made Del Norte a different and better school, the attitudes and enthusiasm that made coming to school bearable, and the friends that created the good times. Hold on to the memories—but not so tightly that you forget your dreams. High School is the past that creates the future for you.

Even Senior Sam Lopez needs to keep his strength up by eating in the cafeteria. "Blowing kisses always worked for Romeo!"

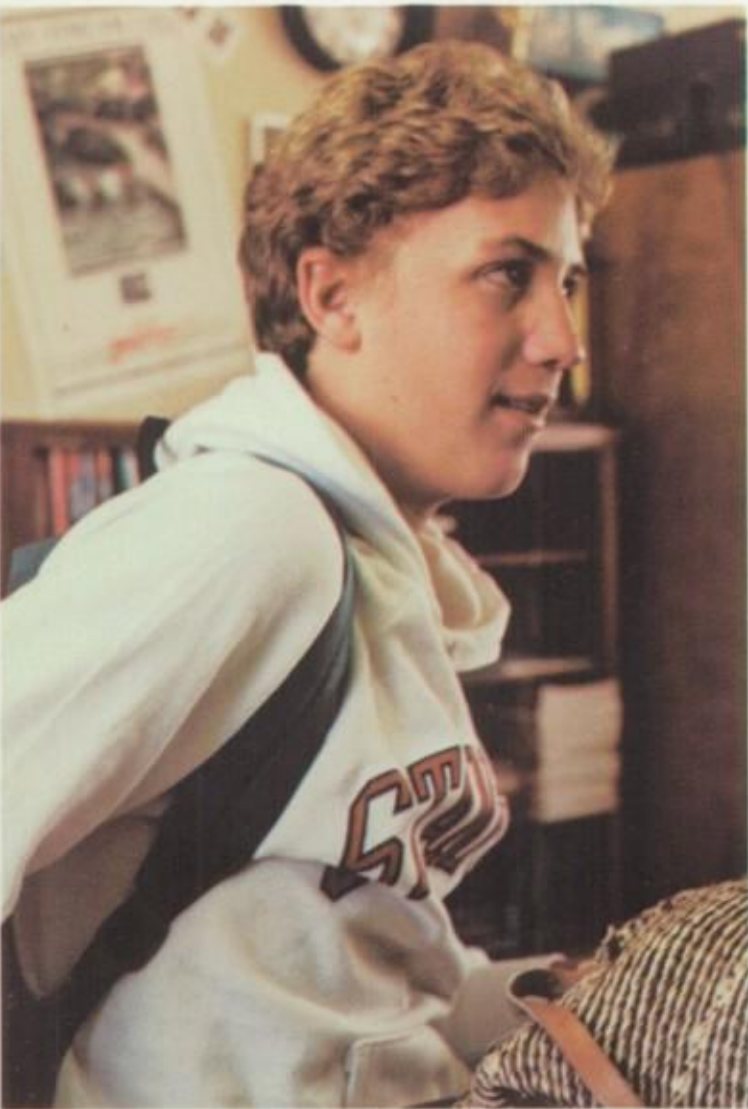

A happy Mrs. Sheila Wood.
 Sponsor and backbone of the Pavilion.
 "Cheers!" says Senior John Tabor with his chocolate milk.
 "Help! I'm being mugged!" yells
 Senior Mike Beltran as Senior
 Michelle Myers steals his lunch money.

End of the Knight

Junior Chris Edgar stares in awe at the girl of his dreams.

"Give me a break," says Senior Todd Weathersby.

Fashionable Seniors Dalit Gisser and Keun Kyu "Q" Yi model the latest in boxer shorts.

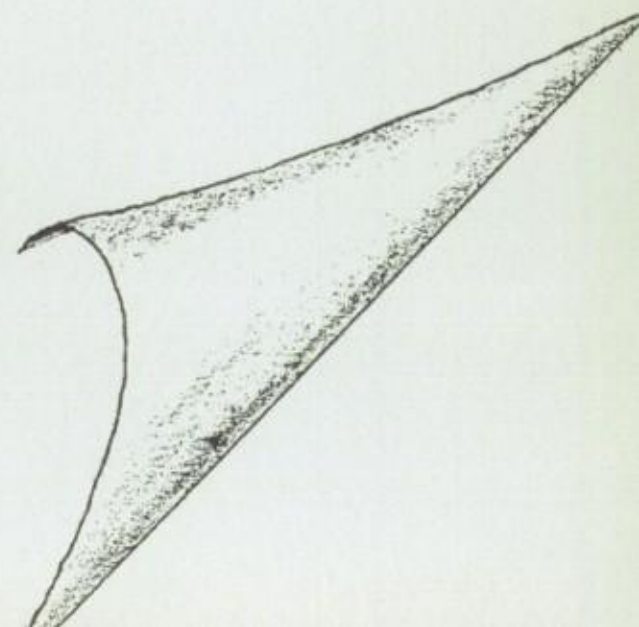

The 1985 balloon fiesta. Many Del Norte students took part in this annual event.

As the sun goes down, the Knights come out.

Heart and soul of Del Norte,
Principal Elmer Bass.
Girls' track team discuss thrower prepares for an awesome throw.

A Different Ending

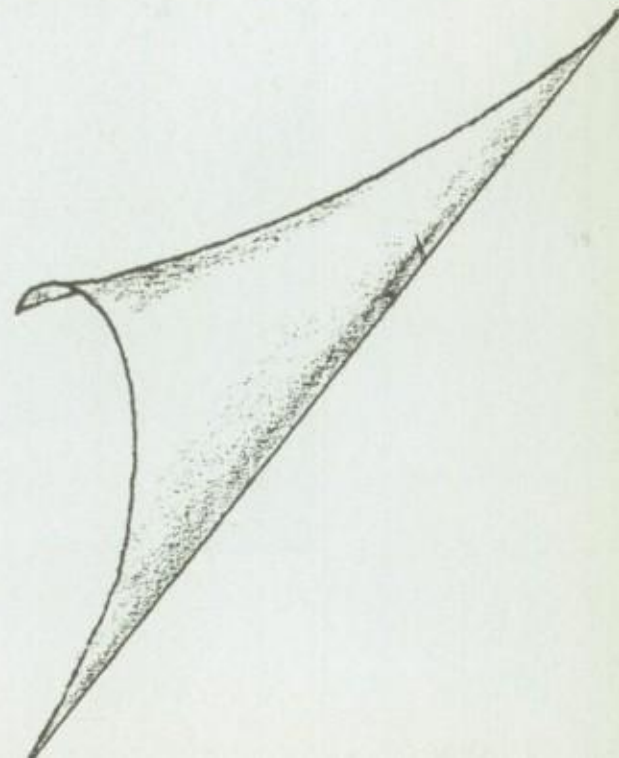

"Did you say party?" ask Marion Reels, Christina Palya, Anna Keogh, and Lynn Urbox.

Best buddies Melanie Patten and Dina Jaramillo, Juniors, chum it up.

Junior Jesse Lieberman in his portrayal of a cool guy. "That's the answer?!" asks Senior Bryan Fox. Yearbook photographer Senior Lisa Lane doing what she does best.

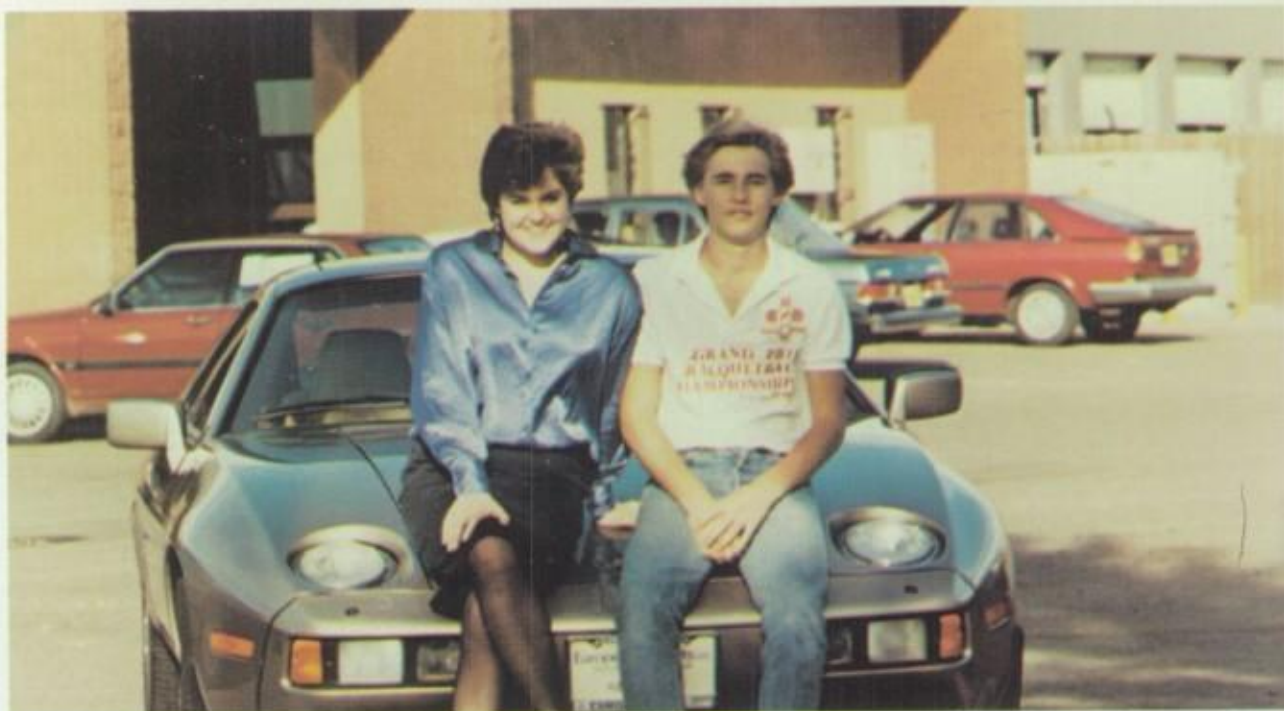

Editors

Editor-in-Chief Michelle Myers, Assistant Editor Rodger Burnett, Seniors, and a Porche 928 at European Car Imports.

Stephanie,
Will you finally get to graduate. I am happy for you.
A little jealous though. You are a great friend. You are a very special person. Thanks for everything.
Especially for the rides to and from School. Good luck in the future.
Love
Ann

Steph,
I bet you felt in front very privileged sitting in front of me huh? I would well you sure are a quiet chick. It's nice to say I sure don't know what it is since we've already said it in class. Well
Killer Summer Love,
Kenny

Stephanie,
It's been real great and getting to know you, and
I'm glad we became friends.
You're now a senior. Finally Hood. Fuck in whatever college me, I'll be at whatever you choose to do. But just remember away in high school for 2 more years! K-1-T 823-1623
